TREMENDOUS EXPLOSION SHAKES NEW YORK TO ITS FOUNDATIONS

TO CHANGE
THE SYSTEM

Bill for Monthly Sales of Public Lands in Seven Counties.

Unanimous Report in Saugstad's Favor in Election Contest.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative C. H. Warner of Atkinson this morning introduced in the house a bill requiring the state auditor to hold monthly sales of public lands in each of seven northern Minnesota counties, from April to November, inclusive. These sales are to be held in Koochiching, Beltrami, Cass, Itasca, St. Louis, Aitkin and Roseau counties. The bill provides for a manager of the land sales department in the office of the state land commissioner at $2,500 a year to handle the extra work involved.

The Democrats of the senate and house, in a joint caucus held this morning before the session, decided to stand unanimously against the resolutions pending in both houses relating to the refusal to ratify the reciprocity treaty with Cuba.

The county option was a mild victory in the house when by a vote of 65 to 48 they succeeded in postponing the special order on the county option bill from Friday to next Tuesday at 11 o'clock. The report of the committee, making the bill a special order for Friday, came in this morning, and Representative Vasey, author of the bill, moved as a substitute that it be made a special order for Friday morning, in order to give more time for preparation.

There was a brief debate, and on the roll call many members explained their votes; the purpose of the whole being that the county optionists objected to being rushed, and that the advocates of acting on Friday thought that nothing was to be gained by delay, that no

THIRTEENTH BALLOT
SHOWS NO CHANGE

No Stuffing of Votes in Contest for the New York Senatorship.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 1.—"Practically no change in the situation," was the word that came from the rival Democratic camps today concerning the deadlock in the legislature of the election of the United States senator. While the reports of the compromise continue there appears to be little prospect of a settlement this week. Some of the Republican legislators continued their efforts today to bring about a conference to discuss the situation, holding that agreement on a candidate acceptable to the insurgents and Democrats was possible. Among the names mentioned in this connection were President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell university and President M. W. Stryker of Hamilton college.

There have been many inquiries as to the attitude of William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican state committee toward the proposed conference but as Mr. Barnes is ill at his home no word has come from him.

No choice was made on the thirteenth ballot for United States senator and there were no shifting of votes. Following is the vote in detail: Democrats—Sheehan, 52; Shepard, 16; Kernan, 8; Glynn, 3; Littlejohn, 2; O'Brien, 2; Parker, 1; Sulzer, 1; Taylor, 1.

Republican—Dewey, 77.

Total vote cast, 129; necessary for choice, 65.

LIGHT BILL IS FAVORED

Delegation Will Introduce Enabling Act to Permit Bond Election.

Chief Argument for Bill Made By City Attorney Fesler.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The final hearing on the electric light bonding bill was held before the St. Louis county delegation at the state capital last evening. Those appearing before the delegation were Aldermen John Hogan, Joseph Shartel, W. B. Gotschell, Watson S. Moore, Martin Hoitrud, A. P. Knight, Z. D. Scott, Alfred Jaques, E. M. Morgan, City Attorney Bert Fesler, A. W. Hartman, C. Van Bergen and H. B. Fryberger. The delegation decided to introduce an enabling act for an election on the proposed bond issue.

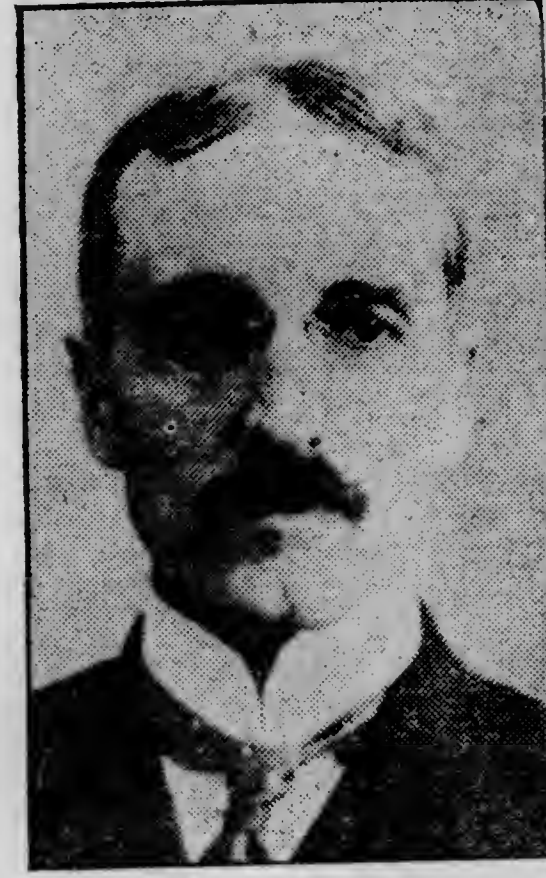

At the opening of the meeting Chairman Congdon of the delegation said that, putting it briefly, what the members would like to be enlightened upon were the following propositions: First, could the city get by a bond

COUNTY OPTION MADE SPECIAL ORDER FOR

Speaker Dunn Redeems Promise to Advocates of County Option.

Reapportionment Bill Will Reach House at an Early Date.

Senate Votes Unanimously in Favor of Ahmann Retaining Seat.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Speaker H. H. Dunn sprung a surprise on the advocates of county option yesterday afternoon, and fairly carried them off their feet by the vigor with which he redeemed his promise to the people of the state that he would give a county option bill every possible chance.

He appeared before the committee on temperance and temperance legislation—a very unusual thing for a speaker to do—and practically demanded that the committee make good his pledge to the people by reporting out the county option bill immediately and making it a special order for an early day.

As a result the committee by a unanimous vote decided to put the bill out before the house today, without delay.

PRAISE AND CRITICISM

English Railway Economist Speaks of American Railroads.

Greatest Defect Lies in the Centralization of Administration.

New York, Feb. 1.—Both criticism and praise of American railroads are embodied in a statement made by W. M. Acworth, the English railway economist on the eve of his departure today for England. Mr. Acworth has been making a study of American railroads during the last two months, in the capacity of a special observer of the president's railroad securities commission. He has made several previous examinations of the American railroads, and has been in the United States for three years.

The principal defect that Mr. Acworth mentions as of railway management lies in the centralization of administrative power in headquarters offices in Chicago and New York, which, while tending doubtless to efficiency and economy, is responsible in some degree for the present strained relations between the railroads and the public. Matters that arise in Kansas, in Texas, in the Far South, in the Far West and need prompt adjustment have to be referred, Mr. Acworth points out,

RATES ARE EXCESSIVE

Minnesota Railroads and Express Companies Must Lower Them.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Present rates exacted by railroads and express companies for the transportation of cream in cans between interstate points within 510 miles of St. Paul, Minn., were found today by the interstate commerce commission to be excessive and unreasonable and lower rates were ordered to be put into operation by April 1, 1911.

The case was instituted before the commission by J. E. Cobb and others of St. Paul and Minneapolis, engaged in the operation of creameries. The petition was directed against the Northern Pacific railway and Northern Express company, the Great Northern railway and the Great Northern Express company, the Western Express company, and the St. Paul & Saint Ste. Marie railway.

The complainants asked that they be granted the rates prescribed by the commission in the Beatrice creamery cases.

SLEEP-WALKER'S
FATAL JUMP

Woman Leaps From Sixth Story to the Ground Below.

New York, Feb. 1.—Leaving the side of her sleeping sister, Miss Nellie Ratkay, a comely young woman of 26, went to a rear window of her home on the sixth story of a building in West One Hundred and Fortieth street, early today, and leaped to the ground. Her body was found on the stone flagging two hours later.

Relatives believe that she may have been walking in her sleep when she plunged to her death.

COMPENSATION CODE TO BE PRESENTED TO STATE LEGISLATURE

Report of Commission Appointed By Late Governor Johnson.

System of Compulsory Compensation With Permissible Insurance.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota employees' compensation commission, appointed by Governor John A. Johnson under authority of the last legislature, is ready to present its report to the legislature.

The report by William E. McEwen and Hugh V. Mercer, recommended a code providing a system of compulsory compensation with permissible insurance. This changes the present system of compensation for injuries to a workman from that of negligence or fault of the employer to that of a risk of the industry.

THREATENS
A HOLDUP

Senate Must Act on Important Matters or Lose Appropriation Bills.

Senator Brown Says Several Things Must Certainly Be Taken Up.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Unless the senate votes at this session on the Senator Lorimer case, the resolution pertaining to the election of senators by the people, the bill to create a permanent tariff board, and a general service pension bill, Senator Morris Brown of Nebraska and some of his colleagues who favor the measures named, are determined that appropriation bills also shall fail.

Senator Brown, from the floor of the senate today, said he had no quarrel with the "rule" that appropriation acts come first, but that he would object to its application in the light of the present emergency, unless it is agreed in advance that there shall be votes on the four propositions named before adjournment.

"This is not said as a threat nor in the nature of an ultimatum," said Senator Brown. "I am stating a simple fact, and it is well, with only four working weeks ahead of us, that we understand now what the fact is in that regard. If congress adjourns without action on these measures, congress will adjourn without action on some of the appropriation bills, and only other daughter of failure of any of the regular appropriation bills would necessitate an extra session of congress."

BUSINESS MAN THE UNKNOWN ARTIST

Chicago Millionaire Takes Up Painting at the Age of 53.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—With the opening at the Art Institute last night of the fifteenth annual exhibit of the works of Chicago artists, a remarkable romance became public, revealing the identity of a millionaire business man with that of a successful artist.

The business man, whom none of his associates suspected of artistic aspirations, is Edward Burgess Butler. As a painter he was known to a few, but as a successful painter of landscapes, the mystery was solved by art critics who have been puzzled for more than a year over the authorship of a painting hung over the entrance to the museum last year, and for the possession of which there was keen competition.

The story becomes more remarkable when it is known that Mr. Butler never had attempted even to draw up to three years ago, at the age of 53. In the next two years he was able to spare only little time for the cultivation of his new-found gift, but to his great surprise, a landscape, painted by "Edward Burgess" was not only accepted and purchased at the exhibit a year ago, but several organizations which customarily purchase the cream of the work shown, entered into competition to secure the painting.

The story looked out through persons who had taken the trouble to confirm their suspicions concerning the artist's identity.

KING GEORGE EXONERATED

Defamer Sent to Prison for One Year for Libeling Monarch.

London, Feb. 1.—After brief proceedings today a special jury before Lord Chief Justice Alverstone cleared King George of imputations against his personal character by finding Edward F. Mylius guilty of circulating libelous statements.

Mylius was charged with distributing in England copies of the Liberator, a Paris publication edited by Edward H. James, and in which it was alleged that his majesty, while Prince of Wales, had contracted a morganatic marriage with the elder daughter of Admiral Sir Michael Seymour at Malta in 1890.

The crown called the admiral as a witness and he testified that the daughter in question, now the wife of Capt. Napier of the British navy, had never seen his majesty until 1898, when the king called upon the witness at Portsmouth. Mylius' other daughter died in 1895 and for three years preceding

PARK POINT HOUSES BURN

Two Empty Dwellings Are Entirely Destroyed By the Flames.

Fire Is Believed to Have Been Started By Tramps.

Two empty houses on Park point were completely destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning.

The houses were located at 2327 and 2329 Lake avenue south, immediately adjoining the grounds of the old White City. Both houses were unoccupied, and the manner in which the fire started is not known. It was first discovered about 4 o'clock in the morning, and the fire spread so rapidly that before the firemen could reach the scene both houses were in flames. The fire was completely out of control until nearly 5 o'clock.

Some boys stated this morning that two tramps were seen about the houses yesterday, and it is possible that they were sleeping in one of the buildings, and set fire to it from smoking or attempting to light a fire to cook a meal.

her death had been with her father at Malta, where he was commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean squadron. The king had not visited Malta while his daughter was there, and the younger daughter had never spoken to him.

The defendant had sought to have the king summoned as a witness but this was refused by the court. The king's presence in the court, asserting that he could not be legally tried in the absence of his accuser. Lord Chief Justice Alcock ruled against him.

In a dramatic speech Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, refuted the story of the morganatic marriage as absolutely false, replying that his marriage was not permitted to personally face his slenderer, and concluded with the declaration that the suit had not been brought to protect the monarchy, but that King George had sought the protection of the court as a man, a husband and a father.

It did not take the jury long to find Mylius guilty of circulating a libel and the court forthwith sentenced him to one year's imprisonment.

After sentence had been passed, Sir Rufus read a letter signed by King George and authorizing the attorney general to state publicly that the writer had never been married except to Queen Mary, and that he never had intended to marry any other woman. This statement was given in evidence to this effect except for the advice of the officers of the crown that it would be unconstitutional for him to do so.

eral of the big downtown office buildings, which seemed rocked to foundations by the shock. Alarmed employees and tenants of the structures made rushes for the elevators and other exits. The quick subsidence of the tremblings, however, spared the city the usual damage to property and there were no early reports of casualties.

Later it was definitely ascertained that the explosion occurred on one of the Jersey Central railway docks at the South end of Jersey City. It was Piers 5 and 6, in what is known as the "Pier 5" building.

The confusion was so great that telephone and telegraph operators all left their posts and communication was rendered almost impossible by the noise of the explosion. The fire department was called to the scene, and the Jersey City police department reports that the explosion was caused by a boatload of dynamite lying close to the Central building. It is not believed that the loss of life is very large.

Explosion in Jersey City. According to the harbor police the explosion occurred at the coal dock at the foot of Henderson street, Jersey City. The dynamite boat, believed to be the Catherine C, owned by a contracting firm and lying at the slip there, blew up from some unknown cause.

The Catherine C, was demolished, the pier was completely wrecked and many other boats lying nearby were badly damaged.

Several persons were reported to have been killed by the explosion and a number of the bodies were said to be on their way to Manhattan island on board one of the police boats which had visited the scene.

The first police boat to come in from the place of the explosion brought a man named Harry Ford, 19 years old, cook on the boat William McAlister. The tugboat was lying in its slip next to that occupied by the exploding dynamite boat. Ford was seriously but not fatally injured.

The Jersey City police asked the New York police department to send all the available medical assistance possible to Jersey City.

The same request was made to police headquarters from the United States Express company in Jersey City. It was said that many injured were there waiting assistance. Commissioner Crosey ordered all available police surgeons sent in haste to Jersey City.

COMMERCE COURT NOW COMPLETED

Senate Confirms Appointments and Body Is Now Ready for Organization.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Five of President Taft's appointments of United States circuit court judges were confirmed by the senate yesterday. They included William H. Hunt of Montana, against whom a fight was made by

The other confirmation was that of Representative Walter J. Smith, who was named to succeed Judge Willis Van Dewater, who was promoted to the supreme court of the United States. Frank H. Burklin was also confirmed as United States judge for the Eastern district of Washington.

Notwithstanding the contest made against Judge Hunt in the committee on judiciary, confirmation was not opposed in executive session of the senate yesterday.

In the case of Judge Smith of Iowa, a separate vote was demanded by Senator Bristow, but the Kansas senator was the only member recorded against the confirmation.

Nothing stands in the way of the organization of the commerce court. Martin A. Knapp, former chairman of the interstate commerce commission, who was named as the presiding judge of the new tribunal, was named before the holiday recess.

MEN TRAPPED LIKE RATS IN CAISSON

Twelve Workmen Lose Their Lives in the Passaic River.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 1.—Trapped like rats, twelve workmen, all negroes, were suffocated here late last night in a caisson in the Passaic river. The victims constituted a night shift engaged in work preparatory to the erection of the Center street bridge between here and Harrison.

The accident occurred on a floating pontoon anchored off the Newark bank of the river and close to the bridge. On the pontoon is a double steel caisson which was operated by steam. The man operating the caisson broke down, and as a result the air supply to the men was cut off and they suffocated.

Hurry calls for assistance were telephoned by men at work on the bridge. There was immediate response, but the rescuers were powerless.

One of the rescuers was lowered into the mouth of the caisson and he was able to pass a rope around one of the men, but the victim when hoisted out had been dead for some time. Another similar effort failed.

The men decided not to attempt further risk to men of the rescue party. Soon after midnight the caisson was called to the scene at midnight. It will order an inquest into the accident.

It is understood the accident was due to the dropping of a huge metal bucket loaded with mud and stones. This struck the caisson on top, and caused the caisson to sink, cutting off the air and allowing the water and gravel to rush into the caisson from below.

SEARCH OLD WORLD FOR MISSING HEIRESS

New York, Feb. 1.—Seekers of Dorothy Arnold, the missing heiress, have turned to the old world for a possible solution of her disappearance, despite the oft-repeated declaration of Francis H. Arnold, the girl's father, that he believes she is dead.

This, the fifty-first day of the young woman's absence, finds Mrs. Arnold, having sailed for Havre on Jan. 25, according to her son, John Arnold. She is admittedly the heretofore unidentified woman who traveled with John Arnold upon George S. Griscom, Jr., at Florence, Italy. Mr. Arnold's lawyers assert, however, that they have no clue as to the whereabouts of Miss Arnold.

Folders of half a dozen steamship lines have been found among Dorothy's papers. A portion of Central Park was gone over yesterday by John S. Keith of the law firm in a search for the young woman. Mr. Keith says he is going over the rest of the park today.

INSULTS WOMAN, THEN SHOTS HER

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Evelyn Hansen, 2327 Thirty-third avenue south, was shot in the left side by a man who accosted her as she was crossing Thirty-second avenue south and Twenty-sixth street last night. She is in a critical condition at St. Mary's hospital, and her attending physician says her recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Hansen had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hughes, and was hurrying to her home only a few blocks away, when she was accosted by a man who insisted on accompanying her. His language frightened her, and she started to run. As she fled the man drew a revolver and fired at her, striking her in the chest, and then ran in the opposite direction.

J. C. Hansen, a woman's husband, heard the shot, but thought nothing of it until the dog appeared at the door and acted in a peculiar manner. Mr. Hansen hurried out in search of his wife and found her in a semi-conscious state a block from home.

He picked her up and attempted to carry her home, but found he was unequal to the task. He then summoned help and two neighbors helped him to bring the wounded woman home.

At the hospital Mrs. Hansen said, just before losing consciousness, that the man who had insulted her was a complete stranger and the only description she could give was to say that he appeared to be a man of medium height, fairly well dressed and that he had a dark mustache.

The police searched the neighborhood but were unable to find the man.

BANKER ENDS LIFE.

Robert M. Newton Commits Suicide By Jumping Into Illinois River.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 1.—Robert M. Newton, aged 45, presiding judge of the grand circuit, banker and prominent business man, committed suicide last night at Ottawa, Ill., by leaping into the Illinois river from a bridge.

He was cashier and a heavy stockholder in a Billings, Mont., bank, which recently failed.

Newton went from Yorkville, Ill., his home, to Billings, about a year and a half ago, when he put all his money into the Billings bank. He lost about $75,000 in the crash, it is said. Despondent over the fact that he had induced relatives to invest in the bank, he said to have seen the cause of suicide.

Why I Lost My Job

Reasons Why Thousands Like Me Cannot Satisfy Their Employers.

"I believe my fate is not unlike that of thousands of other workers who daily lose their places for reasons they do not know, and probably would not believe. When their last pay envelope comes along, it is usually, 'Your services no longer required.' If the truth were known, the reason for their unceremonious removal would probably be that their usefulness was destroyed because of some mental worry, bodily ailment or general indisposition. These things, as we all know, are the most fruitful causes of failure in all walks of life. The battle of Waterloo was lost by a case of headache. In this quick age our minds must be clear, rapid, active and free from outside influence or worry, or else we go down to failure with the throng of 'boaters' who go from one place of employment to another giving no satisfaction to others or to themselves, constantly growing older and less useful, with no ambition, no will power, and no hope.

Every man requires, from every other man, that he is in him, but no man can use or get the best that is in himself until he is first free from all fretful indispositions and worries.

That was my trouble. I was full of troubles. That's why I lost my job. My stomach in the first place was always out of order, and I was worrying about it and my mind grew cloudy, and slow. I made mistakes, and grew grouchy. That was the end.

There are thousands like me, gone about with "quick lunch" faces, dyspeptic manners, and repulsive temperaments. No employer wants such men's services.

Take my advice. A healthy stomach is half the battle, for it keeps your mind clear, and your face rosy. I have a healthy stomach now, and I am a good position, and my life is settled and so am I.

I started to take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which I was told were good for the worst cases of indigestion and dyspepsia. The first two tablets made a wonderful difference in my condition.

One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests 3,000 grains of food. The stomach doesn't have to work at all. The Tablets do all the work, no matter how heavy your meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure heartburn, eructations, burning sensations, bloating, irritations, loss of appetite, nervous, headache, indigestion, loss of memory and dyspepsia and indigestion in their very worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry them around with you wherever you go, and take them regularly after meals. Then you will realize what it is to be freed from stomach troubles and have a clear mind, a quick memory, a happy disposition, comfort and rest. Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store for 50c a package.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you a small sample package, free. Address E. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

GETS $8,000 FROM ESTATE

Nice Windfall Comes to Crookston Man From Far Off Germany.

First Installment of Legacy But It Does Not Turn His Head.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—How would you like to receive a letter that contained a draft for $8,000? That was the experience of a Crookston man yesterday, and he is not planning any wild schemes to spend the windfall.

Ernest Rolsen's mail from the East yesterday contained a letter bringing a draft for that amount, the first installment of a legacy coming to Mr. Rolsen from a large German estate. The total value of which Mr. Rolsen does not know himself.

More Money Is Coming. He made a trip to Germany a year or so ago in connection with the estate, but this is the first distribution of any of the money. Other installments will come from time to time till the estate is finally wound up, but the amount of the money which will be received is not known.

While this money is considerable, it will not in any way alter the plans of Mr. Rolsen. He will continue his residence in Crookston and will also continue carrying out his plans for the very best farm in the entire Red River valley.

It is understood that the building will be one of the finest along the line of the Soo railway between Minneapolis and the coast as the officials of the Soo believe that Minot is destined to be a great distributing point for the great grain and stock raising country of the north and east.

Billings, Mont., Feb. 1.—Apparently determined to link her fate with that of Plenty Hawk, a full-blooded Indian of the Crow reservation, Miss Madeline Sullivan, an 18-year-old Chicago girl, arrived here and made an unsuccessful effort to secure a license to wed.

The girl did not apply in person to the clerk of the district court, but visited the office of Harry Brown, clerk of the district court, and secured the license. ## DIES AT AGE OF 106 YEARS

Duluth Woman Was Probably the Oldest Resident of the Northwest.

Was 17 Years Old When Napoleon Died at St. Helena.

The oldest resident of Duluth and probably of the Northwest, Miss Victoria Kuschura, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the residence of her niece, Mrs. John Baker, 39 West Ninth street.

She was 106 years of age. For the last two or three years she has not had the possession of her mental faculties, and the spark of life seemed very low at times. She fell into a state of coma yesterday morning and never rallied. She was born in 1804 in a small Polish village.

Miss Kuschura was one of the pioneer residents of the city, locating here in 1871, shortly after the Chicago fire of that year. At that time Duluth was just outgrowing its swaddling clothes. The aged woman has been greatly interested in watching the steady growth of the city and the changes in the life of the people. She has a vast store of knowledge of the early history of the land, and she has been a great help to the city's historians.

She frequently entertained listeners with stories of the early history of the land, and she was a great help to the city's historians. She has a vast store of knowledge of the early history of the land, and she has been a great help to the city's historians.

During her long life, it is said, Miss Kuschura had never been photographed.

CONVENTION MAY BE ORDERED TO REVISE STATE CONSTITUTION

Committee of House Recommends Passage of the Kneeland Bill.

Members From Farming Districts Organize to Watch Measures.

Proposal for Special Street Car Rates for Mail Carriers.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—This legislature, like the several legislatures preceding it for eight or ten years, will be called upon to decide whether or not Minnesota needs to re-draft its state constitution, and whether, if the necessity be established, the legislature is willing to provide for it by calling a constitutional convention.

The house committee on general legislation yesterday afternoon by a unanimous vote recommended for passage the bill by Representative Thomas Kneeland, providing for a constitutional convention to be held next year. The bill will, therefore, come before the house, and if it passes there, will go to the senate.

It is not an easy matter to pass such a bill. In the first place, it requires a two-thirds vote of both branches, and that means eighty votes in the house and forty-two in the senate, where an ordinary measure requires only a majority.

ANOTHER TRUCE IN N. Y. FIGHT

Members of Legislature Planning to Go Home for the Week-End.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2.—With little or no prospect of a break in the senatorial deadlock this week, legislators were busy today arranging pairs to permit them to leave Albany after the day's session for the week-end.

Friends of William F. Sheehan, the organization candidate for governor, had no intention of withdrawing. The insurgents are just as firm in their opposition to his candidacy and Governor Dix declares he has no present intention of making a statement on the situation.

The fourteen ballot was as follows: Democrats—Sheehan, 69; Shepard, 10; Kernan, 5; Glynn, 3; Littleton, 3; O'Brien, 2; Parker, 1; Taylor, 1. Republicans—Dewey, 64. Total vote cast, 143. Necessary for choice, 72.

Kansas City, Feb. 2.—When her husband, Charles Ufford, was engaged in a desperate fight with Edward Huxford, who recently shot and killed a woman, Mrs. Ufford shot and fatally wounded Huxford at her home in this city last night.

Mrs. Ufford told the police that Huxford although only slightly acquainted with her husband, entered the house without knocking. She said a quarrel and fight ensued and when she feared Huxford would kill her husband she shot the intruder.

OPPOSED TO INCREASES

North Dakota Legislators Not Disposed to Raise Salaries.

Middle District Idea of Congressional Division Is Introduced.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The defeat of the bill to increase the salaries of judges of the district courts may be a forerunner of the fate that will be met by similar bills bearing upon the offices of judges of the probate court, register of deeds, county auditors and certain deputy officials. While there has been no marked opposition to any of these measures up to the present time, it is generally understood about the capitol that there is more or less sentiment against them. Two years ago the assembly voted against increases for county officers.

Under the provisions of the Gardner bill introduced in the house, holders of jobs or reservation of title in grain will be compelled to notify elevators of such fact. It provides that holders

ALBERT PFAENDER, Democratic Leader in the House, Who Praised Speaker Dunn as a Presiding Officer.

SENATE VOTE IS ADVERSE

Hackney Resolution on Re-apportionment Defeated on Close Vote.

Dunn Good Roads Bills Are Passed By the House.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 31 to 29, the Minnesota senate this morning refused to go on record in favor of re-apportionment of legislative representation as required by the Constitution which every member of the senate swore at the beginning of the session to support.

In committee of the whole, after a debate which at times became acrimonious, the senate, 31 to 29, adopted a motion by Senator Works of Mankato to indefinitely postpone the Hackney resolution reciting the constitutional provisions as to legislative representation, and declaring that the re-apportionment bill to be framed should not provide for a senate larger than sixty-three members, or a house larger than 125 members.

When the committee rose, the resolution was accepted from its report, and Senator Hackney moved that the resolution be placed on the calendar. (Continued on page 7, fourth column.)

EXPECT MANY INDICTMENTS

Grand Jury at Danville, Ill., Will Soon Report.

Election Commissioner Called to Produce the Voting Lists.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 2.—State's Attorney Lewman this morning stated that the evidence given before the grand jury to date was all written and ready so that the jury might review at any time and begin the work of voting indictments. This may be done during the day, although there were a large number of witnesses on hand this morning, the majority of them being summoned in connection with the vote selling investigation.

Fred Jankie, a local politician and prominent worker at the polls at every election for several years, was the first witness. He was followed by A. J. Samuels, vice president of the Second National Bank.

It is believed that between 50 and 100 indictments will be returned when the jury makes its first report. Shortly before noon, Election Commissioner Joseph Barnhardt was summoned to appear before the grand jury with a list containing the names of every registered voter in the city. It is presumed this is for the purpose of determining just how many men are entitled to vote here. The charge has been frequently made during the investigation that more votes were cast at the last election than there are registered voters in the city.

POISONS FOR HIRE

Doctor Makes a Business of Putting People Out of the Way.

Plan Is to Inoculate His Victim With Cholera Germs.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 2.—There was an unusual occurrence at today's session of the trial for murder of Count Obrien de Lassy and the notorious poisoner, Dr. Panchenko, the latter being called upon to plead a second time. He pleaded guilty as before.

The count is accused of having employed the doctor to murder his brother-in-law, Count Vassili Bouturin, the heir to estates of an estimated value of $2,500,000, in order that the property might be inherited by Countess de Lassy. Panchenko set up the defense that he committed the crime while under the hypnotic influence of the count. As the trial progressed he wavered in matters of detail and his lawyers were (Continued on page 7, third column.)

ARCHBISHOP RYAN RALLIES SLIGHTLY

Aged Prelate Hangs on to Life With Remarkable Tenacity.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 2.—Archbishop Ryan's condition, although still extremely critical, showed slight improvement this morning. He slept three hours last night.

Cardinal Gibbons made two visits to the dying prelate yesterday. On the first visit, when he entered the room the archbishop's eyes were closed and the cardinal placed his hand gently on his head, saying:

"Your grace does not know me." "After 41 years I know every tone of your eminence's voice," the archbishop replied without opening his eyes, "and now I am, as I ever have been, profoundly convinced that you are the instrument of Providence for the promotion of every good thing for our church and country."

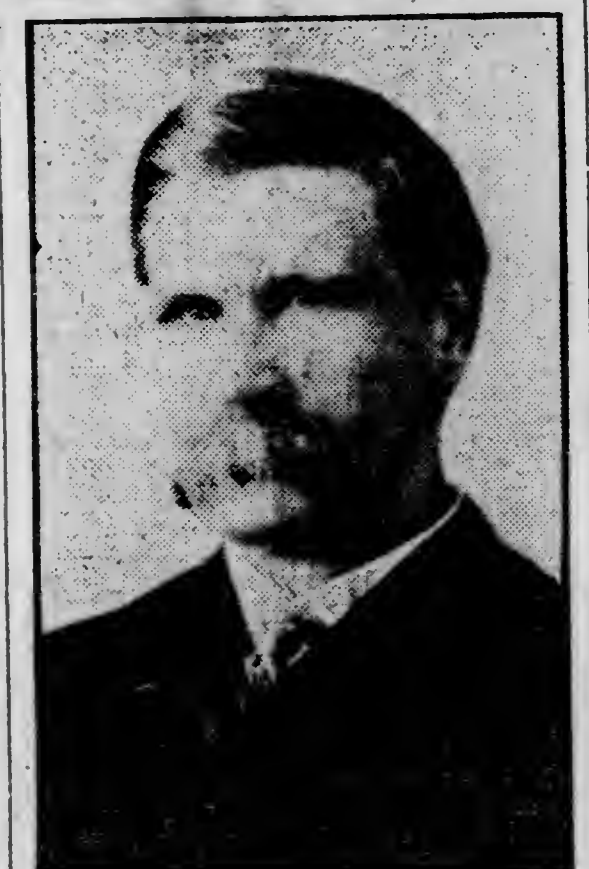

During the conversation the archbishop said: "If we keep our country conservative, no country will be as great as this. No country has such elements of greatness as this. Cardinal Gibbons said in an interview:

"The archbishop's mind is still clear. His memory is most tenacious. He recalled interesting events of many different periods in his life, and not only events, but persons also. He exhibits a manner that is worthy of his more than a hundred years. He is not only much I have been edified by his sentiments, rejoicing in the advancement of religion in this country and saying that the hopes and stability of this nation depend upon the permanence of our religious and moral principles. The archbishop said, 'If this nation is to last, it must be governed by the same principles in the future as in the past. He expressed the hope that God will bless our much beloved country.'"

YELLOW FEVER ABOARD CRUISER

Coxswain of Marietta Dies and Others of Crew Are Sick.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 2.—According to advices received here, J. H. Minor of St. Louis, coxswain of the United States cruiser Marietta, who died Sunday afternoon aboard the ship in Puerto Cortez harbor, was the victim of yellow fever contracted at Kingston, Jamaica.

Minor was buried Monday at 10 o'clock. The funeral was conducted aboard the Marietta, and in a heavy rain the body was escorted to the cemetery by a detachment of marines from the American and British war vessels.

The Marietta probably will be replaced in Honduran waters by the gunboat Wheeling, now en route to Puerto Cortez from Guantanamo.

There are several other suspected yellow fever cases among the crew of the Marietta.

Scores of Unknown Workmen Employed at End of Destroyed Pier.

As Near as Can Be Figured List of Dead and Missing Is Thirty.

Believed That Many Bodies Are Still Buried in Wreckage.

New York, Feb. 2.—Three separate investigations were started this morning to fix the responsibility for the dynamite explosion in New York harbor yesterday. One will be conducted by a coroner's jury under Coroner James M. Houghton of Jersey City; another by an inspector of Combustibles James M. Connelly of Jersey City, and a third by Public Prosecutor Pierre P. Garven of Hudson county, N. J.

Definite estimates of the number of dead are still impossible. The total of dead and missing is thirty. The list of dead in the hands of the coroner is seven and it is that official's belief that most of the twenty-three men whom he classifies as "missing" were blown to atoms.

The property loss, according to various official estimates will be between $500,000 and $1,000,000. The heaviest sufferer in this respect is the Central Railroad of New Jersey at whose docks the disaster occurred. Vice President Besler sets the railroad's loss at about $200,000. The United States government is also a heavy loser, with $50,000 damage at Ellis Island.

Assaulted By Unknown Man While Walking to the City.

Is Now at Hospital and Not Expected to Recover.

His skull probably fractured by a blow from an unknown assailant, or by his head striking against the railroad track when he was knocked down, Charlie Altonen, a woodsman from Ab Smith's camp near Hornby, lay in the snow near the Endon station all last night and was found this morning with his feet frozen. He is now at St. Luke's hospital and it is thought he will die.

William Bruman, who was with Altonen when the assault occurred appeared at the police station to report Altonen's disappearance and he told the story of the assault. He said he and Altonen were working at Smith's camp and decided to come into Duluth yesterday. They were both short of ready money, although they had their pay checks, so they purchased tickets to Lester Park intending to leave the Iron Range train there and take a street car into the city.

The train was late and it was about 11 o'clock when the two men arrived at Lester Park. The street cars were running irregularly on account of the storm and they became tired of waiting. (Continued on page 7, third column.)

William Travers Jerome, who represented Robin, addressed the meeting and told the alienists that his profession as well as his had been insulted. He proposed that if a commission of the academy of medicine would appoint a commission of alienists who should take the case of Robin and would enter a plea of guilty to the indictment in behalf of his client and interpose his defense.

The meeting decided to appoint a committee to draft resolutions denouncing the verdict and to decide what further action should be taken. The jury which found Robin sane did so contrary to the testimony of six professional alienists.

HORSES ARE CREMATED

Fifteen Animals Lose Lives in an Early Morning Fire.

M. T. Frink's Barn Burns; Origin of the Fire Is Unknown.

Fifteen horses belonging to M. T. (Tip) Frink were cremated this morning when the stable at the rear of his residence, 316 Commerce street, was gutted by fire. The loss will be approximately $6,000, about half covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is not definitely known. It was either started by the stove which is kept in the room of Henry Bush, a watchman who sleeps in the stable, or defective electric wiring.

The blaze broke out about 5:30 o'clock. Bush had fed the horses shortly before that time and gone to his breakfast. When the teamsters came down about half an hour later they found the place a mass of flames. An alarm was sent in to the fire department, but the apparatus was unable to get to the fire for nearly fifteen minutes. (Continued on page 7, second column.)

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MACKENZIE IS WANTED

Bemidji Is Loth to Lose Services of Secretary of Fair.

Effort to Be Made to Have Him Reconsider His Action.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Effort is being made by those interested in the welfare of the Bemidji County Fair association to have the resignation of W. R. Mackenzie, secretary of the association, reconsidered.

In speaking of the matter former Representative J. J. O'Connell of this city says: "It seems to me that to allow Mr. Mackenzie to resign at this time for the reason that he will not be here until after this session of the legislature is over, and the work of the association should be looked after at this time, would be rather foolish. There is no doubt in my mind but that Mr. Mackenzie has made a fine record in the county since he has been here, and I do not think there is any person in the county able to fill the position as he has done. It seems to me that the proper method to pursue would be to appoint some man as an assistant to Mr. Mackenzie until he is able to return."

THREE BADLY BURNED.

Gasoline Explosion in Rochester Nearly Claims Three Lives.

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 2. Three lives came near being snuffed out here yesterday when a tank containing twenty gallons of gasoline used in a dry cleaning process exploded with terrific force.

The force of the explosion broke in a wall of the room, knocked out all of the windows, driving the glass fifty feet, and cracked the joists of the floors beneath.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Kersh and their 10-year-old son, who were in the room at the time, were frightfully burned about the face and hands.

OPINION IS DIVIDED.

In Thief River Falls as to Effect of Reciprocity Agreement.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The citizens of Thief River Falls generally look upon the proposed reciprocity agreement with Canada as a move in the right direction, while others feel that it will be detrimental to the local business.

The increased business incidental to the proposed reciprocity agreement, which makes this city its northwestern headquarters, is one of the arguments in favor of the agreement.

It will be encouraged and possibly an increased flouring mill industry established in the city, and farmers who have been questioned about the matter, have expressed their opinion that the proposed reciprocity agreement will be beneficial to them if it results in a lower price for their grain.

Interests will not be affected but it is possible that the price of grain will be lowered, and a lowering of price is more imaginary than real. Cheaper lumber will be a benefit to the farmers, but not so much so as the farmers at large.

County Attorney Kinsella of Two Harbors Writes Warm Book.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the senate yesterday rejected a resolution in favor of reapportionment on a basis commanded by the Constitution, the representatives of 73,026 people prevailed over the representatives of 1,279,492. The representatives of 73,190 did not vote, but it is feared that when they do vote their power will be used against honest legislative representation.
No better illustration of the need of reapportionment, to more striking indictment of the antiquated, unjust and oppressive system that has grown up in this state because of selfish neglect and the tyranny of a powerful majority in the Minnesota senate, could be imagined.
Thirty-one senators, representing 73,026 people, voted against going on record in favor of the kind of reapportionment demanded by the Constitution, while the sixty-five members of the which the sixty-five members of the

CENTENARY OF HORACE GREELEY

Celebration at Amherst, N. H., Attended By Many Distinguished Men.

Amherst, N. H., Feb. 3.—The centenary of the birth of Horace Greeley, the widely known editor of half a century ago, and founder of the New York Tribune, was celebrated in this, his birthplace, today. The staid old town of Amherst made much of the occasion and welcomed a host of guests who participated in memorial exercises and made pilgrimages to the rough, unpainted farm house, still standing in the midst of rocky fields in the eastern part of the town, where Greeley was born and here he passed his first ten years. This house—today unchanged was reported in its day to have been the den of a gang of revolutionary counterfeiter.
While local authorities had the celebration in charge, under the chairmanship of Rev. J. H. White, pastor of the Congregational church, many newspaper editors and writers from various parts of the country were present and they contributed largely to the program of celebration.
The exercises were held in the town hall, where the address of the day was delivered by Mr. E. Phillips of Boston, former attorney general of Massachusetts. Mr. Phillips was the first to make, appropriately with a tablet, the birthplace of Greeley. A ready official memorial has been provided for within the past two days by vote of the state legislature.
Various reminders of Greeley in the form of letters and papers were produced at the exercises from which extracts of an interesting nature were read.

BIG FIGHT DEVELOPS

Over Bill Abolishing Liens for Material in North Dakota.

Two Reports to Be Presented on the Drug Permit Law.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—A big fight has developed over the Hookway bill, abolishing machines' liens for lumber and material furnished. The senate judicial committee yesterday heard extended arguments for and against the bill, but no action was taken.
There will be two reports on the drug permit law. The majority will favor the substitution of the plan of selling liquor only on the prescription of a regular practicing physician, as against the present permit system. The minority report will favor the present plan and the indefinite postponement of the measure now before the assembly. The bill report was drawn by the committee on temperance.
The elections committee has agreed to report favorably the corrupt practice bill.

TAFT'S LETTER TURNED DOWN

Brotherhood of Unemployed Refuse to Hear His Communication.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 3.—A row was almost precipitated at yesterday's session of the Brotherhood Welfare association, made up of a band of the unemployed, when the president, James Ends How, in disposing of routine business, offered to read a letter to the members of the association from President Taft.
"I have here," said Mr. How, "a letter from Mr. Taft and also a circular stating that men are wanted for the United States army and navy. What is the pleasure of the convention?"
"I fear 'em up and throw 'em into the waste basket," shouted a voice.
"That's right," shouted the convention, with almost one voice. "I fear 'em up. Throw 'em away. If Taft wants to talk to us let him come here."
Mr. How quieted the tumult by laying the letter and circular aside. The letter from the president merely stated that he hoped the convention would be beneficial to the unemployed, and that lasting results would obtain. It was written in response to a letter requesting him to come to Milwaukee to address the meeting.

WARRANTS ARE ISSUED

In Efforts to Place Responsibility for Fatal Dynamite Explosion.

Railroad Men and Powder Men Are to Be Arrested.

New York, Feb. 3.—Efforts of the New Jersey officials to place responsibility for the explosion of dynamite Wednesday which caused upwards of thirty lives and caused heavy property loss resulted today in service of warrants issued late last night in connection with the investigation.
The first tangible result of the announcement that warrants were ready for service came at a comparatively early hour when James Healing, owner of the destroyed lighter Katherine W., the powder boat upon which dynamite was being loaded from the New Jersey Central pier when the explosion occurred, appeared at the city hall police station in Jersey City and gave himself up. Healing's name was on the list of those for whom the authorities announced warrants had been issued. The others on the list are: Louis F. Caldwell, dock master on pier No. 7 of the Central railroad; A. Hamilton, general freight agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; J. M. Morris, freight agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; R. A. or R. G. Morse, assistant general manager of the E. I. Dupont de Nemours company.
Charles Hitter, checker on pier No. 7, Capt. Burr St. John, superintendent of transportation of the same company.
Healing had admitted that his boat had no license to carry explosives, but declared that he had not thought one was required.

JURY DIVIDED AS TO RESPONSIBILITY

Nine Say Explosion at Power House Accidental, Three Say Negligence.

New York, Feb. 3.—"An unavoidable accident," was the verdict of nine members of the coroner's jury which has been hearing evidence on the causes of the gas explosion in the New York Central power house on Dec. 19 last, by which thirteen persons lost their lives. "The explosion was due to the negligence of the company or companies in charge of the yard," was the finding of the three other members of the jury.
The verdict was handed in to Coroner Holtzhauser early today after six hours' deliberation by the jury. The verdict as rendered served to exonerate Albert Seagratt, the engineer of the train which ran off the end of a track and caused a break in a gas pipe, and he was released from custody today. He was arrested at the time of the explosion and had been paroled to await the inquest.

Dr. Pantchenko Tells How He Secured Instruments of Death.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—Dr. Pantchenko, whose specialty, he admits, has been the removal by poisoning of undesirable relatives and enemies of those who could pay him fees, told at today's session of the murder trial of how he secured his instruments of death. The admissions were brought out in connection with the testimony of medical witnesses.
Pantchenko, in common with Count O'Brien De Lassy, is charged with the murder of a woman in a hotel in Davenport, Iowa, Feb. 3.—Three armed men blew open the vaults in the Farmers' bank at Sherrard, Ill., at 1 o'clock this morning, worked the combination on the silver chest and obtained $100. A woman in a hotel nearby heard the explosion and gave the alarm, but the thieves escaped through a window into a room which they had stolen and drove to Rock Island.
They had placed a charge of nitro glycerin in the currency safe which contained $4,000 and were prepared to explode it when discovered. The bank officials are confronted with the problem of how to open the safe without discharging the explosive.

IS OPPOSED TO LORIMER

Senator Root Says He Secured His Seat By Means of Bribery.

Believes It Is Senate's Duty to Oust Him From Seat.

Washington, Feb. 3.—That Senator William Lorimer of Illinois holds his seat as the result of bribery and on that account should not be permitted to continue in the senate is the conclusion reached by Senator Elihu Root and announced by him in an argument on the floor of the senate today.
The New York senator held the undivided attention of his colleagues as he discussed the report of the committee on privileges and elections by which Mr. Lorimer was exonerated. Mr. Root's position has been a question of much speculation and so high is the esteem in which his opinion is held that it is known that some members of the senate have held in abeyance their own opinions until they could hear from him.
There was a large attendance of senators and the galleries were well filled. Mr. Root spoke without notes and in the main his address consisted of a careful analysis of the testimony taken by the committee. The argument was almost entirely legal.
The speaker lost little time in indicating the conclusion he had reached which was entirely antagonistic to Mr. Lorimer. He took the position that the investigation committee had been at fault in permitting either the attorney for Mr. Lorimer or the attorney for the Chicago Tribune to direct its course in the matter of connecting Mr. Lorimer with the corruption of members of the Illinois legislature, but agreed that even in the face of its fault in this respect, the committee had obtained sufficient evidence effectually to taint and invalidate the election.

With both railroads cut south of the town and all wires down, the national capital of Mexico is unable to give relief. Even the state capital is cut off from the beleaguered city and 500 or 1,000 rebels can take it at their pleasure, as it is defended by only about 300 men. It is reported this morning the town will be taken between 3 and 6 o'clock this afternoon, after the foreign consuls have had a proper notice of the attack.
All faces have been called off at the Juarez track. Consuls in Juarez have not yet been advised that the town is to be bombarded. Revolutionists say their messenger with notices to consuls was captured yesterday and that another will come in under a white flag today.
After the notice is delivered the attack must then wait twelve hours according to the rules of war, it is said. No attack is expected today if the revolutionary junta in El Paso is correct. Part of the rebel force is reported eight miles from Juarez.
At 10 o'clock this morning the mayor of Juarez ordered all places of business closed. American and foreign flags were at once put out by the foreign residents. The consuls had not had any notice of an attack, but the mayor declined to say why he issued the closing order.

MONTREAL HAS BAD BLIZZARD

Worst Storm Experienced in Decade Visits Canadian City.

Montreal, Feb. 3.—After sixteen hours of the worst blizzard Montreal has experienced in a decade, the skies cleared today and there is likelihood that before night the railroads and street car companies will be able to clear their main lines for something like normal traffic. Street car service is practically at a standstill through and through and police stations have been filled with hundreds severely frost bitten and many horses have perished in the streets.

STATE CONFERENCE ON THE COMMISSION PLAN.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 3.—The first state conference held by the commission form of government is being held here today with more than fifteen cities in the state represented, including Buffalo, Albany and Oswego.
The main idea of the conference centers about the question of obtaining an enabling act from the legislature which will permit cities of the state which desire it to carry the commission plan to a vote.

ALL OVER A CHINESE BOY

Ticklish Question on His Personal Rights Under Treaty.

United States Supreme Court May Have to Settle the Matter.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Out of the claim of Jem Yuen, a Chinese boy locked up in Boston, has arisen a ticklish question of personal rights that may work havoc with immigration regulations of the United States. Yuen asserts that it is his right to give bail pending action of the supreme court of the United States on the validity of his proposed exclusion from this country. He sought admission as a minor son of Chin Ying Don, whom he declared to be a Chinese merchant resident in Boston. The immigration officials rejected his application and the lower courts declined to release him on habeas corpus proceedings.
The entire supreme court of the United States will be called upon Feb. 10, with probably fewer members present.

HILLSIDE CLUB WILL AGAIN DISCUSS BONDS

The Central Hillside Improvement club will meet this evening at the Franklin schoolhouse, Fifth avenue east and Seventh street. The school board has given the use of one of the rooms for the meetings. The water question will be discussed and a vote taken on whether the citizens want the $200,000 bond issue. The sixth street property owners are especially invited. A great number believe they should have the benefit of the amendment to the charter that provides for paying for grading of street intersections from the general fund, that carried at the election Feb. 1, 1910, and for which a tax has been levied for 1910. It does not seem fair to them, and legal steps will be taken if necessary to correct this. The question of a municipal lighting plant will be taken up. The water and light commissioners, the board of public works and those interested in getting the legislature to give the city permission to issue bonds are especially invited. This is a civic center meeting. There are no dues, and every one who has the best interests of the city at heart, and especially the central hillside, are invited.

AND STILL THEY COME

Suggestions Still Pouring in for Duluth's Electric Sign.

Short Slogan Is Needed to Be Seen From Distance.

Duluth people are intensely interested in the endeavor now being made to find for Duluth a slogan that may be used in the proposed electric sign that is to be placed on the hillside. When The Herald announced that it would award a prize of $10 to the person whose suggestion should be acceptable, with the stipulation that no suggested slogan should contain more than fifteen letters, objection was made to the restriction, but the great mass of letters that have come to this office with fifteen-letter slogans inclosed seems to justify the restriction. These additional suggestions have been received:

A SUGGESTION

It is never satisfactory to undo the work of others, or to remedy their unfortunate mistakes.

Yet this has been and is still our daily duty and privilege. The effect of previous barbarism or ignorance cannot always be effaced, but great good, and sometimes permanent relief and cure can be obtained. It is of great importance to see and submit to our modern, painless treatments, before submitting to cutting, infinite suffering and possible recurrence of the malady.

FEW CHANGES IN MARKET

Slight Fluctuations in Quotations on Staples During the Week.

Florida Strawberries in the Market for Those Who Can Pay the Price.

Well, well, look who's here. It's our old friend the Florida strawberry. It looks a bit frayed but outside of a little weariness after the long journey it seems to be in fairly good condition.

Florida strawberries are on the market and are selling wholesale at 65 cents a quart. The fruit is shipped in refrigerator cars and every precaution is taken to prevent freezing. The fruit has arrived generally in good condition, although in some instances the receivers have suffered loss through careless packing. After the fruit arrives it is handled with the greatest care as it is easily frozen and will spoil quickly if frost bitten.

The demand for strawberries is not of sufficient volume to warrant the importation of the Florida fruit in large quantities. It seems incongruous to eat strawberries just after the biggest snow storm of the year and Duluthians are not inclined to rush the deterrent, although many buyers who can afford to purchase berries at three-fourths of a dollar for a quart do not like the flavor of berries transported such a long distance.

The butter and egg market is inclined to display weakness. Values have held up remarkably well despite the sympathetic effect of the pronounced weakness in outside markets. Quotations are practically unchanged from three weeks ago although in that period values have fluctuated rather violently for this season of the year.

Receipts of fresh eggs are increasing slightly and the storage stock is exceedingly large. Supplies of storage eggs are being sold at a loss in some instances. The butter market is steady and active.

The potato market is firm. On account of the cold weather values are steady and the demand is good. Jersey sweet potatoes are slightly higher as the supply is decreasing.

The fruit market is steady and active. Most varieties of apples are slightly higher as the supply shows signs of shrinkage while the demand holds steady. Oranges are weaker. Prices of California grapefruit have been shaded slightly. California tomatoes are cleaner and lot house radishes have lost 5 cents a bunch.

Trade continues steady both in the wholesale and retail lines. The cold wave has stimulated activity which has a short time ago was in a jobbing way and stocks of certain lines are becoming so scarce at primary markets as to give added firmness to prevailing prices.

The flour, cereal and sugar markets and corn syrup and other lines are expected to announce their opening prices on canned asparagus in a few days. Slightly higher quotations than those of last season are expected.

If you want to buy canned goods at rock bottom prices read Barthe-Martin Co's ad on market page.

STILL SPREADING THE GOSPEL OF AGRICULTURE.

Efforts to spread the gospel of agricultural development and improvement in the northwestern part of the state continues without let-up, and this week two very successful farmers' institutes were held in Aitkin as the result of the work of a Duluth man. T. W. Arkkola of this city made the preliminary arrangements for a meeting at Bonald, which was attended by about eighty farmers. Bonald is a Finnish community, near the Soo line. Arthyde is its shipping point, eight miles away. The community is prospering and rapidly bringing the region into a very good agricultural condition.

It is in new producing territory, and like all the settlements in this part of the state, promises much prosperity for its people.

Another institute was held at MacGrath, near Bonald. Both institutes were addressed by E. Brown of Elk River and P. H. Gibbons of St. Paul, a successful market gardener, whose work is carried on at Hamline.

WILLING TO EXERT ITS GOOD OFFICES

United States Government to Offer to Mediate Trouble in Honduras.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The government of President Davila of Honduras in the opinion of this government, is tottering. Upon the arrival of Gen. Bonilla at Puerto Cortez, the United States will tender its good offices to the revolutionary commander in an effort to bring about a cessation of the internal strife in Honduras. President Davila has already intimated that the friendly intervention of the United States would be welcomed in order to avoid useless bloodshed. The United States government consequently will avoid useless bloodshed. The commander of the gunboat Tacoma therefore will tender the mediation of the United States to Gen. Bonilla when he arrives at Puerto Cortez which has been evacuated by the government forces.

ALLEGED GHOUL ARRESTED.

Woman Charged With Disturbing Corpse Caught in Casey County.

Danville, Ky., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Amanda Harrison, or Mrs. Gilmore, as she was also known, who is charged with being one of those who attempted to rob the grave of G. B. Sauley, in the Stanford cemetery last Monday night, was arrested in Casey county, late last night. The warrant for her arrest was sworn to by a brother of Sauley. A young man is said to have assisted the woman in digging the body of Sauley from its grave. The casket was found above the ground, but the body had not been disturbed.

ALL RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Commerce on Great Lakes During 1910 Season of Navigation.

Freight Volume Through Soo Canals Shows Highest Volume.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Commerce on the Great Lakes during the 1910 season of navigation, as indicated by returns to the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, showed on the whole a satisfactory development. The quantity of merchandise shipped during the year between domestic lake ports attained the record total of $6,732,316 short tons, compared with $9,974,065 short tons shipped during 1909, and $5,506,931 short tons in 1907, the largest previous annual total recorded by the bureau. This gain was due in part to unusual conditions, viz, the partial cessation of work in the Illinois coal field and the resulting shortage of coal in the territory tributary to that field, necessitating abnormally large shipments to the upper lake region of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Of the total domestic lake shipments about 54 per cent, or 4,137,641 long tons, was made up of iron ore, compared with 40,732,677 long tons moved during the 1909 and 37,727,972 long tons moved during the 1907 seasons. The percentage of iron ore shipments in the total shipments shows no appreciable change, the ratio for the preceding five-year period being the same as for the past year. Of the total ore shipments, 35,986,296 long tons are credited to Lake Superior ports and 4,821,345 long tons to Lake Michigan ports. Of these, 35,986,296 long tons are credited to Lake Superior ports and 4,821,345 long tons to Lake Michigan ports for transportation farther inland to Ohio and Pennsylvania furnaces and 18 per cent to Lake Michigan ports for consumption at the furnaces situated on the lake front.

The lake shipments of soft coal during the year totaled 18,406,460 short tons, indicating a gain of 32 per cent over the corresponding figures of the preceding year. These shipments proceeded mainly from Lake Erie ports, Ashland, Toledo, Cleveland, Lorain, and Sandusky for accounting for 83 per cent of these shipments. Over 60 per cent of the soft coal received at all lake ports was unloaded at Duluth, Superior, and Milwaukee, the 1910 deliveries at these three cities exceeding those of the preceding year by almost 4 per cent.

The total shipments above given are exclusive of 2,103,659 short tons of fuel or bunker coal supplied to vessels in the foreign trade. The hard coal movement during the year, 4,170,813 short tons, mainly from Buffalo, Erie, and Oswego, was about 15 per cent heavier in volume than in 1909. Almost 79 per cent of this coal was unloaded at Duluth, Superior and Milwaukee, Chicago alone taking more than a million tons during the year, and Milwaukee a quantity slightly less. Lumber shipments by lake from the past year, 1,307,727 short tons, were favorably with the 1909 total of 1,155,765 short tons, though the falling tendency of this movement when compared with the figures for earlier years is unmistakable. Of the total lumber receipts during the year are about evenly divided between Lake Erie and Lake Superior ports, the total lumber receipts during the year are about evenly divided between Lake Erie and Lake Superior ports. It is noteworthy, though, that the receipts of lumber at Chicago during the year show a considerable decline when compared with the figures of the preceding three years, those at the Tonawandas show a substantial gain.

The grain and flaxseed shipments by lake during the past year, 1,175,131 bushels, fell below the total of 1,288,086, 192 bushels reported for the preceding year, and were also below the average for the preceding five-year period. The lake shipments of wheat, 27,174,884 bushels, show the largest decline this decline corresponding fairly well with the reduction in the quantity exported from the Atlantic seaports. The corn shipments for the year, 1,175,131 bushels, on the other hand, were larger in excess of last year's shipments, this increase probably being due in part to the larger export demand. The shipment of oats, 2,500,000 bushels, likewise show a heavy increase over last year's figures, while those of barley, 15,837,027 bushels, were slightly lower than the year before. A further decline in the domestic trade, the total shipments, 2,106,792 bushels, being less than last year's shipments of 2,111,327 short tons of 10 barrels each, were well sustained. No appreciable changes in the volume of movement are reported for the year in the case of pig iron, tin and tinplate. The shipments of miscellaneous articles, including package freight, 7,470,000 short tons, show a slight decrease as compared with the 1909 figures.

The 1910 vessel movement in the domestic lake trade, as measured by the outbound vessel tonnage, established a new record of 110,222,121 net tons registered, compared with 103,271,582 net tons for the preceding year. The total number of vessel departures, 75,941, was also larger than for the past three years, although it fell below the number reported in 1909 and 1905. The average size of lake vessels engaged in the domestic trade, as calculated from the tonnage figures just given, was 1,462 net tons register, compared with 1,413 net tons for the year 1909 and 1,191 net tons in 1905.

Soo Canals Record.
The freight and vessel movements for the year through the Soo, St. Marys, Marquette, Michigan, and Ontario, Canada, also show a higher volume than for any of the previous years. The total freight movement through the locks is given as 92,832,215 short tons, of which the eastbound iron ore movement constituted 67 per cent, or 62,600,000 short tons, or 22 per cent of the westbound coal movement 22 per cent. The tonnage of registered vessels which passed through the canals, 49,856,123 net tons, was more than 3,000,000 in excess of the 1909 figures and 25 per cent larger than the average registered tonnage reported for the preceding five-year period.

Domestic traffic by way of the Detroit river showed a similar gain over the figures of the preceding years, the total freight tonnage for the river, 67,558,225 short tons, exceeding the 1909 traffic by over 6,000,000 tons. Of the total amount reported for the year, 44,471,812 short tons represented the southbound and 23,086,413 short tons the northbound movement. It is noteworthy that while no appreciable gain is shown in the southbound tonnage, the heavier coal movement, was almost 30 per cent larger in volume than for the preceding season.

Discounts on each article for sale will depend largely on the original margin of profit. We intend making our first Red Tag Sale a profit sharing (although from our standpoint, at least, it will be very much one-sided) as well as a regular old-fashioned bargain sale. We are going to make this Red Tag Sale a regular feature of our business—a semi-annual event; and in order to make it popular—the "Talk of the Town" as we say in our ad, the average school boy will tell you there is just one way to do this—price—and we are going to make price an object for you to buy tomorrow and every day until this sale is over.

NOT GUILTY SAYS THE JURY

Joseph Le Moria Acquitted on Charge of Receiving Stolen Property.

By a directed verdict returned by Judge William A. Cant of the district court, Joseph Le Moria, accused of receiving stolen property by the January grand jury, was found not guilty by a jury in district court late yesterday afternoon.

Le Moria, who was indicted under the name of Murray, was accused of having received two cases of guns which were supposed to have been taken from a box car by Clayton Neil, a brakeman. The latter gave bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance in court. He did not show up and his money was declared forfeited. John Anderson, charged with stealing copper wire from a railway dock is now on trial before Judge Cant and a jury.

HORSE SHOW AT THE CORONATION

Over 250,000 Visitors Expected and Prize List Exceeds $63,000.

London, Feb. 4.—It is uncertain as yet whether the proceedings at the in-Young are bringing a strong team from Canada; the Hon. Adam Beck of Toronto will be here with his hunters, and Messrs. Crow and Murray of the same city will bring some of their best jumpers.

Already a large number of private boxes have been reserved by American visitors who will be here for the coronation.

The terrace garden, which surrounded the arena last year, will be succeeded by an even more elaborate range of old gabled and red-tiled housefronts, with oak panelling and lattice windows, as a background to the competition.

Last year the prize list amounted to almost $50,000. This year the list has already reached $63,000, and will probably be not less than $65,000 before the list is published.

Over $25,000 is being offered in prizes for jumping, and several novel jumps are being prepared. Military jumping always has been a strong feature at the international show, and the chief prize is the King Edward VII cup, offered by his late majesty for competition between officers of different nationalities. The cup has to be won three times before it can become the actual property of any nation. It has been taken once, in 1903, by France, and last year by Belgium.

An interesting addition will be the Russian section. One competition will be for trotter and prestashka, in wagon or dronky. In this class two animals are driven together, the horse on the near side being a trotter, while the off-side or right side horse a galloper. In the troika class three horses are driven in a row, the central troika being flanked by gallopers. The full equipment of Russian harness and troikas will be provided, forming a collection that never has been seen before in England. The Russian noblemen intend to send their own horses, carriages and coachmen for the competition. It is estimated that 250,000 visitors will attend the show this year.

Remedy That Cures Indigestion Free

The reader who will take the time to look over the accompanying testimonials must admit that a remedy about which such words can be written—and they are honestly written—must be a marvelous remedy indeed. We have from time to time printed letters regarding Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in which the writers said they had lived on crackers and milk for weeks until they took Syrup Pepsin and were cured of their indigestion. Syrup Pepsin cures indigestion and such troubles as constipation, biliousness, belching, gas on the stomach, heartburn, etc., because it is in every sense a scientific preparation. It is effective but yet mild and it tastes pleasantly. It also contains tonic ingredients that strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that in a short time they do their work again naturally. It is a laxative tonic of genuine merit, and yet perfectly harmless to an infant. Thousands of mothers buy it for their children. Perhaps it would be best for you to send for a free sample bottle first, and then, after you have used it and become convinced it is the remedy you have been looking for, buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Thousands have begun the use of Syrup Pepsin by first beginning with a sample bottle, which was sent free.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years, and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.

The following are some extracts from letters Dr. Caldwell has received:

"I have traveled all over the country for my health, have tried changes of climate, different waters, different doctors, but never could get rid of my indigestion. Finally I could not eat the lightest food without it nearly killing me. One lucky day I saw a reference to Syrup Pepsin and determined to try it. I had tried everything else so why not this? It did and the result is that I am cured man today, able to do as big a day's work as I ever did, and sound and well in every way. I believe Syrup Pepsin did it, and hence willingly recommend it."

—William Lee, 228 18th Street, Cairo, Ill.

"I received your sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin as a great fortune to me. I got to the point where I could not trust myself to eat anything but milk toast, but after taking the Syrup Pepsin I could eat anything without any bad effect, as I bought a large bottle. I would not be without it for anything."—John Wallace, Austin, Texas.

"The sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin received. The result of the trial proved satisfactory, and am now using a large bottle purchased from our druggist. I find it to be a good medicine for indigestion."—Mrs. J. K. Stanley, Seymour, Mo.

"I received your free sample of Syrup Pepsin, which I took according to directions, and can say it has done me more good than anything else. I have bought one bottle and used it."—E. W. Worley, Forsythe, Ga.

Why I Lost My Job

Reasons Why Thousands Like Me Cannot Satisfy Their Employers.

"I believe my fate is not unlike that of thousands of other workers who daily lose their places for reasons they do not know, and probably would not believe. When their last pay envelope comes alone, it is usually, 'Your services no longer required.' If the truth were known, the reason for their unceremonious removal would probably be that their usefulness was destroyed because of some mental worry, bodily ailment or general indisposition. These things, as we all know, are the most fruitful causes of failure in all walks of life. The battle of Waterloo was lost because of a headache. In this quick age our minds must be clear, rapid, active and free from outside influence or worry, or else we go down to failure with the throng of 'floaters' who go from one place of employment to another, giving no satisfaction to others and to themselves, constantly growing older and less useful, with no ambition, no will power, and no hope.

Every man requires from every other man the best that is in him. But no man can use or set the best that is in himself until he is first free from all fretful indispositions and worries.

"That was my trouble. I was full of troubles. That's why I lost my job. My stomach in the first place was always out of order, and I was worrying about it and my mind grew cloudy, and slow. I made mistakes, and grew grouchy. That was the end.

"There are thousands like me, going about with 'quick lunch' faces, dyspeptic manners, and repulsive atmospheres. No employer wants such men's services.

Take my advice. A healthy stomach is half the battle, for it keeps your mind clear, and your face rosy. I have a healthy stomach now and hold a good position, and my employer is satisfied and so am I.

I started to take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which I was told were good for the worst cases of indigestion and dyspepsia. The first two tablets made a wonderful difference in my condition.

One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests 3,000 grains of food. The stomach doesn't have to work at all. The Tablets do all the work, no matter how heavy your meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure brash, eruptions, burning sensations, bloating, irritations, loss of appetite, nausea, heartburn, lack of energy, loss of memory and dyspepsia and indigestion in their worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry them around with you wherever you go and take them regularly after meals. Then you will realize what it is to be freed from stomach trouble and have a clear mind, a quick memory, a happy disposition, comfort and rest. Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store for 50c a package.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

COLUMBIA LIKES IT

Commission Form of Government Tried in South Carolina City.

Mayor Shows Results Not Possible Under Old Ward Plan.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 3.—In response to a request from citizens of Atlanta, Mayor Gibbs of Columbia, S. C., sent the following letter, which was published in the Atlanta Constitution:

"We have a mayor and four councilmen, and elections are held alternately each two years, at one time for two councilmen, and at the next for the mayor and the other two, the terms of office being four years in all cases. We have the initiative, referendum and recall, all upon a 20 per cent petition of the total vote of the last preceding primary election.

"Our voting qualifications for the primary are the same as for the general election, viz.: a state residence of two years, county one year, and city four months before the next ensuing general election, together with the production of receipts for all taxes then finally due and payable.

"As to the justification of this government in Columbia it is hard to find a stronger one than the statements of members of the preceding council. When I went to two of them for an explanation of their budget before publishing the appended statement I was informed:

"First: That bills payable amounting to $55,000 and secured by an assignment of taxes were not placed in the budget of the year's expenses because their appearance would destroy the 'balance' and 'injure the city's credit.'

"Second: That the income for the year 1910 had been 'purposely underestimated' because if there appeared to be a surplus there would be a grab from all sides for all the money in sight by every department.

"Our financial statement shows that during the incumbency of our predecessors for four months and eleven days of 1910 they spent a total of $264,591.92. Deducting from this amount bills payable and past due interest of the year before, and all money spent for permanent improvements, and we find that they seem to have spent what seems to be a net amount of $169,468.09 for running expenses or a rate per annum of $483,536.

"During our administration of seven months and twenty days in 1910 we spent $137,307.46 gross, or $167,435.04 after deducting permanent improvements, which indicates an expenditure per annum of $282,306.

"It will be noticed that our predecessors started the year with a past over running expenses of $117,805, or a total of $136,809.35 available for permanent improvements in 1911, and with an anticipated saving in current expenses, increase in efficient collecting of city dues and underestimated income for safety, which, together, will amount to at least $50,000 more, which will go to swell our income and reduce taxes in 1912.

"Therefore, we are now finally in a financial position to state not what we hope or expect to do, but that we will go ahead from this time forward with city building and rehabilitation.

"These statements are not made to disparage our predecessors, who were good men under the handicap of a defective system.

"They are made simply to show that, in the short space of seven months and twenty days, there have been accomplished under a perfected form of government, and its proper administration, results that seem not to have been possible, or which at least were not approximated under the old political ward plan.

"To the method more than to men belong the results, which tend to establish the reason d'être of commission government.

"Almost invariably we are asked as to the satisfaction of the citizens. We can only say that recall has not been invoked, and that we daily receive encomiums from those whose 'well done' is worth whatever on the other hand we hear frequently of unfriendly criticisms.

"It shall be the aim of this writer to deserve in some measure these words of cheer from his friends, and so to work for the good of all that unfriendly critics may after a time become disarmed in the light of good results.

"With a sincere belief in the splendid possibilities of commission government, and the wish that its blessings may continue with Columbia and extend to all the civic communities of the land, I am, sincerely yours,
"W. H. GIBBS, Mayor."

the newspapers, as well as between the paper covers of the cheap novel, we have read of the handsome black or blue-eyed young man, clothed in fine raiment, setting up at the most swagging hotel in the place, entering his name in the book as Sir Marmaduke Vers de Vore, deceiving the tradespeople and the hotel keeper, and sometimes carrying off with him a young damsel better stocked with money than wit.

Now that will be impossible. A register of proper holders of the title will appear shortly, and is being anticipated in some quarters with considerable interest, for it is said that the unofficial lists that have appeared hitherto have been pretty severely blue-penciled. It is hardly necessary to say that the bogus gentleman's name will not appear, but, besides, there are a great many people who honestly believe they are baronets when they aren't, and to whom the list, when published, will come as rather a shock. This has arisen from some such circumstance as a title dying out in the direct line, and being assumed by a distant relation in all innocence, but with no legal right whatever. So any one who is taken in by these gentlemen henceforth will have only himself to blame. The usual victims, no doubt, will rush for the first copies of the official lists published and either learn them by heart or keep them handy. But one really feels quite sorry for the novelist. One of his most picturesque villains of the piece no longer will be available.

The title of baronet was instituted in the year 1611 by James I., who found himself at that time more than usually short of cash and hit upon this method of replenishing it, though he didn't put it this way to the applicants for the honor. What they understood was that they were to provide the defense of the newly established plantations of Ulster. Each holder of the title undertook to maintain at least thirty soldiers in Ireland for three years at 10 cents a day, these wages being paid into the royal exchequer. Two hundred gentlemen were honored in this way, the monarch raking in over $5,000 from each of them. The first baronet was Sir Nicholas Bacon of Redgrave, Suffolk, whose descendant is still the premier baronet.

In 1612 a dispute arose over precedence between the younger sons of viscounts and the baronets, the king deciding in favor of the baronets. At the same time he granted them the privilege of bearing on their escutcheons the bloody hand, the arms of Ulster which is borne by all baronets to this day.

The scheme worked so well that James's successor, Charles I. tried it on the colonization of Nova Scotia in 1638. Those who wished for the title paid a sum of $15,000 and received a patent which at first included grants of specified lands. These baronets received a sad blow shortly after, for the lands so minutely described and conveyed in their grants had no existence at all.

BUSONI'S CHICAGO TRIUMPH WITH THE CHICKERING

Busoni again demonstrated his right to the title of "King of Pianists" in his appearance with the Thomas Orchestra, and the noble Chickering piano again demonstrated its position in the music world as a piano of unusual artistic merit, surpassing, in fact, any display of tone and mechanical attributes that have ever been presented as belonging to this world-famed instrument. The Chicago papers were unanimous in praise of Busoni's wonderful manipulations of the Chickering keyboard and no artist has ever been received more enthusiastically by an audience representative of Chicago's music colony. Everyone interested in pianos should read carefully these notices of Busoni's work with the Chickering. There is much to appeal to the piano man in these criticisms. It shows what a really great triumph was that of the Chickering, for to respond to the demands of a great artist like Busoni indicates that the piano makers in the Chickering factory have kept pace with the masters like Busoni, and that means much in this day and time. Busoni-Chickering now means the limit of musical possibilities with the piano and will remain so until another genius is born to the world capable of surpassing Busoni. The piano makers, then, will have that demand to meet. At present, Busoni is the greatest, and that the Chickering meets all the demands of the greatest of piano players places that instrument at the head.

The home of the Chickering is at

WILL SHUT OUT FRAUDS

Official List of English Baronets to Be Published Soon.

London, Feb. 3.—Tradespeople and hotel keepers—particularly those at fashionable resorts on the continent—will have reason to bless the late King Edward's name for a scheme begun at his orders and just now approaching completion. This is the registration of baronets, the lowest hereditary English title, and hence the disappearance of the bogus baronet, the favorite hero of the time novel reader, the bane of hotel keepers, and the haunting fear of mothers of marriageable daughters.

For until now, holders of this title have not been registered, and the only way of finding out whether your acquaintance who called himself Sir Somebody Something, was or was not a baronet, was to search the files of the London Gazette since 1611. In that year the title was instituted by that impetuous and ingenious monarch, James I. The search might take you a week at least.

SHIP SUBSIDY IS FAVORED

Senate Passes the Bill By Aid of Vice President Sherman.

Exercises His Official Prorogative for First Time in History.

Washington, Feb. 3.—For the first time in the history of the United States the vice president of the United States yesterday exercised his constitutional prerogative of casting a vote to break the tie in connection with three successive roll calls in the senate. By the first of these votes he saved from impending defeat the ocean mail or ship subsidy bill and by the third forced an adjournment of the senate on a vote having direct bearing on the resolution looking to the election of senators by direct vote of the people.

The vote on the passage of the subsidy bill, both in committee of the whole and in the senate proper, stood 39 ayes and 39 noes and on adjournment 37 ayes to 37 noes. On all three occasions the vice president voted in the affirmative.

Watson Is Absent.

Another notable occurrence in connection with the vote on the subsidy bill was the absence of the new Democratic senator from West Virginia, Clarence Wayland Watson, who had taken his seat early in the day as the successor to Senator Elkins.

Mr. Watson's absence from the senate chamber for only a few moments during the session and his vote on the bill, which was cast on an amendment offered by Mr. Shively of Indiana, regarding the aggregate expenditures which may be made under the terms of the bill. On this provision the vote was 39 ayes and 39 noes. After the affirmative vote he disappeared and when the next ballot was taken Mr. Scott, the Republican colleague, announced Mr. Watson's absence, saying that he was away on an important business.

The result on this roll call was not so close as to render material the presence or absence of any senator and no notice was taken of the fact that Mr. Watson was not in attendance. Only a few senators gave heed to Mr. Scott's announcement and they laughed and joked naturally over it. Their enjoyment, if significant, passed without comment, and by most senators was attributed to the failure of a new senator to embrace his first opportunity to make a record.

Absence Prevents Defeat of Bill.

After the final result became known the opponents of the bill, including all of the Democrats, realized that Watson's absence had prevented the defeat of the bill. He was the only Democratic present during any of the roll calls whose vote was not cast against the measure.

The final vote of the bill came after three hours of determined conflict. The result was 39 ayes and 39 noes. There was no general appreciation of the sharp division. The result was a tie until the vice president broke it, as follows:

Yeas—Bradley, Brandegee, Briggs, Burke, Burnett, Burrows, Calkins, Curtis, Dick, Dillingham, Dixon, Egan, Hale, Heyburn, Jones, Keam, Loomis, Lorimer, Nelson, Otis, Penrose, Perkins, Piles, Root, Scott, Smoot, Stephenson, Warner, Warren, and Wetmore, all Republicans.

Nays—Beveridge, Borah, Bourne, Brewster, Burton, Crawford, Cummins, Gable, Gronna, La Follette, McPherson, and Smith, all Democrats. (Republicans.)

Eight senators were paired, and the vote was 39 ayes and 39 noes. The bill was passed by a vote of 39 ayes and 39 noes. The bill was passed by a vote of 39 ayes and 39 noes.

The only proper and becoming source which this senate and this congress could pursue under the circumstances," he said, "is to adjourn sine die on the ground that they no longer have the moral or ethical right to exercise the legislative powers of the people of the United States."

No reply was made to Mr. Owen, but when Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan announced his intention to cast his vote in opposition to the bill and at the same time stated that he believed in discriminating duties in favor of American vessels, Mr. Gallinger replied sharply.

"I cannot understand," he said, "how any senator can square his conscience so as to favor discriminating duties against direct aid, when the one policy takes the money from the treasury in war, and the other the other after principle. Elaborating somewhat the reasons against the duty plan the New Hampshire senator closed by saying: 'I have done the best I could do and this is the last effort I shall make in this direction. If this legislation fails it will be a long time before anything more will be done to place our flag upon the seas and to restore the prestige of American shipping.'"

As passed the bill authorizes the carrying of mails of $4 per ton on the outward voyage to second-class American built vessels plying between American ports and ports in the Philippines, Japan, China and Australia and between American ports and ports in South America, south of the equator, and the payment of $2 per ton on the return voyage. It also provides for the payment of $2 per ton on the return voyage. It also provides for the payment of $2 per ton on the return voyage.

The accident occurred Nov. 16, 1910. The trial of the case is going on before Judge Bishop of the district court. ## REAPPORTMENT IS DEPENDENT ON FORCE OF PUBLIC SENTIMENT senate lately took a solemn oath to support and obey.

Twenty-nine senators, representing 1,579,492 people, voted in favor of the resolution.

The representatives of practically one-third of the people of the state, in the senate, it was openly charged by the friends of the measure that the vote upon it was a test to show how the senators stood upon the question of reorganization of legislative districts.

Before the vote was taken, that geographical districting, which is the basis of the present system, was shown to be a little closer analysis of the vote.

An interesting analysis of the vote.

The districts chiefly interested in reorganization, because they stand to gain just by an honest readjustment of legislative representation, are the Ninth, Eleventh and Twelfth.

The districts chiefly concerned in defeating reorganization, because they would lose the power which they now have, are the First, Second and Third.

Bearing these facts in mind, an examination of yesterday's vote is a most interesting study.

In the First, Second and Third districts, not a single vote was cast for reorganization.

Every member of the senate from these three districts who was present voted against the resolution. Two—Bookma of Goodhue and Pochler of Sibley, both from the Third district—were not recorded as voting.

From these three districts, containing 2,075,098 inhabitants of Minnesota, came twenty-three of the thirty-one votes cast against the resolution.

In these three congressional districts, where a quarter of the state's population holds the balance of power against reorganization, are such senatorial districts as these, which the reader will compare with assembly districts, containing five counties and nearly 66,000 people: Nicollet county, 14,123 people, one senator; Houston county, 14,297 people, one senator; Dodge county, 12,094 people, one senator; and so on.

The other eight votes against reorganization touching which not one honestly effected.

Don that the house adopted by a vote of 6 to 1, were in the Fourth district, both from districts which would gain by reorganization. Two came from the Sixth district, which would be changed materially by reorganization.

The two counties having the highest number of votes for reorganization, were the Seventh and Eighth districts, which would not be much affected by the change.

The resolution of the Fifth, Eighth or Ninth districts.

In the First, Second and Third congressional districts are several senatorial districts which would not be affected by reorganization. Some other reason than a desire to retain their power for their districts must be assigned to these senators, and there is no lack of reasons if they can be called reasons.

The senators who voted against the resolution represent, on the average, 23,223 people each.

The senators who voted for the resolution represent, on the average, 44,120 people each.

Vote Not Encouraging.

Yesterday's vote in the senate was not so encouraging to those who have hoped that justice might be done by this legislative assembly.

BELIEVED TO BE DEMENTED

Burglar Visits West Duluth Home and Two Business Places.

Has West Duluth a demented burglar?

Following an investigation into the methods used by a midnight prowler, who Wednesday evening attempted to enter the residence of William Johnson, 229 North Fifty-fourth avenue west, and two business places at West Duluth, the police are inclined to the theory that a half-witted person was on the job.

Agent, Wilcox believes that he can pick his man. Although no arrests have been made as yet, the apprehension of the right man may follow soon.

Wednesday, Mr. Johnson, who is proprietor of a livery stable, drew

$1.00 from the bank and took it to his home for safe keeping over night.

About midnight his daughter and another girl, who were sleeping downstairs, heard footsteps on the porch.

They also heard someone tampering with the storm door, which was locked.

They turned on a light and went upstairs to arouse the family.

Then the would-be intruder dropped heavily crowbar, with which he had attempted to force the storm door open, on the porch with a thud, and ran. The next morning the bar was found on the porch, and footsteps were traced south on Fifty-fourth avenue to the rear door of the plumbing shop of Charles Little on Bristol street, between Fifty-fourth and Central avenues.

Plumbing Shop Entered.

Here the prowler gained entrance through a door in which a key had been left Wednesday evening. That he had switched on a light to see to work by, is the belief of the police.

The safe was tampered with in every conceivable manner. The burglar helped himself to all sizes of bits and attempted, from all appearances, to get into the safe merely by boring holes into it.

The police say that he must have worked at the safe for nearly two hours. One of the most peculiar things that he tried to accomplish was the springing of the safe lock by turning the knob with a three-foot wrench.

Doing this, he broke off the brass rod which serves as a handle on the knob.

He bored one hole with a 5-inch bit, near the lock and other holes near the hinges of the door. There are no evidences that he had any nitro-glycerine or other explosives with him and the police are puzzled. Another action, which appears to have been a mere waste of time, was the chiseling of most of the paint off the door of the

Before he left the place, he carried a quantity of old clothing, which he had found about the shop, up into a loft above the shop. In order to do this he had to force open a trap door.

The safe contained nothing but a few books and papers, which would have been of no value to the burglar had he been successful in cracking the safe and had taken them.

Visits Clothing Store.

From the rear door of the plumbing shop he was traced by foot-prints in the snow to the store of the Great Eastern Clothing company, of which Kastner and Neuman are proprietors.

The store is located at 215-217 Central avenue. The storm door at the rear was pried off the hinges, but the door opening into the store was not forced.

The second door has a lining of heavy iron and the windings were also protected with heavy iron bars. From the rear door his foot-steps were traced by the police to Bristol street.

None of the attempted burglaries were reported to the police until yester-

"RICHER THAN ROCKEFELLER" IS RALPH PARLETTE'S SUBJECT

On the subject, "Richer Than Rockefeller," Ralph Parlette, a man of national reputation as a speaker, will address the men of Duluth Sunday afternoon at the regular meeting held at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Parlette is well known throughout the country as a lecturer, having been on the platform for a number of years past. His lectures are said to be extremely interesting. In them will be found a generous amount of humor, in fact, he illustrates all his lectures with original stories and incidents.

A few years ago he was a country editor. The messages from his pen made people both laugh and think. His writings were widely copied. He was soon called to the lecture platform where he was instantly a success.

One newspaper says of him: "Ralph Parlette is a unique blending of philosopher, preacher, orator, entertainer and humorist. He writes in desperate earnest, but wit and humor beam from almost every sentence. His humor is not kind that merely makes you laugh while you are getting it. While your mouth is open he drops in a sugar-coated truth that soaks into your system and becomes a part of your creed. His humor is not borrowed. It is his own original and vivid. His lectures are most interesting and his word pictures are most vivid. His lectures have been pronounced masterpieces of oratory."

RALPH PARLETTE.

He has been successful in cracking the safe and had taken them.

Visits Clothing Store.

From the rear door of the plumbing shop he was traced by foot-prints in the snow to the store of the Great Eastern Clothing company, of which Kastner and Neuman are proprietors.

The store is located at 215-217 Central avenue. The storm door at the rear was pried off the hinges, but the door opening into the store was not forced.

The second door has a lining of heavy iron and the windings were also protected with heavy iron bars. From the rear door his foot-steps were traced by the police to Bristol street.

None of the attempted burglaries were reported to the police until yesterday afternoon.

NAME "HOBO" IS BARRED

Milwaukee Man Tells of Unique Convention in Home City.

"Speak no more of 'hoboes' in loud or even casual tone of voice; to do so will bring down upon your head the not gentle wrath of the entire 'profess'," says Sidney Arthur, a well-known sports promoter of Milwaukee.

Mr. Arthur is in the city spending a week with an old friend, William Land.

"To make my meaning clear," he continued, "let it be known that Milwaukee's 'hoboes' that's you know—has the present week to the fourth annual convention of the employed International Brotherhood and association. And to say that they are there in numbers is putting it mildly."

"About their first action, in convention duly assembled, was to put a ban on that word 'hobo.' They declared that they do not favor it. With the utmost dignity they solemnly passed resolutions asserting that it is a reflection upon the dignity of their profession. They made it clear, if some term be employed to designate them, they would like to be labeled to the world as 'casual laborers.'"

Mr. Arthur said that they had given the use of the council chambers of the city hall to hold their sessions. He explained that some of the leading members of the knights of the road were in attendance, including several that have a national reputation in police as well as other circles. He explained that several of the delegates are highly educated men, and delivered papers and addresses that might have graced the national conventions of any organization.

Some of the more interesting names which Mr. Arthur recalled included William Jack, Wanderer Bill, Shipper Slim, Milwaukee Shorty, Virginia Bill, Minneapolis Kid, Missouri Slim, Hiking Joe, A. No. 1 the Second and Seldom Seen. He didn't believe that Seldom Seen was in attendance as he is already wanted by more than one chief of police and certain railroad detectives.

It is claimed that Seldom Seen has a hobby of carving his names in the sides of the finest Pullman cars, and getting away without being seen, or caught, the latter being the most important part of the deal.

Mr. Arthur denied that they were dining at the leading hotels. He said that some of them have captured a large tin boiler in which to cook coffee, and managed to secure about one-third enough tin cups to go around. Not disturbed by the scarcity of "tools," he claims they pass them around as regularly as meal times arrive.

SAYS ROOSEVELT COULDN'T BE ELECTED DOG-CATCHER

Frank L. Bixby, a veteran theatrical man, who is in the city, believes that Theodore Roosevelt is through, in the words of the street, has been sent to the "cleaners."

Why?

"If Theodore Roosevelt had at the conclusion of his term as president of the United States told the people of this country that he had received the highest honors that an American could possibly receive, had stated that he was through forever with political life, he would have had a gold crown and the higher powers down here would have done their best to assure him a great reception in Heaven," said Bixby. "He didn't and there he made his mistake."

"It is the common man, the man of middle class who seeks to better his own position, who reads and thinks, who has pulled the curtains on the political life of Roosevelt. These fellows are beginning to ask whether he hasn't had enough, whether he isn't trying to take too many institutions, not to mention too many countries. The common man is tired of Theodore Roosevelt, even though he may still hold to his ideal of the man and believe him one of the greatest characters ever produced by American public life. In the East this new sentiment regarding Roosevelt is so apparent, that honestly if he were to run for dog catcher in New York, he would be elected."

"To speak figuratively, the East said to Roosevelt, 'Come here now, there is something that is going to happen to you,' and then took the great and mighty Teddy over its knee and gave him a spanking that he will never forget, the longest day he lives."

"I travel all over the country and I meet all kinds of people. I have two cars that have been trained to listen for it is part of the business of a business man in the theatrical profession. I am repeating just what I have heard in the aggregate. Talk to the man on the street, and you will get an opinion which will make you ask other men. Ask enough and you will get the opinion of the people. I have been talking with people all over the country and I have been convinced that Theodore Roosevelt is through."

Mr. Bixby says his observation has been that the average man has gotten over the habit of looking to see when the next man falls, is tired of the calamity howl, is for the time tired of agitation, and believes that results can be accomplished with less noise and even more dispatch. He believes further that the glamour, the spectacular effects that Roosevelt was always able to muster to his cause, have ceased to thrill and blind to undoubted faults, and that today though the people may love and respect and honor Roosevelt for a sincere man bent on reform, his political day has passed and he will soon cease to be a power in the political life of the American people."

Washington, Feb. 3.—Marquis Eaton, attorney for John R. Walsh, the former Chicago banker now in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., today saw President Taft and asked him to expedite as much as possible the petition which has been made in Walsh's behalf. He said the banker is a sick man and should be freed on that account. The president informed Mr. Eaton that the case now is in the hands of the pardon attorney of the department of justice.

How to Reduce Fat Without Drugs, Diet or Exercise

After the summer is past and there are no more hot, stuffy days, this is the time when fat people should be thinking about reducing their weight and should stop making the fat that is such a burden to them. The best way and the easiest way is the one about which so much has been said and written this past year. This way is the Marmola way. The famous Marmola Prescription has been prepared in tablet form. These little tablets contain nothing but the elements that go to change the things which produce fat into good, strong blood, nerves, tissues and bone. More than this, these tablets absorb and remove the fat remaining at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day. You must not confuse Marmola Tablets with harmful patent drugs and hurtful roiling medicines. These tablets go into your stomach just like the food you eat. They build up the juices of the digestive organs and correct these juices so that they produce no more fat. They are harmless, yet thousands of men and women all over this land today are of firm figure and normal size because of these little tablets. This is why every druggist everywhere carries them in his store. They will sell them to you. If your druggist does not have them, or you would rather send 75 cts. the price of a case, to The Marmola Co., 491 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., they will send them to you at once in a plain package, postage paid.

DULUTH BOY IS MISSING

The theater ordinance, which had its initiative under the civic welfare committee of the Women's Council and which is to come up again before the members of the city council on Monday evening, was the main subject of discussion this morning at the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Council, which was held at the library clubroom. No new phases of the subject were brought up but the matter was thoroughly reviewed and the members of the council and the members of all the women's clubs represented by the council are asked to be present Monday evening at the council chambers of the city hall at the regular council meeting. It was voted that Mr. Morgan be thanked for his aid in this cause.

The associated charities work was also reviewed, specific cases being cited as illustration of the work being done. It was reported that the need of clothing for use in charitable work is great and the authorities would be very glad to receive donations.

Mrs. W. E. Johnson, chairman of the smoke committee, reported that the committee was working on the smoke nuisance, and Mrs. M. E. Baldwin, who is a member of the committee, reported a visit to one business house where a smoke consuming stove was in use and that the conditions resulting from its use were very satisfactory and that it will be urged upon owners and agents of other buildings in the city where smoke conditions are existing.

In this same building soft coal is being burned and every bit of it is being consumed so that there is no belching forth of great clouds of soot and unburned coal.

In Minneapolis, $30,000 had been raised to fight the smoke nuisance.

Slippery Pavements.

Mrs. E. W. Marter presented to the council the subject of the slippery pavements on the avenues in the East end and told of her efforts to get the council to take action to remedy her efforts to bring about a better state of affairs.

A communication from the Commercial club was received regarding a lecturer, Thomas H. Maxwell, who is coming to Duluth to give a course of lectures on the various organizations of the city and asking them to take charge of one of the lectures which they voted to do. They will also arrange the place of the lecture.

Mr. Maxwell will lecture on the "Home-coming" and at the end of the lecture he will hold a big mass meeting under the direction of the Commercial club.

Another subject which was discussed at some length was the subject of communication to the council from a committee of the Commercial club, formed for the purpose of dealing with the abuse of sidewalks by merchants, and asking the aid of the police in the matter. The members of the council decided to write to the committee, assuring them of their co-operation and asking them to keep the committee advised of the various cases which come up.

From the Commercial club, the communication as received follows:

"The sidewalks in this city and in all other towns were originally a part of the lot in front of which they are placed; which was set aside by dedication or condemnation for the exclusive use of the public, as a highway."

"The only lawful use of a sidewalk is for highway purposes and the ordinances of all cities provide that the obstruction placed upon sidewalks may be declared a nuisance and shall be immediately removed by the police or other proper city officials."

"It is also of criminal offense to obstruct a sidewalk in any manner, the only exception being made in the case of merchants who are entitled to place their goods upon the sidewalk for the purpose of sale or display."

"No sort of trade is permitted to be carried on upon the streets under our laws as the streets are for the display or sale of goods excepted."

"The street from building to building belongs to those who pass through it. The land upon which it is laid was taken from private owners for the exclusive purpose and for no other."

"Notwithstanding this fact and the further fact that the streets of this town are particularly congested, owing to the fact that they are so narrow, the writer has in the past few months noted the following illegal uses of sidewalks:

Piling and sawing firewood. Washing and drying clothes. Storing and displaying wagons. Newspaper stands. Storage and display of second-hand furniture. Repair of stoves and blacking stoves. Storage of beef-carasses intended for food. Display and sale of cut meat. Display and sale of vegetables and green stuff intended for food."

"In a large number of localities a part of the street is regularly used by the livermen for the purpose of their extra wagons over night, notably the part of First street in front of the new courthouse square, where the express companies occupy the entire block all of each night and the wagons with empty wagons which they cannot afford to rent storage space for."

"The most vicious aspect of the case, however, is the display and sale of fresh fruit, vegetables and cut meat on the sidewalk."

"Aside from the fact that the merchants are charging the public for doing business on property that belongs to the public and not to the merchants, there is an entirely separate objection to the practice from its non-sanitary considerations."

"It is generally conceded that owing to the presence of draught-animals and a certain unhygienic tradition as to proper place for the deposit of dirt and waste of all kinds, the public ways of a town large or small are great breeders of all kinds of filth and decay, and are in addition the rallying place for all disease-bearing insects."

"In other words they are a place to display and sell things that people intend to eat."

"It is no answer to this to say that the food stuffs will be washed before being prepared at least it would satisfy the writer personally, in regard to certain sorts of contamination."

Disease germs in dust. "There is but little doubt that the germs of disease are known to be on the surface of the dust on the pavement of Superior street, and it is quite likely that the dust on a windy day would contain a very representative assortment of these."

"Now there are adequate laws regulating all phases of this question, and they have been put in motion by the writer on several occasions to remedy some particularly flagrant abuses of the highways, but a permanent cure of the evil there is no recourse by strong public sentiment."

"It is easy to prosecute a dealer who violates the city ordinance and conviction nearly always results, but such convictions nearly always enlist public sympathy in favor of the guilty person; for the reason that the law in regard to the rights of the public in the streets is very little understood."

"Many people in fact have the impression that persons occupying the walks and pavements in the manner mentioned above are acting within their rights; and that as the street is public, it is public for all private uses."

"When the attention of the police is called to violations of the rules they warn the violator and then forget it. If reminded again they proceed summarily to abate the nuisance as they have the right to do, and forget it again."

"In a few days the state of affairs changes into its former condition. It is only fair to the police to say, however, that they have a lot of things to worry over beside the nervousness of the otherwise law-abiding merchants and that there are really few of them to attend to such matters."

"There is a very efficient remedy for the last phase of the evil, the sale of food-products out of doors; and one that can be applied with great success by the members of the council; namely to refuse to be waited upon by tradesmen, anywhere except inside their place of business; and to refuse to accept any goods that are or have been placed outside the store for display, on the ground that they cannot be sufficiently clean for home consumption."

"Those who have really at heart the appearance of our streets, should refuse to patronize any merchant who violates the rights of the public in the manner above stated."

"The writer represents a committee of the Commercial club, formed for the purpose of handling the matters referred to in these notes, and has spent a good deal of time on the matter, and has been successful in procuring a conference with the mayor and chief of police on the subject, and the above conclusion is the best solution of the difficulty that has been arrived at."

THE EVENING STORY

THE MINER'S LEGACY

By Randolph Wright.

The cold laid down in a clattering torrent over the shining grating of the screen. A young woman, her face and arms blackened with dust, watched the gleaming flow. At intervals she swung her hammer, and with one clean blow shivered a lump that was too large. Other girls and women were engaged in the same task, and the air was filled with a buzz of activity.

A buzzer roared out its signal, and the clamor on light-brow and bank ceased. The shaft was disengaged, and those who worked above ground hurried to their tools.

Nance Schofield walked towards the town with two of the women who had worked beside her. It was Saturday, and football fever-riled the air, for Benoit's college was to do battle with its rival Nenethorpe.

"I'll trouble Nance little, who beats," said one of the women. "She'll have sweethearts enow on both sides—eh, Nance? There'll be two I know as'll do her best, all for a smile from you."

Nance laughed, and darted into the dingy little cottage that was her home, her clock clacking noisily on the tiled floor. A querulous voice called to her from upstairs.

"I'll come on to the 't minute I can, mother," cried Nance, "when I've made mazel' tlay."

Nance returned to the kitchen transformed. She was wearing the blue serge skirt she had worn during one glorious summer week at Blackpool. It was stained with sea water, and the white blouse had shrunk a little. But her cheeks were glowing. Then she went up to the room where the invalid

"Grapes, again, mother," she said, and laid her lip. "I've sent them in a faint thing of amber stained the woman's thin cheeks."

"Who do you think sent 'em, Nance? Here's a good, honest man cravin' for 'em, Nance, will money comin', and a man as bright as a new shillin'! And you've only to lift a finger to win 'em!"

"I'll love 't I wed, mother, or I'll die a miser!" said Nance.

"Happen as much as you love me, which is nowt at all. Eh, I wish I was dead and interred!"

Nance stared at the whitewashed wall, and her head drooped strangely. She knew well enough who had sent the grapes, but her mother had said what was truly true. She had but to raise her finger to bring Frank Drafel to her feet.

"And now betwixt him and all 't money o'w! Steve Drafel's hundred on save an idiot lad who's deefn' fast," whimpered the woman. "Say, he may be high at starvation's door, and you'll see me high at starvation's door."

"I do love you, mother," said Nance; "but it's a main, cruel thing you're expectin' of me, Nance. He's as steady as a rock, and handsome wif. He's never a day more'n 30 year old, and in less nor a twelvemonth he'll happen be ridin' the high road."

Nance had nothing against Frank Drafel, and yet she could not love him. She did not love him. And then the light leaped back into her eyes at the sound of a knock.

"Nance, I've come to tak' you to 't match," cried a voice of "Art reed!" Nance went down, her heart singing and aching at the same time. Phil Boyne's bulk filled up the doorway. He had never spoken of love to her, but she knew that it was there, for her mother's dream of wealth would never be fulfilled.

"I've heard 't news, there's some way to it," said Nance. "It's for a big team, and happen they'll sign me on 't I did well. Forty dollars a week all 't year, and only say 't word, and I'll play as I please!"

"What word, Phil?" "That if I go you'll go wif me! Nance, I'm not your mother's well!"

Mrs. Schofield's dream of boundless wealth seemed ever so near. "Phil, lad, my heart's gone out o' me," said Nance softly. "Wif I'd go to 't end o' 't earth."

Benoit won the single goal scored in the match. They did not deserve the victory. But for Phil Boyne's stirring while and Nance would have scored half a dozen times. But the boys' team of the day was not to be served, and with them the goalkeeper's hope.

"Nance," he said, "I might 't know I wasn't class enow. But you'll not tak' back 't word!"

"I'll never tak' that back!" said Nance, and she was walking on air when he left her.

"I must tell Frank," he thought. "Nance'll be more pleased than him!"

To be truthful in the same shift, and were inseparable. Drafel was in his garden, pruning a curiant bush. He looked up with a smile as Nance opened the gate. He had had the vision of the visitor, and sight of Nance's glowing face heralded good news.

"They've better you to sign on, then," he cried.

"Nance, better than that, Frank, lad," said Phil. "I've signed on 't match, but not for a season or two wif a football club. I've got Nance Schofield to wed me, Frank, and she's said 'Yes'."

Drafel stooped so that the bush sheltered his face.

"And if thou'rt not good to her, lad," said Phil, "I've signed on 't match, but not for a season or two wif a football club. I've got Nance Schofield to wed me, Frank, and she's said 'Yes'."

Drafel stooped so that the bush sheltered his face.

"And if thou'rt not good to her, lad," said Phil, "I've signed on 't match, but not for a season or two wif a football club. I've got Nance Schofield to wed me, Frank, and she's said 'Yes'."

Drafel stooped so that the bush sheltered his face.

Drafel stooped so that the bush sheltered his face.

Someone knocked softly, and then sharply, but Phil did not hear. The door opened, and a man stepped in. He glanced at Phil, and then walked up stairs.

"You doctor?" said Nance. "Hush, I don't want to see your mother tonight, but you. We found this on poor Drafel. He must have written it just before the accident, and got two of the other poor fellows to witness it."

It was Frank Drafel's will, written on the back of an envelope, and witnessed by Aron Banner and John Louan.

"In sequent all I shall be possessed of in equal shares to Philip Boyne and Nance Schofield, to be theirs the day they wed."

The widow's dream had come true!

Date Muffins

A New Way of Using Dates
By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

The value of dates as a food is hardly appreciated. They are wholesome, nutritious, and when used in K C Date Muffins, the fruit that is appreciated by the entire family.

K C Date Muffins
One-third cup butter; 1/4 cup sugar; 1 egg; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoons K C Baking Powder; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; scant 1/2 pound dates.

Cream the butter, add the sugar and the egg, beaten light. Sift together three times the flour, baking powder and salt; add these to the first mixture, alternately with the milk; beat thoroughly and add the dates, stoned and cut in pieces. To bake, have a slow oven until the muffins double in bulk, then increase heat to bake and brown quickly. Muffins baked this way will be light, appetizing and more easily digested.

This is only one of the many appetizing recipes found in the K C Cook's Book.

The wonderful K C Cook's Book is substantially bound and printed in nine colors, contains ninety tested and easily made recipes by Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, of the world famous Boston Cooking School Magazine.

You can secure a copy FREE by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the J. C. Case Co., Chicago.

Be sure to write name and address plainly.

We make special prices in pound lots to Camps, Boarding Houses and Country Stores.

We will have round lots of Country Eggs, Butter, Cheese and Meats coming in after this week. It is our purpose and aim to bring the Consumer into direct relations with the Producer. We make the statement without fear of contradiction that we are the lowest priced enterprise of our kind in the United States. Not Bait—price, quality and satisfaction is the standard upon which we are building our business.

We sell for Cash—only. Nothing delivered under $5.00. Orders for Meats and Groceries may be bunched together. We guarantee every article we sell. We have no hesitancy in saying that nine months' cash trading at our store will enable you to obtain in merchandise equal in price to a full year's trading elsewhere. We build not upon Hate, but upon Reason and Common Sense. Co-operation along all lines must become the goal of future business enterprise—or else there will be shipwrecks on the rocks.

Measure Drafted By Justice
O'Brien for the Labor Interests.

Fellow Servant and Assumption of Risk Rules Are Abrogated.

Cashman Will Offer Amendments to His Distance Tariff Bill.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Anticipating the probable defeat of the workmen's compensation code, prepared by the commission appointed two years ago and now before both branches of the legislature, the labor interests have prepared a bill, carefully drafted by Justice Thomas D. O'Brien of the supreme court, which will be introduced at an early date.

This measure, which applies only to certain hazardous industries, provides an alternative system of workmen's compensation, and makes important changes in the laws, common and statute, relating to personal injury litigation.

The fellow servant rule is abrogated altogether, and so is the doctrine of assumption of risk. In other words, if this bill is made law, no employee can be deprived of redress for injuries incident to his employment on the ground that a fellow servant, not the employer, is responsible; nor can he be kept out of court on the ground

PRESIDENT IS PRAISED

Frank A. Day Congratulates Him on Canadian Reciprocity Pact.

Democratic Chairman Hopes Congress Will Ratify the Agreement.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank A. Day, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, has written a letter to President Taft warmly congratulating him on the "broad and patriotic statesmanship" shown in the president's recent achievement in the Canadian reciprocity agreement. It is a laudatory letter for a Democratic state chairman to take the trouble to cheer up a Republican president, but there is no mistaking the sincerity of Mr. Day's views. The letter, which was written on Democratic committee stationery, follows:
President W. H. Taft, White House,
Washington, D. C.:—Although I am chairman of the Democratic state central committee, I am proud to be your friend.

GORILLA AND DOG IN PRIZE FIGHT

Hundreds See Ape Kill His Opponent in Two Minutes.

New Iberia, La., Feb. 4.—A battle to the death between a gorilla and an English bulldog, in which the gorilla was victorious, was fought here early today, with almost the entire male population of New Iberia as spectators.
Much money was wagered.

A pen twelve feet square and eight feet high, with seats on all sides, was arranged for the combat. The dog and gorilla were placed in the pen at midnight and at 12:02:30 a. m. the dog was dead.

The dog leaped at the gorilla immediately after being placed in the pen. The gorilla caught the dog just as a man catches a baseball, then bit quickly through the dog's skull into the brain, broke its back and tore it to pieces.

Quakes Decreasing.
Manila, Feb. 4.—The earthquakes which have continued for several days coincident with the eruption of Mount Taal, are decreasing in intensity and frequency. At noon today a total of 913 quakes have been recorded at the observatory.

NEW CARS ORDERED

Hillside Extension Planned and Old Tracks Will Be Reopened.

More than $400,000 will be spent by the Duluth-Superior traction company during the year 1911, in improving its lines, buying new cars, and making extensions.

General Manager Herbert Warren returned a few days ago from the East, where he attended the annual meeting of the company, and today he outlined to The Herald the improvements and the extensions that would be made during the coming year in Duluth and Superior.

Mr. Warren would not discuss the much talked of extension to the steel plant site, saying he was not in position to make any announcement regarding it.

The principal extension to be made during the coming year will be the Hillside extension, which will be

FIGHT WITH LION ENDS FATALLY

George Grey Succumbs to Wounds From King of Beasts.

Nairobi, British East Africa, Feb. 4.—
George Grey, a brother of Sir Edward Grey, the British minister of foreign affairs, died during the night at a hospital to which he was removed following his encounter with a lion last Tuesday.

Mr. Grey, with several companions, was stalking lions near the Athi river, when he separated from the others and was suddenly set upon by a large beast.
He was badly wounded before his friends could come to his rescue.

Vessels Still Missing.
Madrid, Feb. 4.—Several coasting vessels in the Mediterranean are still missing, and it is feared that the steamers were lost during the recent storm. On the Catalan coast alone five barkas were wrecked and forty-three persons drowned.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 4.—Exactly forty-eight hours after Matt Laubach, a Finlander, aged 24, had made Hille Niemi his bride, he shot himself twice through the body, causing instant death.

ATTACK ON JUAREZ BY THE INSURRECTOS EXPECTED ANY MINUTE

American Consul Has Official Notice of the Bombardment.

Many Refugees Cross the Bridge Into El Paso, Texas.

Revolutionists Intend to Make Juarez Their Capital City.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 4.—The Damoc-lean sword of insurrection was still suspended over the city of Juarez this morning. Just when Pasquale Orozco and his followers would cut the thread was a little indefinite but it was very definite indeed that the attack of the young revolutionary leader on the border city, which according to his own statement, he intended making the provisional capital of Mexico, will be not long delayed.

Official notice of the intended attack reached the American consul at 10:30 last night. In this notice Orozco said he would attack within twenty-four hours. Couriers from his camp about ten miles from Juarez, this morning said he expected first, to reconnoiter the town before striking, and that he was awaiting reinforcements. Juarez, too, was looking for reinforcements for the federal garrison, but revolutionists said none might be looked for from the south where Col. Toboog and his shattered command were.

This morning Orozco's outposts were almost within sight of Juarez. The revolutionists' leader told friends yesterday that he expected to attack Juarez last Saturday evening or Sunday.

He declared that he intended mak-

HEIRESS IS NOT IN PHILADELPHIA

Reports That Dorothy Arnold Was There Prove to Be Unfounded.

New York, Feb. 4.—Miss Dorothy Arnold is still missing and there is no immediate prospect of finding her. She may have been in Philadelphia, since she disappeared from home, but she has not been located there, and she has not been seen at a Quaker City hotel, nor was she kidnapped in an automobile en route to Philadelphia and held for ransom, so far as her relatives and her father's lawyers have been able to ascertain.

sionary, brother, or that he cashed Ed-

STILL HOPES TO RECOVER SIGHT

Blind Girl Will Hold All-Day
Prayer Meeting on Sunday.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 4.—Believing the restoration of her sight was delayed a few days to test her faith, Miss Margaret Shipley, the McKeesport blind girl, who fasted for eight days in hopes the miracle would occur, will conduct an all-day prayer meeting tomorrow.
At the conclusion of the services Sunday night she, together with a dozen faithful friends, believes her vision will be restored.

Miss Shipley is living with a sister, Mrs. C. F. Halderman. Her father and several other relatives, who were here during the fast, returned to their homes at McKeesport, Pa., last Thursday.

Mr. Shipley states that if his daughter does not soon recover her sight, he will ask the authorities to put an end to the services for the sake of the young woman's health.

ASK WALSH TO WITHDRAW.
Montana Democrats Cannot See Harmony Any Other Way.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 4.—The Democratic state committee has virtually asked T. J. Walsh to withdraw from the senatorial race in the interest of party harmony. After a three hours session, the committee adopted a resolution asking Democratic members of the assembly "to get together in conference and agree upon a Democratic for whom they can all vote."

Yesterday's vote was barren of results.

ACCUSED OF HAYWARD MURDER

ANDREW NIEMI.

SURE HE IS RIGHT MAN

Andrew Niemi Arrested in Duluth for Brutal Hayward Murder.

Police Satisfied He Is the Man Wanted in Wisconsin City.

Andrew Niemi, wanted at Hayward,
Wis., for the murder of James Elwood in that vicinity about three weeks ago, was arrested on Lake avenue last night by Sergeant John Roberg and Patrolman Dickman. The Sawyer county officials have been notified of his capture, and an officer is on his way to Duluth to bring him back for trial.

Niemi is the man the authorities at Hayward accuse of the murder, which was particularly brutal. Elwood's head and body were smashed in with a short ax, which was found on the road a short distance from the body. The pockets had been rifled and everything of value taken.

Niemi doesn't admit that he committed the murder, or that he cashed Edward's check at a Haywood bank, but he makes other admissions which are

PRISONER IS LOSING MIND

William Bruman Held for Assaulting and Robbing
His Companion.

Charge May Yet Be Murder
If the Victim Dies.

The police fear that William Bruman, awaiting examination on the charge of having robbed Hal-mer Attonen Wednesday night, after he had brutally assaulted him on the Iron Range tracks at the foot of Thirteenth avenue east, is losing his mind. They state that he acts as though he were greatly troubled.

Yesterday when he was taken upstairs to the Herkimer room to be photographed and measured, he suddenly turned and pointing to the window, cried: "Look, see what's there. I think I see a likeness of my dead brother."

All the inmates of the money Altonen says he had in his pocket was found to have been great at a West Duluth drug store, where he purchased some medicine and paid an old debt.

Weather: Fair weather tonight and probably Sunday; temperature tonight about zero; moderate winds.

MEETINGS AT THE LYCEUM

Rev. M. S. Rice to Give Series of Noon-Day Sermons.

Will Speak to Business Men on the Practical Side of Religion.

The Rev. M. S. Rice will begin Monday noon a week's series of noonday addresses to the business men of the city. The short religious talks will be given at the Lyceum theater. The addresses will start promptly at 12:15, which will give the business man time to get a light lunch and get to the theater, and will close at 12:50, which in turn will give those attending time to get back to business by 1 o'clock.

The noonday talks to the business men of Duluth were tried in this city last year with a great deal of success. The subjects Mr. Rice has chosen for the series have to do with religion as it is thought of today, and will also treat of it along practical lines. His addresses will interest the business man, even those who are out of the habit of attending church.

In fact, these addresses have been planned with the idea of bringing the business men into closer touch with the church and the religion of today, and point out to them the part that the business man of today should play in the evangelization of the world.

The addresses will be short and will for the most part touch upon present day conditions. Mr. Rice is one of the ablest speakers in the pulpit of the city, and he has planned the series of addresses with infinite care as to detail.

Following are the subjects of the addresses and the order in which they come:

Monday, Feb. 6—"The Devil Take the Hindmost."

Tuesday, Feb. 7—"Waylaid."

Wednesday, Feb. 8—"Presumptuous Sin."

Thursday, Feb. 9—"Fag-end Religion."

Friday, Feb. 10—"Is Life Worth Living?"

Saturday, Feb. 11—"What Is There in It?"

To make walking a pleasure have Heimback's heels put on those shoes.

MRS. LESLIE CARTER IN FINANCIAL STRAITS.

New York, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Leslie Carter, the actress, who is known in private life as Mrs. Carolina L. D. Payne, submitted a proposal to her creditors today by the terms of which she will pay all of her debts on the installment plan. The proposal followed the filing of an involuntary petition in bankruptcy by Simon Lind with a claim of $2,000. Mrs. Carter's liabilities are stated to be about $20,000, her assets less than $1,000.

Mrs. Carter's proposal is to hand a substantial part of her weekly income to a trustee, to be selected by her creditors, retaining for herself a sum sufficient to meet only her ordinary expenses.

CELEBRATION OF THE CHINESE NEW YEAR IN NEW YORK

The Chinese New Year is being celebrated this week. Officially this is the 2,462nd anniversary of the birthday of Confucius, which is the beginning of the Chinese calendar. All week most of the shops in Chinatown were closed. The Chinese, arrayed in the most gorgeous of their silk robes, receive their friends and treat them to rice wine and delicacies of the table. The children, in parti-colored robes and quaint snub-nosed shoes, were taken on calls of ceremony with their parents. There will be great burning of joss sticks in the temples and much bowing before the altar. All debts will be settled and the New Year started with a clean account.

COMPLAINS ABOUT SECRETARY MEYER

Naval Officer Says He Refuses to Treat Him Square.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Proceedings in mandamus against George von L. Meyer, secretary of the navy, were instituted in the supreme court of the District of Columbia today by Jefferson F. Moser of California, a retired naval officer. Mr. Moser seeks to compel the secretary to place his name on the official register of the navy as a retired admiral on the retired list instead of with the rank of captain, retired, as he now is designated.

The officer complains to the court that despite a decision of the United States court of claims, that he is and has been since Sept. 29, 1904, entitled to the rank and emoluments of a rear admiral on the retired list. Mr. Meyer refused to recognize him as of the higher grade and continues to publish him as a retired captain.

Mr. Moser entered the naval service Sept. 29, 1884, and Sept. 29, 1904, was placed on the retired list of the navy after forty years' service, with a creditable record. Under the navy personnel act, it is claimed the officer should have been advanced to the grade of rear admiral on his retirement.

TILFORD RESIGNS FROM STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

New York, Feb. 4.—Henry M. Tilford resigned today from the directorate of the Standard Oil company. Mr. Tilford was active in the organization and management of the corporation for a number of years. His resignation, he says, is due to a desire to devote his entire time to his personal affairs. L. J. Drake, head of the company's marketing department, who has been connected with the company for many years, was elected a director to succeed Mr. Tilford.

SUPPLIES GONE; STRIKERS GIVE UP

Garment Workers of Chicago Will Go Back If Possible.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—Striking garment workers, weakened by desertions, gave up last night after struggling since Sept. 22, and sought terms on which they might return to work. Supplies have been nearly exhausted for some time.

The executive committee of the strikers met today and after a long discussion sent for Thomas A. Rickert, president of the United Garment Workers, and told him they could hold out no longer. Rickert then sent emissaries to the employers and a number of the firms agreed to take back their former employees without discrimination.

Senator James A. Hanson, chairman of the senate investigation committee, declared tonight that state investigation into the methods of the employers' association and the alleged blacklist would be continued.

POISONER RETRACTS.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 4.—Dr. Pantchenko, the self-styled poison expert, today in court retracted his confession that he had deliberately murdered Count Yussupoff at the instigation of the latter's brother-in-law, Count Orlov de Lasoy.

The accused physician asserted that he had been induced to make the admission of guilt by promises made him by the examining magistrate at the original inquiry.

SUPERIOR SAVED BY A CURTAIN

Asbestos Fire Curtain Given Severe Test in Superior Theater.

Stage Is Guttered While the Auditorium Is Barely Scorched.

For the first time in the theatrical history of the United States an asbestos curtain in a theater received a bath of fire and came out unscathed, after having been instrumental in saving the theater from destruction, when the Superior Grand opera house was damaged by fire early today to the extent of about $10,000.

The fire started about 1 o'clock this morning. The origin is unknown. Nearly every fire company in Superior responded to the alarm. The asbestos curtain was down and held the flames in check, preventing them sweeping into the auditorium, although some of the front seats were scorched. The theater business in this country when an asbestos fire curtain was subjected to a test, not premeditated, was in the tropics theater fire in Chicago when the curtain stuck while being dropped and proved useless.

The fire blazed fiercely on the stage and destroyed scenery and costumes owned by the Lillian Maxwell Stock company to the value of $2,500. Firemen subdued the blaze after three hours of hard fighting. The loss is covered by insurance.

The theater was gutted by fire April 12, 1909. The cost of rebuilding it was about $100,000. It is managed by C. A. Marshall of Duluth and is owned by the Superior Theater company of which Mr. Marshall is one of the leading members.

The Palace of Sweets, a confectionery store adjoining the theater, was damaged to a small extent by water. It will be impossible to reopen the theater for two or three months at least.

CUPID'S PLANS NEARLY UPSET

Duluth Pastor Turns Away Superior Couple Because of Wisconsin License.

Samuel Smith, aged 21, and Elizabeth Jane Pierce, just 18, who secured a marriage license from the Douglas county courthouse and came to Duluth to have Dr. M. S. Rice of the First Methodist church marry them, were sent back across the bay yesterday because the pastor announced that he could not marry a couple in Minnesota on a Wisconsin license.

The wedding party made arrangements to secure the hotel Superior parlors for the occasion, for the wedding took place at 10 o'clock yesterday evening. The ceremony was performed in time to catch the 11:06 car for Duluth, where an informal dinner was served.

Mr. Smith is a Superior young man and his bride a Duluth girl whose parents reside at Dexter, Minn.

GEN. CHRISTMAS AT PUERTO CORTEZ

Revolutionary Leader Takes Possession of Evacuated City.

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, Feb. 2, via wireless, New Orleans, Feb. 4.—Gen. Lee Christmas, the revolutionary military leader, arrived here today with part of his forces, to take over the administration of this city, evacuated several days ago by the government forces and held by the international troops pending the arrival of the revolutionists.

Christmas will remain in command at this place until the arrival of Former President Manuel Bonilla, leader of a movement against the Davila government.

The arrival of Gen. Christmas and his men was marked by a cordial demonstration on the part of the population.

All Over But the Shouting. Tula, Honduras, Feb. 4.—Gen. Lee Christmas, the American soldier of fortune who came here to break a lance for Former President Bonilla, and restore to his party the political control of Honduras, says that it is all over but the shouting.

"The revolution is won," he declared in an interview. "The evacuation of Puerto Cortez and San Pedro was better than a victory by attack. It shows that President Davila realizes the sentiment of the people."

"The last stand of the government forces will be at the capital. We can surround Tegucigalpa and starve them out. There need be no more bloodshed."

It is reported that the rebel gunboat

Hornet arrived at Puerto Cortez today with coal and supplies. The Honduran gunboat Tatumbla is at Belize, British Honduras.

The forces under the command of Christmas remain here, but the general has gone on to Puerto Cortez for a conference with American naval officers and possibly with representatives of the government. Christmas had embarked at Celba to attack Puerto Cortez when he learned of the evacuation. Bonilla is at Celba.

Puerto Cortez is the most important port on the Atlantic coast of Honduras.

HOW IS THAT SPINE OF YOURS?

Have you pain in your head, chest, lungs, shoulders kidneys, liver, muscles, back or limbs? Are you trying to get rid of the pain by dopping yourself with a stock of assorted drugs? If so, stop it. Drugs will not help you.

The trouble is this. There is a pressure on some nerve, caused by a misplacement of one or more vertebrae of your spine.

The remedy for your pain, illness, or disease, lies in the removal of that pressure on the nerves. I remove that pressure and in so doing your affliction eventually disappears, because the nerve pressure was the original cause of your pain, and I removed that cause, by readjusting the spine. Drugs cannot readjust a misplaced vertebrae, so I do not use drugs. They are useless, and harmful, and only add to the expense of getting cured.

Practically all disease is caused by misplaced vertebrae in the spine that pinch the nerves that lead to and from the brain and the bodily organs, and carry the life sustaining forces. A nerve that is pinched, ever so slightly, cuts off much of the life-giving force, and the organ to which this nerve is connected suffers in proportion.

A pinched nerve causes you to feel pain in the head, chest, lungs, shoulders, kidneys, liver, muscles, back or limbs and the sooner you remove that pressure the better it will be for you, for that is how the most terrible diseases begin—by small pressures.

Get rid of your pain by the intelligent chiropractic methods—without drugs and operations—as practiced so successfully and effectually in Duluth by Dr. Riesland at 707-708-709-710-711-712 Palladio Building. Call on him at once.

ORANGE WEEK!

FORTY-FIVE Carloads Coming—Are California's Finest—The "SUNKIST" Kind—ON SALE ALL NEXT WEEK!

Attractive Prices and Special Displays of "SUNKISTS" At All Dealers

Forty-five carloads of famous "Sunkist" oranges—more than 18,000 boxes—are speeding eastward by fast freight, direct from the orange groves of California.

They will be here, on sale at every dealer's next Monday morning. The sale will continue through the week. It will be the biggest affair of its kind in history.

Last year's "Sunkist" Orange Sale was such a huge success, and everybody bought so liberally, that your local dealers were simply swamped with business. They were hardly able to supply the demand. We therefore suggest that you place your order for "Sunkist" oranges as early next week as possible. Then you will be certain of being supplied.

Every orange in every box is sound, tree-ripened and hand-picked—the most luscious, healthful fruit on the market. For "Sunkist" oranges are California's choicest crop.

Five thousand orange growers select their choicest and pack them under the name "Sunkist." Thus every "Sunkist" orange is perfect—solid, sweet and full flavored.

In "Sunkist" wrappers you get tree-ripened, hand-picked oranges of the most acceptable variety. Every orange is picked by a gloved hand. They are shipped by fast freight, and always reach your table in prime condition. Being seedless, fibrous and thin-skinned, there is but very little waste. They are the most economical oranges you can buy. Each one is packed in a germ-proof tissue paper wrapper and bears the label "Sunkist."

All Physicians Advise Oranges

people to eat more oranges. We are a nation of meat eaters. And in winter, especially, the system gets clogged, causing congestion, colds, fevers, etc. Those who eat fresh wholesome fruit freely, seldom require medical treatment.

Serve Them for Breakfast and in Salads and Desserts

Oranges are the ideal breakfast fruit and "between meals" lunch. For salads, they are indispensable. Orange loaves, sherbets, puddings, etc., are very popular and delicious desserts.

"Sunkist" by the Box

"Sunkist" oranges reach you in such perfect condition, fresh from the orange groves, they will keep for weeks. Your dealer can make you a handsome saving if you order a box or half box. They are cheaper than table apples, and the greatest health food.

A Word About "Sunkist" Lemons

Fruit dealers at all times are supplied with "Sunkist" lemons. They are the same superior quality as "Sunkist" oranges. Never thick-skinned or pithy. "Sunkist" lemons are so juicy that two of them equal three of the commonplace kind. They, too, are packed in "Sunkist" wrappers.

By saving your "Sunkist" orange and lemon wrappers you can easily secure a full set of genuine Rogers orange spoons, dessert spoons and fruit knives. ### BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS IMPROVING

New York, Feb. 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Improving outlook in iron and steel. Greater interest in dry goods; larger dealings in hides and leather; generally excellent crop advices; an expanding market for bonds, facilitated by the continuing ease in money; the indications of an increasing American credit balance abroad, due in part to the better conditions in foreign commerce; and the action of the Union Pacific system in voting to spend $15,000,000 in the next few years in double tracking the road—these are signs of a forward movement which serve to inspire larger confidence among business men in all branches of trade and inquiry, in spite of the fact that the volume of transactions is still below the point of normal output.

Recent indications of improvement in iron and steel have become more pronounced, with the result that the future outlook is now viewed with increasing optimism. The tendency toward greater activity has thus far been confined chiefly to the finished material markets, yet signs are not lacking of some revival of demand for pig iron, although conditions in that division still make the least satisfactory showing. However, reports from Eastern territory suggest that buyers are displaying more interest, which partially offsets the complaints of quietness in other directions.

Export trade is still a prominent feature in the present factitious one, the order having just been placed for the shipment of 26,000 tons of rails to Mexico. Some fair sized mail orders are being received for boots and shoes, but in general business is not as good as when buyers were personally inspecting the market. The call for specialties is very active and indications are that the demand for goods made from cloth fabrics will continue unabated. Prices are firmly held and the new discounts demanded by the tanners of leather have occasioned many protests throughout shoe circles, with sales on a much more extensive scale than has previously been the case for a long period. In the dry goods markets competition for business is very keen and buyers are proceeding with deliberation. Concessions in favor of buyers have been made by foreign and domestic producers of dress goods and other lines, but the stimulating effect of close prices is not especially marked as yet. Jobbers are doing a steadily expanding business in domestic prints, ginghams and a few other staples.

Limitation of production continues, but distribution does not expand materially. Export trade is quiet, but the shipments for the week serve to bring the movement for January above that of the same month a year ago.

WILL NOT SUPPORT THE BOND ISSUE.

The Central Hillside Improvement club last evening passed resolutions opposing the proposed issuance of $300,000 of the water and light bond. Those present stated that they lacked confidence in the management of the department and that they didn't believe that the bonds were necessary. They thought that the earnings of the department should take care of extensions and improvements. A resolution was also passed endorsing the action of the St. Louis county delegation at St. Paul in favoring the bill which will give Duluth an opportunity to vote on a $700,000 bond issue with which to obtain a municipal electric light plant.

ANOTHER FIRE ON PARK POINT

Blaze Started From Overheated Stove in Smith Cottage.

Fire, supposed to have been started from an overheated iron tight stove, gutted the residence of V. H. Smith at 2409 Minnesota avenue, shortly after 1 o'clock last night. The walls and roof are still standing, but the interior, including the furniture, was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $500, without insurance. No one was in the house at the time. Mr. Smith was in the woodshed and was expected home today. In order to have it heated and comfortable, Mrs. Smith visited it yesterday and started the fire in the stove, after which she again left.

TRAINS BURIED IN SNOWDRIFTS

Towns and Villages in Canada Cut Off From Supplies.

Winnipeg, Feb. 4.—On all of the three great railway systems in Western Canada few trains are moving. Hundreds of passenger and freight trains being buried in snow drifts or at the mercy of dead locomotives. Many towns and villages of the interior are out of fuel, owing to the non-arrival of trains. Farmers have driven twenty miles only to return home empty handed. No train arrived here from Montreal for two days. Hundreds of men are engaged in digging out trains, but the wind is so strong and the cold so severe that little progress has been made. In Southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan, hundreds of miles of snow fences along the Canadian Pacific are buried out of sight.

ORPHEUM—Vandeville.
EMPIRE—Vandeville.
ODEUM and LYRIC—Photoplay.

AT THE LYCEUM

On Friday and Saturday evening next, with a Saturday matinee, William H. Turner is announced at the Lyceum in George Ade's bright comedy, "Father and the Boys." Not new to this city by any means, as it was played here last season by Mr. Crane. When the latter gave over playing "David Harum," a successor was sought, and William H. Turner was chosen and so well did he fit the part that for four weeks he continued to play it. When, therefore, Mr. Crane determined to relinquish the role of the wool merchant in "Father and the Boys," there was no question who was the one to take the place of the "Hilly" Turner, as he is familiarly known. So the owners of the play have sent it on tour this season with the Crane staging and scenic equipment just as Mr. Crane relinquished them early in the season and there is still William H. Turner in the place of Crane, and critics have justly said the character of "Lemuel Morewood" suffers not a bit in the transition from Crane to Turner.

Of the play, its brightness and satire, there is no need for comment. George Ade has made this play stand out as his best effort. There is much of wit in it. The old father, with his two sons, grown to manhood, who he tells that they may have a business future, only to find that the present is the best. The play is a life-long one caught by the glitter of society; the other led away with anticlericalism and "Father and the Boys" is pronounced as behind the age; an inconsequential play. The owners of the play, like proverbial worms, will turn and when the idea percolates through the old gentleman's mind that the boys are getting away from him, it is borne in upon him that he must not permit himself to follow the rapid procession of latter day young manhood but he must get in the lead with the "boys." Right well does he succeed, for he is just as energetic in the pursuit of pleasure as he has been active chasing the elusive dollar in business and in the home. "Father" takes into all manner of dissipation, the young man who is outstripped and it becomes necessary to "beat" the father, who such a little time before was being led by him on all sides with the statement that he was away behind the hand.

It is a merry play and it is said to have a thoroughly satisfactory interpretation at the hands of Mr. Turner and his supporting company, which numbers among its players the late Miss Edith Yeager, who will be seen as "Beale Braxton," the girl who got as "blue chip" every time she was good and went to Sunday school.

"Father and the Boys" is a play for tired, fagged out brains.

Olivia Vail of "Miss Nobody From Starland," doesn't believe in playacting. She says that the first night she was so when Mort H. Singer assigned to her the role of a Salvation Army lassie in the Princess theater musical production she straightway put her tam-bourine to rest and her arms and legs showed the stage on an opening night of a musical comedy production. One of the first trials in the Salvation Army girl who takes her place inside the stage entrance and the first to see the players as they come in. "Everybody will have a lot of stage money to fill the tambourine," said Mr. Singer when he told Miss Vail of the role. "Oh, no you don't," said the lassie, "actors and chorus girls in real life don't throw away bills like that. I'll make them put real money in the tambourine, and what's more, I'll keep the money and give it to the Salvation Army."

Miss Vail was true to her word. Ever since the first night she has been garnering pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters from members of the company. If they don't have it when they come onto the stage in the rehearsal scene, she chokes a debit up against them. In her mind, of course, and then makes it her business to make the collection later of the stage.

"When I get that man in an Army Salvation Army headquarters and turn it in. Then I'll start out to get another $50. It's fun to collect it, and the people in the company think it's a good joke to give, but it's going to do somebody a great deal of good for I am going to take that the spent on the most needy persons the Salvation Army officers can find in Chicago."

"Miss Nobody From Starland" will appear here on Feb. 17 and 18, at the Lyceum.

These are indeed busy days at the Lyceum theater. Every one in connection with the house, from the property boys to the scenic artists, is working day and night getting everything in readiness to welcome to Duluth, Willard Mack and Miss Maude Leone for an indefinite stock engagement beginning Feb. 12.

Word has been received from Mr. Mack that he is bringing to Duluth one of the best comedies he has ever had. Among the members of the company will be seen Miss Maude Adams Kinsadden, who is the mother of the famous Maude Adams and is well known in her line of work as her daughter.

Mr. Mack promises to give Duluth all the latest New York successes amongst which will be Brewster's "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," "The Talk of New York," "Girl of the Golden West," "Salome," and "Rose of the Rancho." A novel feature in connection with the Mack-Leone players in Duluth will be the fact that Mr. Mack requests all patrons to suggest the names of plays which they desire to see given by the Mack-Leone and he will be glad to have any one leave slips at the box office giving the names of three different plays they would like to see. These names will be looked over very carefully and the play receiving the majority votes will be given.

The first appearance of Mr. Mack and Miss Leone at the Lyceum will be five days commencing Sunday, Feb. 12 with popular priced matinees on Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday. The usual stock company prices will prevail during the engagement of the Mack-Leones.

"Madame X," the sensational emotional drama, which Henry W. Savage is soon to offer here, following record-returns its presentation has attracted both in Europe and America. Just as "The Merry Widow" established new high-water records of attendance in the field of light operas, "Madame X" is proving the most potent box-office magnet yet given to the dramatic stage, and it is asserted that Manager Savage's profits from Bisson's celebrated drama will be as great as the fortune earned by the famous Lehar opera.

Mary Manning, who will shortly appear here in "A Man's World," her greatest success, plays the part of a young writer, who having assumed the care of a little child left an orphan by the death of its mother—a young musical girl who is discarded in Paris—also goes further into the matter of helping unfortunate women by building degraded girls on the "East Side" after her return to New York. Until her meeting with Malcolm Gaskell, whom she truly loves, these have been her chief interests. However, on discovering that "Kiddie" her little adopted son is also his child, she remains true to the courage of her convictions and refuses to marry the man in the case.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The first of the two midwinter feature bills, will be presented at the Orpheum next week, the second one appearing the following week. These two bills are claimed to be much out of the ordinary run of Orpheum programs, and two special high priced feature acts have been engaged to head them off. Clifford and Burke will head one for the week following.

Sam Chip and Mary Marble do not need much introduction to the average playgoer. They have been seen in Duluth several times in musical comedies. They were featured in such musical productions as "Babes in Toyland," "Nancy Brown," "His Honor the Mayor" and "Wonderland" and there are no better known musical comedy stars in the country at the present time.

For their vaudeville appearance they have a little musical sketch called "In Old Edam," in which they are assisted by John W. Dunne. Two little sweethearts of Holland, who dwell with a cross uncle, are unable to wed because of their poverty. The little maiden is held by her uncle as a sort of ransom for a debt her father owed him. She has no heritage by an old Edam cheese. Growing hungry they finally cut the cheese and a shower of golden florins comes forth. The wonderful clock which "cuckoo" whenever an untruth is uttered, the many bright quips and the pretty dances make the act a very enjoyable one. Miss Marble's infectious laugh will be remembered here. She also has secured some elaborate costumes for the act, getting her ideas in Holland during a trip abroad last summer, and having the gowns made up in Paris. The act is a new one, and comes fresh from New York. It opened on Orpheum time at the Majestic theater in Chicago two weeks ago, and created a genuine sensation there. It was one of the most talked of acts of the season, and made the week one of the biggest in the history of the theater.

Second on the bill will be Clifford and Burke, who are the best known comedians. The Orpheum theater has seen several good blackface comedians this season, and all of them have proved the biggest hits on the bills on which they have appeared.

lets his wife to attend the games and talk over the play later in the evening at the club. His wife evolves a scheme to cure him of the habit and this scheme provides the fun making alone. Clifford and Burke have frequently been compared to Williams and Walker, the famous colored comedians. This is their third tour of the circuit, which is pretty good evidence of their popularity.

Third on the bill will be Binns, Binns and Binns. Jack Binns, his son, Joe, and his nephew, Frank, complete this trio. They are billed as "The Musical Vagabonds," and the name of the act suggests its character. One member of the trio appears as a kind of hobo King Edward, the second as a footman, and the third as a musical genius. The scene of the act is laid in a fashionable apartment in London, and it is said to be the biggest comedy hits on the circuit.

Next in importance comes Miss Alcide Capitaine, who has been called "The Queen of the Air," "The Perfect Gymnast" and "The Female Sandow." The New York Herald in a recent issue, made the following comment on the act of "El Capitaine":

"The blonde New Yorker, sufficed with the alluringly suggestive visions of feminine loveliness in the theaters may now turn her admiring glances toward a dark-haired girl who unites strength with grace, who does the most wonderful gymnastic feats with the greatest possible ease and who takes evident delight in her perilous mid-air evolutions."

"Miss Alcide Capitaine from the Empire theater, London, the 'Queen of the Air,' is the rather pompous announcement of the Colonial theater program. It would perhaps suggest more nearly the actual facts to the average playgoer to call her the female Sandow, and to paraphrase the strong man's claim by adding, 'The Perfect Woman.'"

"Capitaine's act is not at all like that of Sandow. His exhibitions of strength are made on the level stage; hers are made far above, on the flying trapeze."

"Baseballitis" is the name of a little comedy sketch by the late Victor Smalley, which should make a hit with every baseball fan. It tells the story of a baseball fanatic who goes to that theater. The sketch is being presented by Gardner and Vincent and a talented company. Gardner and Vincent will be favorably remembered as the stars in "The Goddess of Liberty" and "The Goddess of Love." These three dancers, Alexander Volnien, Lydia Lapokawa and Theodore Lapokawa, are from the Imperial Russian ballet of St. Petersburg, the same ballet that sent Mordkin and Pavlov to America. A special musical director and special scenic effects are carried with the act, which is the highest priced act on the Orpheum circuit, and the most widely advertised feature.

AT THE EMPRESS

Gardner and Vincent and their company will make their first appearance in Duluth in their newest vaudeville attraction, "Winning a Queen," which will be the feature attraction for next week with several others on the bill a close second. In Gardner and Vincent, the public will see two artists who possess to a large degree the infatigable comedy talent and originality of the late Victor Smalley, who has made them famous the world over as a headline vaudeville attraction. Their present sketch shows both Mr. Gardner and Miss Vincent at their best. A special musical director and special scenic effects are carried with the act, which is the highest priced act on the Orpheum circuit, and the most widely advertised feature.

"The Walking Delegate," a labor play of great merit, will be presented by Harry Booker and company. As intimated by its title, this sketch is a sizzling comedy without a breath of clever and life-like manner and is a happy blending of farce and melodrama. Mr. Booker is seen as the hood carrier and in this role he displays his pure Celtic wit. The story is full of pathos and real humor and is realistic in the extreme and the characters and situations are so life-like that one can almost feel the pulse of the actors' hearts. The Irishman's natural craving for liberty and although there is much pathos there is a thread of humor running through the entire piece that causes considerable laughter. In fact, it is one of those clever offerings that place one on the verge of tears in one moment and roars of laughter the next. Mr. Hoover has created a clever role and presents the plot in a truly artistic manner, it is claimed.

Irvin R. Walton, who has been principal comedian with several musical comedies, and Alice Vivian, who has played leading soubrette parts in England and America, will present a condensed musical comedy entitled, "The Actor and the Girl," a skit full of humor, funny situations, songs, imitations, clever dances, that are claimed to be a sure cure for the blues. The skit is a musical farce and unlike a majority of sketches, it has a defined plot that is well sustained throughout. Miss Vivian portrays the character of an actress who wishes to enter vaudeville. Immediately upon her arrival at home, she is taken to a theatrical agent for an "all around" look. Mr. Walton, who is the actor, arrives and then the fun begins. He specifies his ability to her by impersonating different characters. One in particular is "The Rub with the Laugh," which to the audience is a laugh and a contagious one. They agree upon terms and finally she discovers that he is her "soul-mate." Instead of that beat as one. During the skit, Miss Vivian uses her excellent voice effectively and Mr. Walton amuses them with his grotesque dances and creates no end of laughter with his eccentricities. England has contributed many gymnastic sensations to the American stage, but a more amazing gymnastic than the Three Leightons, a trio of artists who perform many amazing feats on revolving globes and their acrobatic feats are spectacular and thrilling as has been the record of fear. The limit of power and endurance has been reached by those remarkable people and the audience is left with the Empire theater, London, recently finished a six months' run.

The extra added feature of the week, which is for laughing purposes only is the "fantastic" fun-making novelty, which will be presented by H. T. McConnell, president of the "13" club. Mr. McConnell is a really clever monologist and his offering is full of new surprises in humor. He has created a screamingly laughable diversion and it is brimful of comical songs and dialogue," says a Milwaukee critic. "The finish of his act is a complete surprise and is a particular laughing feature that will be talked about and laughed over for many weeks." Mr. McConnell has only recently completed an engagement over the Keith & Proctor circuit, where he was the hit of the bill in every city. At Philadelphia, Mr. McConnell played for three weeks at Keith's theater, being kept there by popular demand. It was in this city that he closed with Keith & Proctor and immediately every booking agent in New York began bidding for his act. Chris O. Brown, Sullivan & Considine's New York agent, was the successful bidder and booked Mr. McConnell for an engagement of forty-six weeks over that circuit.

The moving pictures for the week will be of the highest class and will be a feature in themselves and will close a show which is fully up to the standard and of the Saturday matinee road shows. A matinee is given daily at 2:45 and evening performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved one week in advance by either telephone. A special school children's matinee is given every Saturday at 2:30, when all scholars under 14 years of age are admitted for 5 cents. Special attention is paid to the comfort and amusement of ladies and children at all times.

Mr. Cundance has been busy for several days with orchestration, which is no small task, and up-to-date arrangements are assured.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Unless the American Play company appears in ten days in the United States circuit court to answer the complaint of Mrs. Susan H. Mansfield, widow of Richard Mansfield, who is suing them for $2,500 for royalties from the play "Beau Brummel," the company will have to pay the sum mentioned.

Mrs. Mansfield alleges that on August 7, 1908, she entered into a contract with the American Play company whereby she turned over to them for two years the manuscript and dramatic rights of "Beau Brummel," beginning Oct. 1, 1908, in consideration of royalties amounting to at least $10,000. She asserts that only $12,125.25 has been paid over.

Otis Skinner will soon appear in a curtain raiser by his daughter, Miss Cornelia Skinner, who is 11 years old. This young woman today handled Charles Frohman her manuscript, with the remark that it was safe to take because it had a strong interest and a typical Otis Skinner part. It is described as a romantic fantasy with five characters, and the scene is laid before a castle at the edge of a forest. After a few necessary changes it will be used as a curtain raiser to "The Count of Luna." In which Mr. Skinner is now starring.

Gertrude Hoffmann will play at Hammerstein's Victoria theater this week, and it will be her last appearance on Broadway in vaudeville. Miss Hoffmann has been playing in vaudeville for three years, much of this time being in Broadway houses.

In a sketch by Edmund Day entitled "The Whirlwind" H. J. Kilpatrick, Kt., will soon make his debut in vaudeville. His new offering is divided into three scenes, one of which shows a race between a motor car and a train. Ned Veyburn has been engaged to stage the production.

Lee Arthur's new play, "The Fox," has been produced at Los Angeles with considerable success.

Miss Ethel Le Roy de Koven, daughter of Reginald de Koven, the composer, has been married to the wife of Hans K. Hudson, a young banker.

Miss Josephine Preston Peabody, author of "The Piper," the Stratford prize play which is to receive its first American presentation at the New theater, has come to New York from her home in Cambridge, Mass., to be present at the rehearsals. In private life Miss Peabody is the wife of Prof. Lionel Marks.

Director Ames paid Miss Ellen Terry a graceful tribute when in presenting to her on behalf of the founders of the New theater, New York, recently, a gold medal in recognition of her distinguished services to dramatic art, he said:

"I think Shakespeare imagined you when he made Beatrice say, 'Then there was a star danced, and under that was I born.'"

By way of South America, Paris has imported a new dance which apparently is destined to become extremely popular. It is called the "Argentine Tango," its rhythm is described as a cakewalk played adagio. There is a combination in it of syncopation with a slow, languorous melody that is particularly fascinating. French society is reported to be "going wild" over it.

For the character of King Love in "Everywoman," Henry W. Savage has engaged Edward Mackay. Mackay is the youngest son of the veteran F. F. Mackay.

Three actions at law are pending between the Messrs. Shubert and David Belasco. Two are brought against Belasco by the Shuberts and the other is by Belasco against the Washington Theater company, which operates the Belasco theater in Washington, and in which Lee Shubert and Belasco are the principal stockholders.

The first suit is for $350,000 on the charge that Belasco, by misrepresentation, obtained bookings with the Shuberts at higher terms than he was entitled to. The second suit is to secure $100,000 as damages from Belasco for placing Blanche Bates under the management of Fred Belasco of San Francisco, and booking her in syndicate houses, thereby violating his agreement to present all his attractions during a certain period only in Shubert theaters.

Belasco's suit against the Washington Theater company asks to have set aside a contract entered into by that concern and the Sam S. Shubert Booking agency, by terms of which the latter is to furnish attractions for the Belasco theater in Washington for a term of five years, beginning on Oct. 23 last.

For the first time on any stage "Disraeli," a new play, by Louis N. Parker, author of "Pomander Walk," was performed at Montreal last Monday, with George Arliss starred in the titular roles.

Elsie Leslie, Margaret Dale, Alexander Calvert, Courtenay Foote and a number of other well-known English and American players appeared in Mr. Arliss' support. Liebler & Co. made the production, and the play was staged under the personal direction of Mr. Parker.

William Faversham has concluded arrangements with E. Lyle Swete, director of the Haymarket theater, London, for the presentation of Edward Knoblauch's comedy, "The Faun," at his playhouse next April.

It was left to Mr. Faversham's discretion as to whether it would be best to bring over the American company or engage a special English cast for the presentation of the comedy. Mr. Knoblauch, the author of "The Faun," who is now in this country, insisted that Mr. Faversham make use of the organization that is appearing with him at Daly's theater, it being his opinion that Mr. Faversham would not be able to duplicate the cast in London.

George Alexander is busy with rehearsals of "Bella Donna," the new drama which James B. Fagan has made from Robert Hitchens' novel. Mr. Fagan keeps very closely to the story in the novel, but while Bella Donna's husband keeps very closely to the story, the play is mainly concerned with the lady's attempt to poison her husband and the doctor's fight for his friend's life. The play is a duel between Bella Donna and the surgeon.

Frank J. McIntyre, who plays Bob Blake in James Forbes' comedy success, "The Travelling Salesman," contributes the following story:

"A man coming out of a New York theater was addressed by a friend, who said: 'What sort of a house have they got in there tonight?' They will all leave in a hansom cab," was the reply."

An advance agent for a show on tour put up a desperate fight with a local manager on his free list. "Look here," said the agent, "I will not stand for a single pass during our engagement here. We pay for our advertising, we carry all our properties, and you will run the advance sale of tickets here at the box office, so there will be no necessity for your giving out any passes." After a three-hour argument, he wore out the local manager, who finally said: "All right, have it your own way, but you will get the worst of it. You will play here and not have an audience."

A well-known star playing a Western city was not being received by as large houses as he expected, and grew very petulant. He unloosed his choir in a barroom, and some wag, who was standing near, went out and inserted a card in a local paper, which read as follows: "If no one buys any tickets to my show tonight, I will not play," and signed it with the star's name.

"I played Fredericksburg, Va., once in my life," said Frank J. McIntyre, "and I had an experience at a hotel there that I shall never forget. We had been traveling on the train all day and got into town at 3 o'clock. I went up to the hotel and registered, and asked for a room. The man behind the desk said: 'You will have to wait for Charlie. He's the rooming clerk, and I will have to leave this for him.' 'Where is Charlie?' asked McIntyre. 'He is asleep,' was the answer. 'He was to a ball last night, and I don't want to wake him up.'"

Liebler & Company have completed the cast of "The Redemption of Evelyn Vaudray," the Henri Bernstein-Louis N. Parker play in which Olga Nether-wards will appear shortly. Walter Edwards will be seen as Paul L'auray, the practical husband of the dream- ing Evelyn; Franklyn Roberts will play Philip Lagarde, the poet whose sympathy for the not-understood wife leads to a more serious intimacy; Mrs. Samuel Southern will be Germaine Silvestre, whose adoration for the poet causes him to neglect the erring Evelyn; Mau Hosford will have the role of the stern Rosa, sister-in-law of Evelyn and consistent critic of that young woman's career. Joe Wallace, a talented little juvenile, will play Louis, the son of Evelyn and Paul. Others in the company are: Charles Howell, Mrs. George Barnum and Nellie Malcolm.

Henry Miller, whose new play, "The Havoc," has just scored a big hit at the Bijou theater in New York, has been telling the New York newspapers what he thinks about untried dramatists. "After reading over many manuscripts what are your impressions regarding the rising young dramatic authors?" Mr. Miller was asked. "In selecting a play of the present day, the actor-manager reined. 'I have a tremor of delight when I find the author can spell correctly. The next consideration, if the author has an idea, is whether, according to my judgment, he has put it down in dramatic form. I usually tell by the first act whether a writer has elementary knowledge of dramatic authorship. No play of the present day seldom gets beyond that. Mr. Miller, by the way, is something of an expert on rising young dramatists. 'The Great Divide,' 'The Servant in the House' and now 'The Havoc' are their authors' first plays."

Electricity Is the Great Emancipator of Drudgery in the Modern Home

There is no reason why women should not seek labor-saving devices for their home work, when their husbands are doing so in their work!

In nearly every department of home building we can find an electrical device that was made and designed to do some work quicker and better than it was done before.

The Kitchen

need no longer be a place of dirt, smoke, grease, grime, smell, disorder and heat. The kitchen, with the reign of electricity, advances to the status of a neat laboratory and relieves cookery of half its worries and turns it into a neat handed pleasure. Every women's kitchen is, during the major portion of the day, both her workroom and sitting room. Alert women of today feel an absorbing concern for these newest electrical helps, such as Electric Cookers, Ovens, Stoves and Toasters, that make the preparation of the daily meals so easy, so comfortable, so convenient; and they are buying them one by one as they can afford them.

Cooking!

In this day of electricity one can prepare complete meals by such cooking utensils as combination cookers, tea kettles, percolators, chafing dishes, stoves, frying pans, grids and broilers, ovens, toasters, each and every one doing the work silently, cleanly, quickly, by electricity. The day is not far distant when electricity will be universally used in all kitchens in the preparation of food. They are, above all else, sanitary. They eliminate dirt, grease, odors. Each device does its work the instant you need it, and are thus time savers.

Heating!

Here again many steps be saved in the heating of the home. There are no ashes to be carried out, and no dirt to be cleaned up. There is no bother about getting up in the wee small hours to prepare the furnace fires so that they will begin to heat when you want heat. The electric radiators and heaters begin to heat the instant they are turned on. Thus do they too, save time and labor.

There is no danger either of fires, explosions, gases, or smoke when homes are electrically heated.

Cleaning!

The housekeepers of today do not need to clean house "the way mother did." That was hard drudgery. Today there are the electric vacuum cleaners that do real cleaning so easily and without exertion. They do not transfer the dirt, they actually remove it. They get out all dirt, dust, grit, moth eggs, vermin, etc., from every nook, cranny and corner of the room, curtains and draperies.

Electrically wired houses have these great devices at their service without extra trouble, and all builders of homes should see to it that their houses are wired.

Lighting!

What other lighting can compare with the soft, mellow, steady glow of electric light? For reading purposes and general home lighting it is undoubtedly the best light. It is also the cheapest when the great Mazda-Tungsten lights are used, for they give more than twice the light that ordinary lights give. It is the safest light in the home where there are children. No need to feel alarmed of matches or fires.

To wire the home for electric lights makes the way easy for the use of all labor saving devices mentioned above. Call on us, and let us figure with you on the wiring of your house.

NORTHERN LAKES OFFER SUMMER RESORT SITES

Land Dealers Preparing to Advertise State From This Standpoint.

Will Go After the Man Looking for a Summer Home.

While the farm land dealers of Duluth are busy interesting actual settlers in lands in Northeastern Minnesota and demonstrating the agricultural possibilities of the soil with a view to attracting settlers and aiding development, this year, they are not neglecting the summer resort possibilities of the land bordering on the numerous lakes and streams in St. Louis county. That branch of the land business has never been given proper attention by Duluth dealers, but now some of them are awakening to the business opportunities offered by dealing in such lands and they are preparing for a vigorous campaign during the next two or three months.

Possibly in no section of the United States can more beautiful summer home sites be found than in the northeastern part of Minnesota. Hundreds of lakes, large and small, may be found all through the woods of this section of the state. Hundreds of rivers course through the land and empty into the small inland lakes or into Lake Superior. Except for such tracts as have been stripped of their large timber and are now covered with thick second-growth timber, the natural beauty of the land along the shores of rivers and lakes has not been marred by the hand of man.

The man who is looking for a summer home in the midst of nature's most beautiful work, far from the clutter and dust and worry of the city can find hundreds of beauty spots in Northern Minnesota, rich in natural beauty, easy of access, cooled by the refreshing breezes from Lake Superior, offering ready opportunities for the enjoyment of summer sports of all kinds and of summer quiet.

Intent on agricultural development and the sale of land to people who will utilize it with that end in view, the land dealers of Duluth have neglected the opportunity of making sales to people who will preserve the natural beauty of the land along the shores of lakes and rivers. While agricultural development is to be desired more than anything else in Northern Minnesota, the preservation of some of the beauty of the Northern woods is also to be desired and land dealers are beginning to see the fact and the opportunities for business deals in working it out.

Summer Homes.
There are many beautiful summer homes scattered through the woods of St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties. Many Duluth people send their families to the woods for the summer each year. The lakes offer opportunities for boating and swimming, while lakes and streams abound in fish for the ardent fisherman, who makes a week-end trip to his summer home.

Quite a number of people from outside of Duluth have already selected summer homes in the vicinity of this city purely on their own initiative, without the arguments which the land dealer can bring to bear being submitted to them. If the land dealers had been active in that class of business, many beautiful tracts, which have been given over to farmers for clearing and cultivation, would have been saved in their natural state and the farmer could have moved inland, where the soil would be as good as his work would accomplish as much and where his property would appreciate as much in value through his improvements.

Duluth land dealers are preparing to advertise Northern Minnesota as a summer resort. They will send to other cities matter showing the exceptional climatic conditions, the natural beauty of the woods, lakes and streams, the ease with which summer homes may be obtained, the good transportation facilities all through this section and it is expected that next spring will see many new summer homes erected and the summer will bring many visitors to Duluth, en route to their summer homes.

One Duluth dealer with foresight, has purchased a large tract of land on the shore of one of the lakes in the northern part of the county and has divided it into substantial tracts for the foundation of a summer colony. The lake is large, the tracts are large enough to insure a certain amount of seclusion for each family who he has already found ready sale for his tracts. Others will follow the same course, while some will endeavor to sell islands and larger tracts, some enclosing lakes, so that the purchaser will have complete seclusion.

COMFORTABLE HOME FOR SITE ON SLOPE FACING THE LAKE WOULD COST $17,000

The above sketch is suitable for a site on the southern slope of a hill with the most interesting view towards the south. The main entrance is from the street on the north side of the site; a view of this is shown in the above sketch, and is interesting account of the emphasis that is given to the long, low effect of the house, which shows a careful study of the building in its relation to the site. The roof is brought low over the wardrobe closets on the second floor to obtain the above result, which is unique in its composition.

terraced along the front of the slope of the ground is utilized to give a more formal and dignified appearance to the front of this elevation. The internal arrangement is planned in a spacious manner, but with due economy in convenience. The first floor shows a hall with coat closet and toilet, living room, dining room, breakfast room, library, kitchen, china pantry, entry and back porch. A back staircase is shown from the kitchen to the servants' rooms on the second floor. It will be seen how perfect is the arrangement on this floor. The china pantry is arranged between the breakfast room and the kitchen and the same pantry is between the dining room and the kitchen. The breakfast room is placed to receive the early morning sun. The second floor shows five large bedrooms, each with a separate bathroom and closets, and the owner's bedroom has a large dressing room. The first floor rooms will be finished in hardwood, and the second floor in white enamel; library floor in oak. The remainder in maple. The above house will cost, inclusive of plumbing and heating the sum of $17,000 in Duluth or vicinity.

Why Not Own Your Home?

WE WILL LEND YOU THE MONEY AT 5% SIMPLE INTEREST

Money invested in house rent receipts is a poor investment, and one that you will never derive any future benefits from. Anybody can pay rent, but it takes energy, economy and determination to own a home. We will lend you the money to buy, build, improve homes or lift mortgages anywhere in the Union. For each $1,000.00 borrowed, you pay us $7.50 per month, together with 5 per cent interest on yearly balances; giving you 10 1/2 years in which to repay loan, with the privilege of taking up all notes or as many as you wish at any time, and by so doing you would get a discount of the 5 per cent interest on all notes taken up before maturity. We allow six months' grace in case of adverse circumstances. Now why do you pay rent when our plan will enable you to own a home with the money you spend for rent?

On receipt of this coupon, properly filled out, we will mail you full particulars in regard to our method of loaning money, or, better still, come to our office and let us explain to you our liberal proposition in detail.

WHEAT IS OVERSOLD

Market Advances But Declines Slightly Toward the Close.

Warmer Weather and Precipitation Predicted for Southwest—Flax Dull.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 4.—Wheat was oversold and values advanced slightly today in a dull market. The undertone was helped by the higher cables and the reported sale of a large lot of No. 2 red winter wheat at Chicago to foreigners. The continued sale of wheat from Duluth and Chicago City emphasized the fact that the market is again one of the highest in the country, while the southwestern markets have lost their bullish values and have gone on a more legitimate basis.

Russian shipments will be smaller this week and the world's movement is expected to be light. France was an active inquirer for winter wheat. The Argentine republic continues to offer wheat freely.

There has been some rain in parts of Argentina and the weather is cloudy over much of the republic. There has been a general fall of snow in Romania and the outlook for the crops is more favorable. Arrivals at ports are small and stocks are decreasing.

Warmer weather with possible rain or snow is predicted for Kansas and Nebraska and this caused some realizing toward the close which depressed values. The Chicago buying today was by belated pit shorts in the leading markets. The market did not show many features and the day's activity was small.

Overseas receipts showed a sharp falling off and this fact contributed to the firmness of the market. The cash demand was slow and business was dull.

May wheat gained 1/4¢ and July advanced 1/4¢. Cash was 1 1/2¢ under May. Oats showed a change and durum wheat gained 1/4¢. Barley was unchanged. Flax was fifteen. May lost 1/4¢, closing at $2.66.

SHOW HOUSE IS ENTERED

Burglars Get $670 in Bills and Coin at Savoy Theater.

Entrance Evidently Made By Means of Duplicate Key.

H. C. Hatfield, manager of the Savoy theater, reported to the police yesterday that the show house had been robbed of $670 some time between the closing hour Saturday night and early this morning.

The money is said to have consisted of $500 in bills, which had been drawn from a local bank Saturday morning and the day's receipts. Hatfield explained that the place was closed in a small leather grip which he had locked in a steel box in the moving picture machine room.

When two of the ushers came around to put the place in order, they found the satchel lying in the aisle with a large slash cut in the side. They reported the matter to the manager, who told the police of the occurrence. It was claimed that the robbery was committed by some one familiar with the place as well as the manager's habits. The doors showed no signs of being tampered with and it seems that entrance must have been gained by means of a duplicate key.

R. L. McCORMICK DIES IN WEST

Was Former Grand Commander of Knights Templar of Minnesota.

Word reached Duluth yesterday of the death of R. L. McCormick, former Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of Minnesota and one of the best known lumbermen of the West, in California yesterday morning. The news was conveyed by telegram to A. D. Goodman of the Duluth Universal Mill company from Mrs. McCormick, his sister.

McCormick has resided in Tacoma the last eight years. At the time of his death he was secretary of the Western Lumber Association and at that city and president of the Pacific National Bank, being rated as several times a millionaire. Prior to his death he was a candidate for the United States Senate, but later withdrew because of failing health. He was 62 years of age. Besides his wife he is survived by two sons, Robert Allen and William Laird McCormick.

ASSAULT VICTIM IS RECOVERING

Altonen Will Lose Part of One Foot—Broman Is Charged With Crime.

Hjalmer Altonen, the man who was assaulted and robbed at the foot of Thirteenth avenue east and the Iron Range tracks Wednesday night, after the next morning he was discharged from the hospital, is slowly improving and is expected to be home in a few days. He is being held at the county jail, on a charge of robbery in the first degree, awaiting an examination in police court. The police believe that he is guilty of the assault and robbery and have gathered considerable evidence to substantiate the claim, including the fact that Emerson in 1901 and for some years known to have been about penniless when he went to the woods with Altonen last month.

Dr. Robert Graham, who is attending him, stated that part of one foot, which was frozen, will have to be amputated. It is not thought that the skull was fractured, although he was severely hurt by several vicious blows on the head.

William Broman, Altonen's partner, who was walking to the city with him, is being held at the county jail, on a charge of robbery in the first degree, awaiting an examination in police court. ## LAKE ICE IS DANGEROUS

Many Open Spaces and Sheets of Thin Ice Are Menace.

Ice Boaters and Skaters Are Warned to Stay in the Bay.

Beware of the ice on the lake. That is the warning given out by those who have watched the ice forming, and who have examined the sheet that at present covers this end of the lake.

The ice is now thick enough in places to bear an ice boat, but there has never been a more treacherous ice on the Duluth harbor than the present one. There are spots of open water and thin ice where the ice is little more than a film.

It is feared that the smooth surface will attract skaters and ice boaters to the lake today and tomorrow, and there is great danger of accidents unless extreme care is taken.

AGED INDIANS NEED ASSISTANCE

Government Wards Suffer From Cold and Lack of Provisions.

Aged Indians on the Bois Fort reservations need immediate assistance or some of them will die of cold or starvation, according to William Orr of Orr, near Pelican lake. Mr. Orr says the government must take steps to relieve the condition of the aged Indians or some of its wards will die.

Some of the aged Indians are too feeble to help themselves and the young people neglect them, said Mr. Orr. The snow is deeper than it has been for years and the cold has been intense. The old men and women cannot go out to get wood and provisions and some of them will be found dead in their cabins unless the government takes care of them.

Mr. Orr said that Peter Drift and his family, both over 20 years old, were found in their cabin without fuel or provisions after last snowstorm. If Mr. Orr had not taken care of them, they would have died. He said that the government must take care of the old Indians and it should be turned over to them.

EDWARD HINES HAS SAD STORY

Awful Disaster Threatens the Lumber Trade From Canadian Reciprocity.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The National Lumber Manufacturers Association of the United States, through their president, Edward Hines, protested to the ways and means committee of the house Saturday against the Canadian Lumber Reciprocity bill.

Hines told an awful tale of the disaster that would befall the lumber trade if the bill were passed. He said that the lumber trade in the United States is worth $1,000,000,000 a year and that the Canadian trade is worth $2,000,000,000 a year. He said that the Canadian trade is worth $2,000,000,000 a year and that the Canadian trade is worth $2,000,000,000 a year.

Great Sale of Elyria Laces

The Yard 5c, or 12 Yards for 50c

That We Have Been Selling Elyria Lace for the Past Two Years

The 1911 spring line has been on display for four weeks or more. This will cover the claim as to the confined sale of our competitor.

Now as to the great hurrah claim as to price, we have this to say: The manufacturers, while not specifying by any agreement at what price to sell these laces, have put the selling price on certain special lines of theirs at 5c a yard or 60c per dozen.

Our competitors, with great generosity, in their flourishing advertisement of yesterday, cut the price 3c on a dozen yards, making them 57c a dozen, instead of 60c. To save this 3c you must buy a dozen yards whether you need or not.

You Can Buy Elyria Laces Here at 5c the Yard in Any Quantity at Any Time

Tomorrow we will make a special price by the dozen at 50c. If our competitors think of lowering the price below this, why we are prepared to meet them in this or any other direction.

Most Every Pattern Made in This Lace Is Here for Your Choosing.

ing into Juarez with his forces, the Insurrectos, will have their work cut out for them, for Navarro's men are veterans, seasoned by hard campaigning. Indeed, Mexican officials are now confident that the city protected by 200 soldiers is safe from assault and that the campaign of the young revolutionist leader will soon end in his defeat and the scattering of his followers.

Alas! this, however, is prefaced on the belief that Gen. Navarro will succeed in reaching the Rio Grande with his troops. Had Orozco succeeded yesterday in holding Babago's reinforcements, the situation would have been different.

Rebargo Enters Juarez.
El Paso, Tex., Feb. 6.—Two machine guns, a light battery and a company of infantry, together with a small mountain howitzer have been put in position and manned for the additional defense of Juarez. Scouting parties are making cautious excursions of the country around Juarez. It is known Orozco is within less than four miles of the city.

At Babago and his command of 300 Insurrectos entered the city of Juarez at 9:15 o'clock last night unopposed by the Insurrecto forces and were received with joyful acclaim by the people of the city.

The net result of a battle at Baucha yesterday was the capture of Juarez. There were two killed and five wounded among the Insurrectos. The federal forces, however, were not seriously hurt.

The colonies for the first time were represented by the colonial agents general, Lord Strathcona, high commissioner for Canada, was present in this capacity, and with him were the representatives from Africa, Australia and New Zealand. Other diplomats, including others of the American embassy, occupied places in the royal gallery. The women were seated in the front of the gallery.

King's Speech Collected.
The king's speech from the throne was brief and colorless. It opened with a filial reference to the death of King George, and then referred to the various foreign affairs in a mention of the fact that negotiations had been opened with Japan for a new commercial treaty and an allusion to the friction in Persia over the disturbance of the Persian routes. Casual expression of interest in the approaching imperial conference was made.

Only two proposed legislative measures were mentioned specifically. "For Bowel Troubles" all who are afflicted with Bowel Troubles, go to Loughney's. Loughney's if you want to be cured.

I wish to advise all who are afflicted with Rheumatism and Stomach or Bowel Troubles to go to Loughney's. Loughney's if you want to be cured.

Their ovens baked all the Rheumatism out of me in just a few treatments. They are performing some marvelous cures. I have seen people carried into their offices and the same people walk out after a single treatment, surprised at the marvelous results. I am well pleased with the treatment and will always advise it strongly for those suffering from rheumatism. They have finely equipped offices and do an enormous business. I have suffered for eight years with rheumatism. Part of the time I have been bedridden. I had tried all kinds of springs and cures but without results. I have also been troubled with my stomach and bowels and I want to say to my friends and all who are afflicted as I was, that I received instant and permanent relief in the Bake Oven, and I'll gladly vouch for the above. entertainments of exceptionally high order. The two dramatic recitals,

INCREASE IS HEAVY

Census Bureau Issues Report on North Dakota Manufactures.

Capital Invested Is $11,594,000, Showing Gain of 103 Per Cent.

Washington, Feb. 6.—A preliminary statement of the general results of the census of manufactures for the state of North Dakota was issued today by Census Director Durnell. It consists of a summary comparing the figures for 1904 and 1909 by state totals, prepared under the direction of William M. Tolson, chief statistician for manufactures, bureau of the census.

Steam laundries are given a separate presentation because the thirteen census was the first in which they were included. There are no statistics for prior censuses with which these totals can be compared. The figures are preliminary and subject to such change and correction as may be found necessary from a further examination of the original reports.

The thirteen census, like that of 1904 with reference to manufactures, differs from the twelve census in 1909, in that the two latter censuses excluded the hand trades, and the neighborhood industries, and took account only of establishments conducted under the factory system. In the last census also, as in that for 1904, statistics were not collected for establishments having products for the census year of a value less than $500.

The word "establishment" as used in the thirteen census may mean more than one mill or plant, provided they are owned or controlled and operated by a single individual, partnership, corporation, or other owner or operator, and are located in the same town or city.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I crumpled and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."

—Mrs. DEXA BRITTON, Sikeston, Mo.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

ated by a single individual, partnership, corporation, or other owner or operator, and are located in the same town or city.

The reports were taken for the calendar year ending Dec. 31, 1909, wherever the system of bookkeeping permitted figures to be secured for that period, but where the fiscal year of an establishment differed from the calendar year a report was obtained for the operations of that establishment for its fiscal year falling most largely within the calendar year 1909.

The per cent of increase.

The summary for the state shows a considerable increase at the census of 1909 as compared with that for 1904, in the order of their importance, from a percentage standpoint, as follows:

Miscellaneous expenses, 155 per cent; number of salaried officials and clerks, 115 per cent; capital, 103 per cent; cost of materials used, 93 per cent; salaries and wages, 88 per cent; value of products, 87 per cent; value added by manufacture of wage-earners employed during the year, 59 per cent; and number of establishments, 49 per cent.

There were 753 manufacturing establishments in 1909, and 507 in 1904, an increase of 246, or 48 per cent.

The capital invested as reported in 1909 was $11,594,000, a gain of $5,890,000 or 103 per cent, over $5,704,000 in 1904. The average capital per establishment was approximately $15,000 in 1909, and $11,000 in 1904.

In this connection it should be stated that the inquiry contained in the census schedule calls for the total amount of capital, both owned and borrowed and invested in the business, but excludes the value of rented property, plant, or equipment which was employed in the conduct of manufacturing enterprises.

In the final bulletins and reports the value of such property will be shown separately.

The cost of materials used in 1909 was $18,784,000, as against $7,096,000 in 1904, an increase of $11,688,000, or 165 per cent. The average per cent increase in 1909 was approximately 118,000, and in 1904, $14,000. In addition to the component materials which enter into the products of the establishments for the census year, there is included fuel, rent of power and heat, and mill supplies. The cost of materials, however, does not include unmanufactured materials and supplies bought either for speculation or for use during a subsequent period.

The value of products in 1909 was $19,150,000, and $10,218,000 in 1904, an increase of $8,932,000, or 87 per cent. The average per establishment was approximately $25,000 in 1909, and in 1904 it was about $20,000.

The value of products represents their selling value or price value. The plants as actually turned out by the factories during the census year, and does not of necessity have any relation to the amount of sales for that year. The values under this head also include the amount received for work done on materials furnished by others.

Value Added by Manufacture.

The value added by manufacture represents the difference between the cost of materials used and the value after the manufacturing processes have been expended upon them and they become products. In 1909 the value added by manufacture was $5,472,000, and in 1904, $2,322,000, an increase of $3,150,000, or 135 per cent. The value added by manufacture in 1909 formed 29 per cent of the total value of products, and in 1904, 31 per cent.

Miscellaneous items include such items as rent of factory or works, taxes, and amount paid for contract work, which will appear separately in the final reports, as well as such items of office and other expenses as can not be elsewhere classified. In 1909 the amount was $1,201,000, and in 1904, $510,000, an increase of $691,000, or 135 per cent. The average miscellaneous establishment in 1909 was approximately $2,000; in 1904, $1,400.

The salaries and wages in 1909 amounted to $2,422,000, and in 1904, $1,230,000, an increase of $1,192,000, or 97 per cent. The number of salaried officials and clerks was 635, and in 1904, 296, an increase of 339, or 115 per cent.

The average number of wage-earners in 1909 was 7,782, and in 1904, 1,735, an increase of 6,047, or 348 per cent.

PUNISH BUT TO REFORM

Penal System Which Seeks Only Retribution Is Wrong, Says Preacher.

Rev. Gebauer Says Hope Should Be Held Out to Every Criminal.

"How Shall We Deal With the Criminal?" was the subject of Rev. George R. Gebauer's sermon at the First Unitarian church yesterday. He said in part:

"When I read last week the address given by Judge Cant before passing judgment upon the two boy bandits, I was indeed struck with the depth of its moral earnestness and the real humaneness we feel in his words. I have nothing but sincere admiration for the judge. I sympathize with him in his awful duty. I am convinced that the court acted most conscientiously from the legal point of view long after all legal justice will not satisfy me as it will not satisfy thousands of others. We feel the hiatus between the love for our fellow men, no matter how depraved, and the severe and terrible sentences of the court. We feel it so much more when we realize that no earthly judge and jury can ever shut the tragic forces of circumstances, much less will sound the heart of man in its intentions. We know that no court can mete out punishment that it would be in accord with the various degrees of guilt, based as the latter is upon the double standard of evil intent and harm done."

"Indeed there are today not a few men of high standing in the profession and outside, who seriously hold that there is something radically wrong in our entire legal and penal system. It certainly seems to rest in a philosophy of life which is rather antiquated. The idea of retribution is still the dominant note in it, and with it goes the notion that the protection of society may justify demand severe measures against individuals of an anti-social character. But there is truth in this, while we can not treat a wrong-doer in the same manner as a right-doer, while we naturally must protect society, the eternal fact remains that the worst culprit is our fellow man to whom we owe certain human measures, which can not be set aside by any legal decision. Human fellowship on the high ground of God says to the world 'But I say unto you, love your enemies.'"

"Human laws no matter how faulty, must at least in their intent be humane laws. The main idea in the penal law should not be to punish the offender, but if need be through punishment, reclaim the evil-doer. There is such a thing as loving punishment. It is illustrated in the purgatory, it alone is worthy of an enlightened and free nation. And such punishment is not easy as some may think, but on the contrary most severe, but also most just and always fits the criminal. For nothing is in the end so painful to the crooked as to be straightened; nothing so obnoxious by the weak as the demand for strenuous effort; nothing hard for the indolent and slothful as wholesome and instructive employment. Not to long years of hard labor do we want to sentence any malefactor, because the laborer will only harden the soul and dwarf the mind and stunt the will. No, we want work for him which will soften his soul, develop his mind and strengthen his will for good. Perhaps the reason that in spite of thousands of years of law, humanity has but little advanced morally, is that our penal measures were simply considered from a selfish social standpoint without regard to the individual most interested. Certainly the kingdom of heaven will not come by the way of organized social selfishness. The world's history easily will prove to any one that the most severe punishments did not deter men from crime, and that where punishment accompanied crime, abundant so much more. Indeed there is a point where the law may completely overreach itself and call forth horror and disgust instead of respect."

"In every sentence passed there must be a hope, a promise, a duty of Judge Cant when he said to these boys: 'After long years of punishment you may again be entitled to sympathy and when you really are it is hoped that you will receive it in full measure.' But why should sympathy come only after long years? It must be present now. That hope for possible freedom held out to the boys was an expression of sympathy. And it is the one thing we must have for the worst criminal and with it must go the promise of freedom. Over no prison door should be written 'Who enters here leaves hope behind.' Give the miserable fellow not long years of useless punishment, but instead useful, though straining times of reform. He will stand with the blow that no behavior of his can ever change the sentence, or you will make him ten times more the child of hell. Best let there be no fixed sentence of imprisonment at all and let the prisoner know that he is free the material out of which he may be made."

"It is indeed poor reasoning to believe that long years of confinement and hard labor will make a good man out of a bad boy. At best you will send forth out of the prison a dead corpse, but no man. No, whatever the punishment be, it must be within the realm of law and order, and fellowship. Statutory law—here I quote from 'Punishment and Reformation,' by E. H. Vines, LL.D.—is the will of the nation. It may be moral or immoral. It is moral when the will of the nation coincides with the will of God; immoral when the will of the people and that of Almighty are in opposition to each other. Its highest sanction is found, not in the penalty which attaches to its violation, but in the response it awakens in the individual conscience."

"And that highest response of the conscience is found to the law, which endeavors to save and not to destroy and which is ever ready to open the door to the reformed man or woman. The criminal should be kept in prison just so long as he is a criminal, a man

"And if thus we realize our duty toward the weak in prison, we shall not let the young and inexperienced, the law or order, free from without proper guardianship, but give to them as a community the supervision and help they need. We shall realize that we are partners in any wrong and in any folly done by our fellowmen and by proper social sanitation do away with epidemics of social and moral disease."

Hope of Freedom.

Give the miserable fellow not long years of useless punishment, but instead useful, though straining times of reform. He will stand with the blow that no behavior of his can ever change the sentence, or you will make him ten times more the child of hell. Best let there be no fixed sentence of imprisonment at all and let the prisoner know that he is free the material out of which he may be made."

"It is indeed poor reasoning to believe that long years of confinement and hard labor will make a good man out of a bad boy. At best you will send forth out of the prison a dead corpse, but no man. No, whatever the punishment be, it must be within the realm of law and order, and fellowship. Statutory law—here I quote from 'Punishment and Reformation,' by E. H. Vines, LL.D.—is the will of the nation. It may be moral or immoral. It is moral when the will of the nation coincides with the will of God; immoral when the will of the people and that of Almighty are in opposition to each other. Its highest sanction is found, not in the penalty which attaches to its violation, but in the response it awakens in the individual conscience."

"And that highest response of the conscience is found to the law, which endeavors to save and not to destroy and which is ever ready to open the door to the reformed man or woman. The criminal should be kept in prison just so long as he is a criminal, a man

"And if thus we realize our duty toward the weak in prison, we shall not let the young and inexperienced, the law or order, free from without proper guardianship, but give to them as a community the supervision and help they need. We shall realize that we are partners in any wrong and in any folly done by our fellowmen and by proper social sanitation do away with epidemics of social and moral disease."

Hope of Freedom.

"In every sentence passed there must be a hope, a promise, a duty of Judge Cant when he said to these boys: 'After long years of punishment you may again be entitled to sympathy and when you really are it is hoped that you will receive it in full measure.' But why should sympathy come only after long years? It must be present now. That hope for possible freedom held out to the boys was an expression of sympathy. And it is the one thing we must have for the worst criminal and with it must go the promise of freedom. Over no prison door should be written 'Who enters here leaves hope behind.' Give the miserable fellow not long years of useless punishment, but instead useful, though straining times of reform. He will stand with the blow that no behavior of his can ever change the sentence, or you will make him ten times more the child of hell. Best let there be no fixed sentence of imprisonment at all and let the prisoner know that he is free the material out of which he may be made."

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county option bill came up for debate in the house this morning and a debate, beginning shortly after 11 o'clock, continued into the afternoon. At the conclusion of the arguments it was expected that a vote would be taken, and that the bill would pass. The debate was a long one, and the galleries were crowded. The bill was defeated by a vote of 50 to 68.

STORM SETTLES IN NEW ENGLAND

Western Blizzard Is Now on the North Atlantic Coast.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 7.—The Western storm which appeared here late yesterday settled over New England today. Heavy snow fell steadily throughout the morning. Land traffic was inconvenienced only slightly, but shipping was held in port by an easterly blow and thick weather.

"HOLY ROLLER" IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Easton, Pa., Feb. 7.—Robert B. Bachman, of Nazareth, the member of the religious sect, known as the "Holy Rollers," who killed his little niece in a religious meeting at his home in 1908, has been given his freedom. After the crime, Bachman was committed to an asylum. A few weeks ago a petition was presented to the court by the hospital authorities, saying Bachman had recovered his reason. He furnished $200 bond to keep the peace and was today released.

WILL PASS THE HOUSE

Democrats in Favor of Reciprocity Agreement With Canada.

Hold Caucus and Formally Pledge Themselves to Measure.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Favorable action of the house on the Canadian reciprocity agreement was assured last night when the caucus of Democratic representatives formally pledged themselves to vote for the agreement. The resolution endorsing the Canadian agreement was carried, 99 to 22. On motion of Mr. Clark of Missouri, the action of the caucus was made unanimous. Anti-reciprocity Democrats were given free rein in the caucus. Most of those opposed to the Canadian agreement submitted by President Taft expressed their views and a number dwelt on the fact that the bill incorporated the agreement should not pass without amendments. Amendments, of course, would invalidate the entire agreement. Consequently hung in the lobby back of the house was a placard bearing a quotation from a speech by Minority Leader Clark on June 7 last, the placard having been placed there by a Republican. ## DOCTOR ALWAYS DEPRAVED MAN Attorneys Dig Into the Past of the Russian Poison Expert.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—Digging into the past of Dr. Panchenko today the prosecution developed that he was an employee on the Northwestern railroad, having received his appointment upon the recommendation of Count Witte. Fellow employees testified that he neglected his duties to peddle nostrums and was depraved. Among his habitual offenses was the practice of borrowing right and left and never repaying. Once, reprimanded for irregularity of attendance upon his duties, Panchenko explained that he was frequently incapacitated, being a sufferer from kidney disease. Under examination he foisted the head physician of the road into believing that the disease had reached an advanced stage, but when he was advised to go to a hospital at once, the alleged poisoner suggested that it would be more convenient for him and quite as well if some one else was sent to the infirmary under his name. Panchenko was asked today to explain his deception, but the prosecutor failed to get much from him. Continuing the evidence that Panchenko had been a Russian spy, the attorney at the instigation of Count Patrick Orben de Laessy, the state introduced depositions from witnesses at Vienna, who told of a series of meetings between the doctor and De Laessy at a hotel and coffee house at that place.

Under the present long and short haul law, the shorter line fixes the rate, and the long line must meet it. Towns along the long haul get the benefit of the relatively lower rates along that route. The argument that has had most weight is that where there are two lines between competing points, a long line and a short line, damage will be done by the application of the distance rule. The officials decided to decide the weight is that where there are two lines between competing points, a long line and a short line, damage will be done by the application of the distance rule. ## ELEVEN SERVANS TO BE DEPORTED

Officials Believe They Are Likely to Become Public Charges.

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—Acting upon a decision of Judge McPherson in the United States district court, immigration officials today are preparing to deport eleven Servans who arrived in this port bound for Gary, Ind., where they intended to seek work in the steel mills. The police immigration officials decided to deport the Servans on the ground that they might become public charges. The officials claimed that investigation of labor conditions at Gary showed that more than 1,000 men were out of employment at that place. Counsel for the Servans introduced proceedings for their release but Judge McPherson in his decision upheld the ruling of the immigration officials.

WOULD RECALL SEATTLE MAYOR

Electors of the City Are Casting Heavy Vote on Question.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 7.—The election for the recall of Mayor Hiram C. Gill, who is charged with conducting the city government in the interest of a vice syndicate, is in progress today with a heavy vote. The weather is mild and cloudy, favorable to a large vote of women. If Mayor Gill is defeated it will be by the women's vote, it is conceded on all hands. Virtually all of the elements which supported him last spring are for him now. George W. Dilling, a real estate dealer, is his opponent.

LEGISLATURE RECONVENES

North Dakota Solons Resume Work After Three Days' Recess.

Many Measures to Be Considered, Including Oregon Primary Law.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota's legislative assembly was convened this afternoon for the final work after a recess of three days during which junketing committees visited the several state educational, penal and charitable institutions. On the reports of these committees, which will be made during the present week, will depend almost entirely the amount of the appropriations that will be forthcoming for those institutions. Several of the important problems that are up for the consideration of the legislature during the closing stretch are the construction of a new capitol building, the calling of a constitutional convention, adoption of amendments to the primary election law and the passage of an anti-pass and a corrupt practices act, the last three of which have been promised the people by both parties. Oregon's primary election law and its applicability to North Dakota are being investigated by a caucus committee of the Republicans that is now at work. It is presently slated to the assembly a bill, patterned very largely after the Oregon bill, as it is believed that it will prove most acceptable. There will be a hitch over the danger and De Laessy at a hotel and coffee house at that place. (Continued on page 7, sixth column.)

MAY ALTER AGREEMENT

Amendment to Pulp-Paper Section Need Not Delay Ratification.

Commission Left That Schedule to Committee in Charge of Bill.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Secretary of State Knox has written Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee of the house, that an amendment to the wood pulp or paper sections of the Canadian trade agreement would not necessarily delay its ratification. This fact was brought out during a hearing given by the committee today to opponents of the paper and wood pulp provisions. The statement last week of Chairman Payne that the agreement must stand or fall as a whole, and that amendments could not be made, was interpreted at today's meeting by Representative Fordney as indicating that no change could be made in the paper or wood pulp schedules. Representative McCall, speaking for Chairman Payne, who was absent, said that this prohibition against amendments would not extend to the sections indicated. No Understandable Agreement. Secretary Knox explained in his letter. (Continued on page 5, fifth column.)

EIGHTEENTH JOINT BALLOT FRUITLESS

No Signs of Break in Deadlock of the New York Legislature.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Last night's snowfall, though heavy, did not delay the return here today of members of the legislature and when the two houses met at noon in joint session to vote for a United States senator, a majority was present. No material change in the voting was expected. Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, William F. Sheehan, Senator Roosevelt and others in the foreground of the fight over the senatorship, are expected to attend the reception which will be given to the legislature. Governor and Mrs. Dix will tender tonight to members of the legislature. House Tammany leader, Charles F. Murphy and Senator Roosevelt, the insurgent leader, called on Governor Dix yesterday. As Senator Roosevelt was leaving, a friend inquired if he supposed he was prepared to continue the fight if it takes all summer, as Mr. Murphy suggests. "Yes, until fall" was the senator's rejoinder. Governor Dix emphatically denied a report that he would endorse Sheehan's candidacy. Reports of impending desertions from the insurgents' camp were cleared untrue by Assemblyman Miller. The eighteenth joint ballot resulted as follows: Democrats—William F. Sheehan, 85; Sheehan, 15; Kernan, 5; Glynn, 3; Litch, 2; O'Brien, 2; Parker, 1; Sulzer, 1; Taylor, 1. Republican—Depew, 81. Total vote cast, 196. Necessary for choice, 99.

The holders of 3,000 invitations, it is expected, will crowd the edifice to overflowing. The church itself will be radiant with the perfumes of rare flowers. Green and white will be the color scheme, although just what flowers will perfect it, the style and texture of the bride's wedding gown and the gown of her attendants, will not be made public until the church doors are thrown open. ## PREPARED FOR HIS DEPARTURE Learned That Postmaster Sent Message He Was Going Away.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 7.—Positive information has been secured by federal agents here that Postmaster Richard L. Ashhurst of Philadelphia, missing now for a week, prepared for his departure from Monday afternoon, a few hours before he disappeared. It has been learned that his mind was apparently normal at the time. A message was sent by the aged postmaster on Monday afternoon to some person in Philadelphia, New York or Washington, telling of his probable absence for several days. It is known here that investigation is now being made to ascertain the connection of the person to whom it was sent. It is believed that the government investigators are aware of the contents of the message and that it explains the belief now becoming general here that Postmaster Ashhurst planned his departure from Atlantic City.

Awaiting Reinforcements Before Making an Attack on Juarez.

Gen. Blanco Said to Have Annihilated the Eighteenth Cavalry.

Now on His Way to Join With the Forces of Pascual Orozco.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 7.—The revolutionary forces under Pascual Orozco are in the Flores ranch, about fifteen miles southeast of Juarez, today, awaiting reinforcement under Blanco, coming up from Casas Grandes. American troops arriving overland from that place state that the reason Blanco has not already joined Orozco in front of Juarez, was that he has been fighting the Eighteenth federal infantry which was marching from Galapagos on the Mexican national road to Casas Grandes. These Americans say it is currently reported in Casas Grandes that the Eighteenth infantry was practically annihilated and that Blanco would at once advance north.

Juarez today has resumed its normal business aspect but troops are still on guard on all buildings. Regardless of the fact that twenty soldiers and six women are now lying in the Juarez hospital, victims of the fighting near Juarez Sunday, circulars were distributed in the streets of Juarez this morning declaring that Robago on Sunday defeated the rebels with heavy loss while his own forces sustained only one killed and four wounded. The Juarez circular is headed: "Viva Diaz. Death to rebels!"

Quiet All Along the Line. Laredo, Tex., Feb. 7.—Passengers reaching here this morning on the El Paso and Rock Island trains reported quiet at all points along that line. The train left San Antonio at 6 o'clock last night. Newspaper men among the passengers stated they heard nothing of an advance of rebel forces during their stay of twenty minutes at the railroad station.

BRIDGE ACROSS ST. CROIX RIVER

Representative Lenroot Secures Passage of a Bill in the House.

Washington, Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin this morning, in the house and had passed his bill permitting the building of a wagon and trolley car bridge across the St. Croix river between Wisconsin and Minnesota. The bill provides that the consent of congress is hereby granted to H. L. North, W. E. Webster and H. J. Anderson of Hudson, Wis., to build a wagon and trolley car bridge across the St. Croix river, also known and designated as Lake St. Croix, from a point suitable to the interests of navigation on the east bank of said river between the north line of section 25, township 29 north, range 20 west and the west quarter line of said section in St. Croix county, Wis., to a point on the west bank of said river almost due west from the place of beginning in Washington county, Minn. Representative Hanna of North Dakota called up and had passed the bill to authorize the Fargo & Moorhead Railway company to construct a bridge across Red River of the North.

HOUSE OF COMMONS MUCH INTERESTED

Wants to Know All About the Proposed Reciprocity Measure.

London, Feb. 7.—The United States-Canada reciprocity agreement occupies a commanding place in the minds of the members of the new house of commons. This is made plain not only in Mr. Balfour's demand of yesterday that the government grant time for an exhaustive debate on the matter and for an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne on the subject, but by innumerable interpellations to be made tomorrow. Among these will be a request that Colonial Secretary Harcourt asked the Canadian government to postpone the ratification of the agreement until the imperial conference has been held. The members are also anxious to know whether the British cabinet was consulted in the negotiations between Washington and Ottawa and if the United Kingdom will be able under the agreement to send its products to the United States at the same tariff rates enjoyed by Canada.

IS THINNESS EMBARRASSING?

Undoubtedly It Is to Many a Maiden and Youth—While Even Those Well Along in Years Prefer Well Hounded Figures.

Prescription Increases Weight.

A scrawny, gangling youth or maiden is almost invariably slighted, overlooked or ridiculed in any social gathering. There is something about a plump or well proportioned figure which attracts not only friendship but love and adulation as well. People with a proper amount of flesh are favored in all walks of life, while the thin are unloved, unwelcome and frequently miserable for life. The difference lies in the power of the digestive functions and the ability of the blood and nerves to absorb and distribute over the body the nutrition extracted from the food eaten. The thin person is abnormal and lacks the power to absorb and retain the flesh and fat elements which the gastric juices in the stomach and intestines should extract or separate from all kinds of food and drink. A recent accidental discovery has proven that thinness is a disease, and that it can be cured by the use of a certain compound essence called "Shake" and let stand two hours. Add one ounce (tincture) cadumene compound (not caradumene) to the "Shake" and drink it before and after meals, drinking plenty of water between meals and when retiring.

HEARD IN HOTEL LOBBIES AND ELSEWHERE ABOUT TOWN

Duluth Commercial Club Doing Good Work, Says Traveling Man—Port Arthur Ship Yards To Be Scene of Exceptional Activity—How a Farmer Advertised for His Lost Horse.

"Your Commercial club is doing some very effective publicity work for Duluth," remarked a traveling man at the Lenox last evening. "I run across evidences of it frequently, and in many towns of the northern part of the state I have heard the statement made that Duluth is forging to the very front as a desirable marketing point for the producer. This feature of the work inaugurated by your club is being noticed by other towns, I understand, and that's a very interesting thing. I'm not a politician so I can't figure out that proper work during treatment, while the general health and strength also improves wonderfully. Get in a half pint bottle three ounces of essence of lemon and three ounces of essence of orange. Blend with one ounce compound essence cardiol; shake and let stand two hours. "Much work will be done in the yards of the Western Drydock & Shipbuilding company at Port Arthur this year," said J. W. Wolvin of that city, who is in Duluth on the way home from New York, Montreal and Boston. Mr. Wolvin is a guest at the Spaulding. The company, of which James Whalen is president, has several good contracts and great activity will soon be seen in its yards. There are 2,000-ton steel cargo carriers to be built for delivery in the spring of 1912. There is a tug to be built and delivered next September and two screws to be delivered in June. Then there are the damaged steamers Dunlop and Trevor to be rebuilt. The work of reconstruction on them would now be in progress but for the fact that the weather has been so consistently cold that we have been delayed in getting them into the drydock. They will be docked in March, however, and the work of making the necessary repairs pushed.

GOOD REPORT OF GIBROUX

Directors Estimate Tonnage of Copper, Gold and Silver Worth $38,530,750.

Report Conservative, High Grade Ore Not Being Included in Estimates.

The eighth annual report of the Gibroux Consolidated Mining company, made public this afternoon following meetings of stockholders and the directors, is the most complete and comprehensive ever issued by the company. It is the most favorable report in the company's history and for the first time the directors endeavor to present to shareholders an estimate of the value of the property. The report is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the company's history and for the first time the directors endeavor to present to shareholders an estimate of the value of the property. The report is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the company's history and for the first time the directors endeavor to present to shareholders an estimate of the value of the property.

The conservatism of the report is apparent as no attempt is made to estimate the tonnage of the high grade ore in the property. The report is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the company's history and for the first time the directors endeavor to present to shareholders an estimate of the value of the property.

FUNK STILL HOLDS THE LEAD IN IOWA.

Des Moines, Feb. 7.—Today's joint ballot on United States senator in the Iowa legislature resulted: Funk, 55; Young, 58; Kenyon, 3; Garst, 1; Porter, Democrat, 45; absent, 12; necessary to elect, 73.

The house of representatives today passed the Oregon primary bill by a vote of 23 to 18.

The bill is not effective in the present session of the United States senator to fill the Doolittle vacancy.

Work in Gibroux Shaft.
The high grade ore bodies cut by the old Alpha shaft are being opened up by the Gibroux shaft. A crosscut is being driven into Alpha ground from the Gibroux shaft on the 1,200-foot level.

The crosscut on the 1,200-foot level will be completed about March 1. It will be started Sept. 15, 1910. A shaft will be put down on the Taylor and Dewey claims, as the rich values have been leached out and deeper and exploration from a shaft will be cheaper and more profitable than the extensive surface drilling which has been unsatisfactory in the two claims.

The company has large territory unexplored on the prospects for showing large bodies of ore are favorable. Most of this ore is expected to be of the same character as that in Alpha ground. The report says:

"The report says: 'The company has large territory unexplored on the prospects for showing large bodies of ore are favorable. Most of this ore is expected to be of the same character as that in Alpha ground. The report says:'

Concerning the recent change in freight rates, the report says: "When the present management assumed control of the Gibroux property, it found that railway rates charged on material used for mine equipment were excessive and unreasonable, and after several ineffectual efforts to obtain relief, it was decided to bring the matter before the interstate commerce commission. During the year complaints were prepared, covering both Eastern and Western business, and which were attached schedules of suggested rates considered reasonable and just. The case was filed with the commission. The cases are still pending undried, and will doubtless not be reached or finally determined until some time in the spring. Since commencing these suits the commission has decided the so-called Inter-Mountain rate cases, among which may be mentioned the so-called Reno case, which decisions, in our opinion, win our cases for us. These reductions in rates will mean a great saving to our company."

The directors' report includes the observation: "It is expected that the year ending March 31, 1911, will be a year of high grade drilling with the next three or four months, and we are now negotiating with the railway for reasonable rates on the ore smelter, to apply until such time as the smelting proposition is fully solved to the best interests of the company."

"First mortgage bonds, aggregating par value $40,000, were retired during the year, leaving a balance outstanding of $20,700. In the two years of the present management this bond indebtedness has been reduced nearly $100,000. Interest on the bonds has been accordingly cut down from $60,000 to a little more than $12,000."

Ore in Alpha Ground.
The general ground are disclosed by the report of the general manager of the company, although no estimate of general value of the Alpha ore is included in the directors' estimate of tonnage. The Alpha ore is shipped from a sub-level fifty-eight feet above the 1,200-foot level, which is exposed at the top of the ore formation averaged 12.67 per cent copper. The ore in the shaft is of the 1,200-foot level is mostly rich black sulphides. There are also carbonaceous and metallic materials. In many places on this level mineral can be started as soon as permanent machinery and equipment are in operation. Below the 1,200-foot level is the

Mrs. Cobb of Brainerd gave a most delightful talk on "Recent Impressions of the Finnish Art" yesterday afternoon before the members of the Twentieth Century club at their regular monthly social which was held at the club rooms of the library. Mrs. Cobb has a pleasing personality, which added much to the charm of her talk.

"In giving my impression of the Finnish art which I saw on my trip through Europe, I shall confine myself to the two greatest Finnish painters," said Mrs. Cobb. "The first is J. V. Snellman, who is like a moving picture, showing the life of the Finnish people and the one who does the moving in the picture."

"If any one is contemplating a trip to the art galleries of Europe, I suggest that one should first study one of these two men, and become thoroughly acquainted with all historical characters and especially all members of the holy family, as these characters appear more than any others in the great paintings."

Mrs. Cobb spoke of her impressions of various masterpieces and her vivid word pictures of many of the best to be seen. She compared the two great artists, Van Dyke and Rubens, in their work from all phases.

In comparing the two men, she said that Rubens' conception impressed her more than Van Dyke's, while the latter was more refined than Rubens' if not more sincere.

"Rubens," she said, "specialized in all lines of painting and excelled in every line. His grouping is natural, though he had taken snap shots of life. He painted real human characters and their human attitudes and made them living characters true to his artist's idea. His sense was greater than his art. He was a color dramatist—the Shakespeare of the brush."

Van Dyke, she said, "was unlike the Shakespear of oils, but unlike the Shakespear of words, made his points with his brush. His work was more characterized by careful grouping, refinement and delicate touches. He also painted and adapted the art of other artists, giving it a purely his own."

After the talk tea was served with Mrs. G. A. Clark and Mrs. N. F. Huse. The tea, assisted by Mrs. M. B. Culham.

"MEDICAL SOCIAL"

To Be Given at McLean Home.

A "Medical Social" is the form of entertainment which is given at the McLean Home. It is the form of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church, to be given tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. John H. McLean, 302 Sixteenth avenue east, for the members of the society. The idea has been uniquely carried out with plans for a mock examination and mock remedies. A delightful evening is anticipated.

"THE IDEA OF GOD"

Dr. Powell Talks on Browning at Endion Church.

"That underneath everything is the infinite force and strength of a divine power, is the thought, which runs through all of Browning's works, God dwells in all."

Rev. John Walker Powell began his series of seven lectures on "Browning's Message to the Twentieth Century" last evening before the audience which filled the Endion Methodist church. The idea of God was the theme of last evening's lecture.

"The idea of God" was the theme of last evening's lecture. "The idea of God" is the fundamental principle of the world and has never been without some conception of God. These things Mr. Powell brought out.

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN.

Julia M.: It is natural to grow heavier during cold weather months, but your weight is increasing too rapidly, and I will suggest a simple treatment which is splendid for taking off flesh. Get from the drug store four ounces of paraffin and dissolve in 1 1/2 pints hot water. A tablespoonful of this before each meal will gradually take off the superfluous weight. This treatment is harmless, costless and requires no starving, but you must be sure to get paraffin.

Elsie L.: It is ungalant for your dowry growth on your face, but if you follow these simple directions the hair can be easily removed. Buy an ounce of detolene from your druggist, mix a little with enough water to make a paste, and apply to the hairy surface. Let remain for two or three minutes, then rub off and wash the surface well. While detolene is a little expensive, one application usually does the work.

May: Stop using face powders and try this "liquid powder" for that shiny look and your complexion will soon resemble its natural healthy tint. Dissolve four ounces of sorumax in one-half pint hot water, add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, shake well and let cool. This application to the skin's surface after washing clears and cleanses it. Any druggist can supply sorumax, and it is inexpensive.

Hermes: Face lotions will not rid your face of its pimples and liver spots. This condition is caused through impurities in the blood. Instead of their way to the skin's surface. What you require is a blood cleanser and system tonic, and if you will prepare this inexpensive recipe, the skin will become clear and you will feel much better. Get an ounce of karden from your druggist and dissolve in one-half pint hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful of this before each meal, and I'm sure you will find it excellent.

ORDINANCE IS PASSED

No Objections to New Law Regulating Theatrical Performances.

Aldermen Approve Moore Theater Ordinance Without Any Discussion.

Greatly to the surprise of the twenty-five or more representatives of the Women's Council and several ministers, who attended the city council meeting last evening, the Moore theater ordinance regulating the character of public exhibitions and performances in Duluth, passed unanimously without a word of comment from either side.

The compromise ordinance tentatively agreed upon by Attorney E. M. Morgan, who drew the ordinance for the Women's Council, Attorney C. E. Adams, who represented the theater men, and the committee on ordinances and resolutions, after the meeting last evening, was introduced with but little change. The same committee had another meeting yesterday afternoon and the ground was thoroughly covered again before every point was agreed upon.

The ordinance was about the last matter to come up before the council, adjourned at 9:30 o'clock. As a result the women and the others interested in it, sat through the entire council meeting listening to the transaction of considerable routine business. For a minute they didn't seem to realize that the ordinance had really passed, as they had come prepared to listen to some heated arguments pro and con.

The present ordinance requires that the affidavit which caused so much discussion, shall be served at least forty-eight hours before a first performance and six hours before a second performance. In case it is left at the box office it shall be considered prima facie evidence that the manager had knowledge of the character of the show and that if the service is personal upon the manager, owner or lessee, he shall be deemed to have conclusive knowledge of the matters alleged in the affidavit. It must also be signed by at least five persons, of legal age, two of whom shall be men. The women consider the part pertaining to the service on the manager, owner or lessee, which most distinguishes it from the ordinance which was passed in 1891.

The ordinance prevents the showing of any indecent or immoral pictures or public exhibitions of any kind. It is strict in its terms and wide in its scope.

It is to be made of honor. The bridegroom is the Misses Hope Hamilton, Beatrice Clifton, Hannah Randolph of Philadelphia, Louise Cromwell of Washington and Allison Pierce of Oyster Bay. Two little nephews of the bridegroom, Marcus and Graham Benson, as pages, will carry the train of the bride's gown. Two girls will be the bridesmaids, and the groom will be the Rev. and Dr. H. H. Green.

The couple will sail shortly for Egypt, where they will remain until the wedding of the groom.

Many threatening letters.

ORDINANCE IS PASSED

No Objections to New Law Regulating Theatrical Performances.

Aldermen Approve Moore Theater Ordinance Without Any Discussion.

Greatly to the surprise of the twenty-five or more representatives of the Women's Council and several ministers, who attended the city council meeting last evening, the Moore theater ordinance regulating the character of public exhibitions and performances in Duluth, passed unanimously without a word of comment from either side.

The compromise ordinance tentatively agreed upon by Attorney E. M. Morgan, who drew the ordinance for the Women's Council, Attorney C. E. Adams, who represented the theater men, and the committee on ordinances and resolutions, after the meeting last evening, was introduced with but little change. The same committee had another meeting yesterday afternoon and the ground was thoroughly covered again before every point was agreed upon.

The ordinance was about the last matter to come up before the council, adjourned at 9:30 o'clock. As a result the women and the others interested in it, sat through the entire council meeting listening to the transaction of considerable routine business. For a minute they didn't seem to realize that the ordinance had really passed, as they had come prepared to listen to some heated arguments pro and con.

The present ordinance requires that the affidavit which caused so much discussion, shall be served at least forty-eight hours before a first performance and six hours before a second performance. In case it is left at the box office it shall be considered prima facie evidence that the manager had knowledge of the character of the show and that if the service is personal upon the manager, owner or lessee, he shall be deemed to have conclusive knowledge of the matters alleged in the affidavit. It must also be signed by at least five persons, of legal age, two of whom shall be men. The women consider the part pertaining to the service on the manager, owner or lessee, which most distinguishes it from the ordinance which was passed in 1891.

The ordinance prevents the showing of any indecent or immoral pictures or public exhibitions of any kind. It is strict in its terms and wide in its scope.

THE MODERN HEAD DRESS

Causes Baldness—We Cannot Change the Head Dress, But We Can Prevent Baldness.

Up to the time we began to civilize him a bald-headed fellow was a thing unknown. Wearing nothing on his head except the covering furnished by nature, and being a stranger to the use of a hair brush, especially the public one, the scalp and hair had plenty of ventilation, much sunlight and, hence, a condition favorable to a luxuriant growth of hair existed at all times.

It was the adoption of air and light excluding headgear and artificial head decorations generally, together with the occasional use of a community hair brush, which gave the dandruff germ its opportunity. Since this parasite has multiplied to an alarming degree until now there is hardly a person who is not troubled more or less with dandruff and falling hair.

Many, to be sure, have passed the worrying stage. Having become chronically bald they realize that nothing is capable of producing natural hair for them. Let these be a warning to all who are experiencing the significant annoyance of dandruff and falling hair.

Dandruff, which is due to a germ, and falling hair can both be overcome by the regular use of Newbro's Herpicide.

This wonderful scalp remedy kills the vicious germ which causes dandruff, cleanses the scalp and stops the hair from coming out. The destruction of the germ permits the hair to grow naturally and luxuriantly as nature intends.

Herpicide makes the hair bright, snappy, light and fluffy. One dollar size bottles guaranteed. For sale at all drug stores. Applications obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

June 22, 23 and 24 are the dates set for a "cold water" convention in Duluth, the occasion being the annual gathering of the various Scandinavian Good Templars of Minnesota. Preparations for the affair are now in the hands of a committee headed by Gust Landin, 21 Twenty-first avenue west. The committee is composed of fifteen members, five from each of the three Scandinavian Good Templar lodges of Duluth, North Star of the West and Lyngdahl and Morning Star of West Duluth. About 500 delegates will be in Duluth from all parts of the state and the committee are busy devising means of entertainment for the visitors.

According to Mr. Landin, chairman, the plans for the handling of the convention are not yet complete. A program for the three days' session, however, has been outlined and only the details are yet left to be filled in.

GUST LANDIN,
North Star Lodge, General Chairman.

L. A. SIMONSON,
Vice Grand Templar, Lyngdahl Lodge.

PETER E. NELSON,
Lyngdahl Lodge.

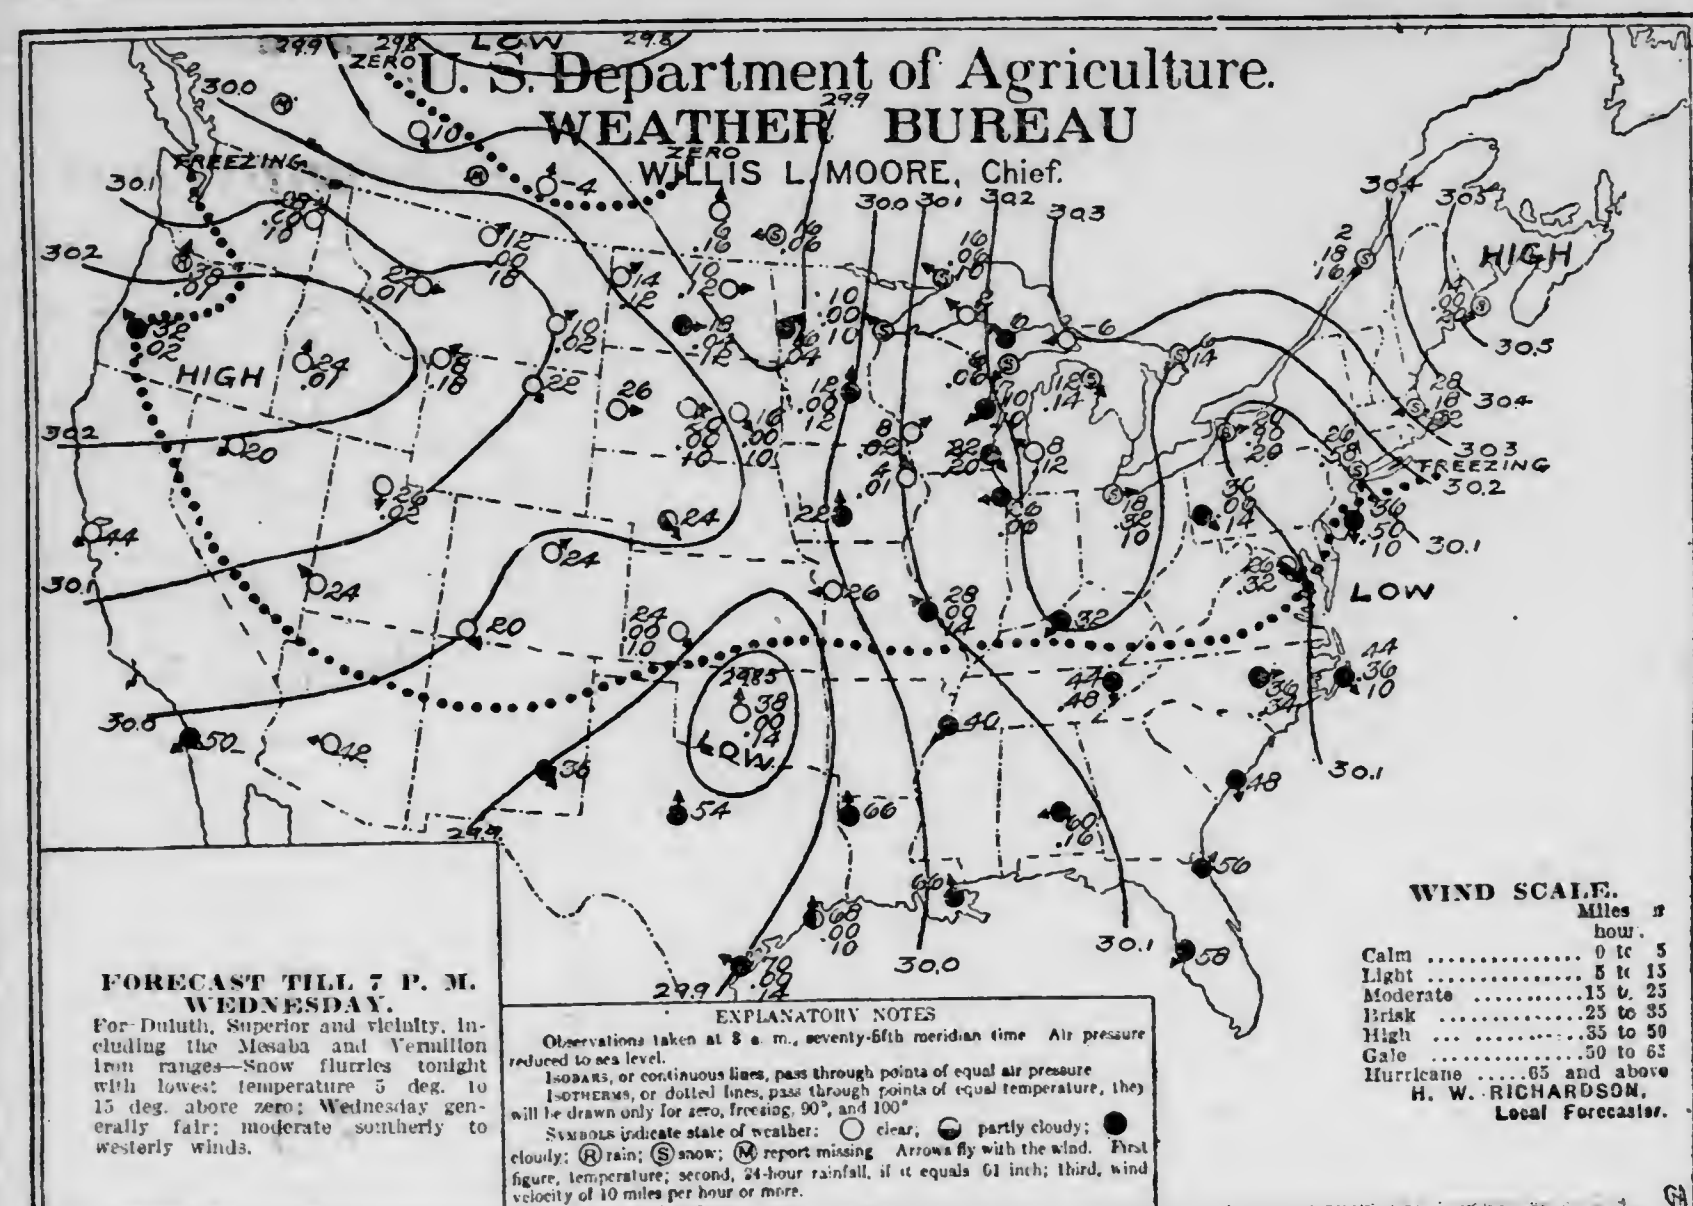

It is probable, says Chairman Landin, that several of the high officers of the order will be in attendance and will make addresses to the convention in the Scandinavian and English languages.

A moonlight excursion "around the horn" is planned for the opening evening of the convention, June 22. This, however, has only been planned, and as yet no definite steps have been taken to charter a boat and as the conflict between the Good Templar lodges and the local navigation companies running excursion boats will be remembered by many West end people, some difficulty may be experienced in securing the necessary accommodations. When the Good Templars tried to charter a boat last summer, they wanted the third prior on the boat closed up but they were promptly turned down by the company and it was alleged that they could secure no "dry boat" for the occasion. Chairman Landin yesterday stated that he did not know as to whether the matter had been cleared up or not.

On the second day of the convention in the afternoon, the delegates will be taken to a sightseeing tour in automobiles. A bonfire drive is planned and a number of automobiles will be hired for the occasion, so that all visitors who wish to take the trip may do so.

One of the big features of the convention will be the holding of a ball or some other large hall or auditorium as it is expected that between 500 and 600 delegates will be present. The program of after-dinner talks has not been worked out, but it is understood that some notable

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FORECAST FOR 7 P. M. WEDNESDAY.
For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Marquette and Vermilion front ranges—Snow flurries tonight, clearing, except 10 to 15 degrees above zero; Wednesday generally fair, with moderate southerly to westerly winds.

SNOW.
This is about the snowiest winter in Duluth has had in some time. There was a high fall last night, but the air is pretty well filled with the falling flakes today. The snow is coming in flurries, however, and there is nothing like a storm in sight. The temperature continues comfortable and last night was beautiful. Fine winter weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 7:25 and it will set at 5:25. The sun is shining brightly and the temperature is in the fifties.

Mr. Hickman makes the following comment on weather conditions: "The disturbances central over North America and upper Mississippi valley, Atlantic coast caused snow or rain in Duluth and vicinity during the last twenty-four hours. Warmer weather prevails in North Atlantic states and the Dakotas. Increases in pressure over the central lake region, lower Ohio and upper Mississippi valleys, Utah, Nevada, Idaho and Wyoming are attended by colder weather. It is not expected that the temperature at the head of the Lakes will change materially during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.
Chicago, Feb. 7.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:
Upper Michigan—Snow tonight or Wednesday; slightly warmer tonight.
Wisconsin—Unsettled weather with light snow tonight or Wednesday;
Minnesota—Cloudy tonight with colder in west portion and snow flurries in northeast portion; Wednesday generally fair.
Iowa—Cloudy weather with light snow in east portion tonight or Wednesday; warmer in extreme east portion tonight.
North and South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; slightly colder tonight in east and central portions.
Montana—Fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature. Shipments of perishables against temperatures ranging from about 5 degrees below to 10 degrees above zero in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Michigan copper country.

OBJECTORS ARE AT WORK.
Already the opponents of reciprocity with Canada have begun their work at Washington. Somehow it seems as if those men who are opposed to the things the people at large want the most, are always the first on the ground in such a case. Certainly they set an example of watchfulness to the nation at large. Probably this is because they realize, what the people are only beginning to comprehend, that special privileges are held only through sufferance, and that unless they keep up a continual ballyhoo their show will become a losing proposition.

Sometimes these men have been able to put up what appeared on the face of it to be a good argument, but this time their pleas are so weak as to be pitiful, and their logic is as unscrupulous as their system of preying on the public. Their great claim is that it would not be fair to take all or part of the duty off some commodities and not treat all alike.

Any member of congress who allows himself to be moved by such a plea as that ought to be dropped like a hot stovetop by his constituents. It is a wall that is aimed directly at the principle of schedule by schedule revision of the tariff, and schedule by schedule revision is the one thing on which practically the entire country is agreed as the right way to go about reconstruction of the tariff. It is the system advocated by President Taft and by the supporters of the tariff commission plan; it is the system acknowledged by the framers of the Payne bill as the only one that will do away with the log-rolling methods that heretofore have helped make the tariff a disgrace to the nation and, in practice, a legalized method of preying on the people. Schedule by schedule revision has been indorsed by business interests as the only method by which the tariff could be altered without causing a shakeup in trade. It has been approved on all sides and by all classes of men except the most radical, such as Senator Bailey.

This action on the part of the special privilege forces simply completes their round of tariff argument, thus: Don't revise the tariff as a whole, for it will hurt business; and don't revise it schedule by schedule, for that will cause unfairness to those interests hit by the earlier revisions. In other words, "Don't revise the tariff at all."

But the tariff is going to be revised. The people demand it, and the people are going to have their way. They have come to the support of the tariff commission plan because they believe that piecemeal revision will bring the most equitable results, and they are not going to stand for any member of congress who lets his mind be taken off the issue by specious pleas of special privilege. The Canadian agreement is a big step in the right direction, and the man who, by his vote in congress, opposes the taking of that step will thereby sign his own political death warrant.

A BASELESS ATTACK.
In the Open Court last night The Herald printed a communication signed "T. G. L." in which the commission plan of city government was attacked. It is hardly worth while, perhaps, to try to answer statements founded so evidently on prejudice and lack of information as were those in that communication, but in the coming discussion of the plan in the light of its possible application to Duluth, The Herald believes all citizens should be prepared to meet prejudice and lack of information, and therefore recognizes the "arguments" of the correspondent.

Taking the charges in the order in which they were made by "T. G. L.," we find first of all the one that the commission plan "leads to a one man government and is a very long step away from true democracy." It is evident that "T. G. L." has not informed himself either as to "true democracy" or the nature of the commission plan, for its nature is diametrically opposed to what he says it is. A democracy, to quote from the dictionary, is "a form of government in which the supreme power is retained by the people and exercised either directly, or indirectly through a system of representation and delegated authority periodically renewed." This is the best possible definition of the commission form of government, for the people, while retaining the supreme power by the rights of the initiative, referendum and recall, delegate the authority of managing the city affairs to a stated number of commissioners, with periodical renewals through election. This is as far as could possibly be found from a one man government, for that would mean a perpetual delegation of power and authority to an individual.

The correspondent affects to sneer at the initiative and referendum, and yet in the last election the voters of Oregon expressed themselves on thirty-two distinct propositions instituted under those principles, and showed intelligent understanding of each of them, which is more than can be said of many elections in states where the people are given no right to institute movements for desired legislation or to pass upon measures already approved by the legislature. As to the lack of an influx of people into Oregon to take advantage of the privileges of the initiative and referendum, The Herald would like to ask why there should be such a movement when there is a strong likelihood of those principles being adopted in many other states within the next year, and also to what extent the population of Milwaukee has been increased by an influx of Socialists since the election of Mayor Seidel?

The correspondent wastes absurd over the proposition of the recall, which he characterizes as "a grand humbug, marching under the deluge of democracy for the sole purpose of further enslaving the common people." That is rich! Almost with a capital R. As long as the people have the right to demand an accounting from a public official they are safe from a condition of "slavery." If the correspondent would take the pains to inform himself as to the working of the recall he would not be so ready to call it names. There are more than 100 American cities now that have the recall, some of them going into their seventh year of its experience. During this time it has been employed three times in California, once in Texas, for three members of the board of education, once in Colorado and once in Kansas, and it is being employed now against the mayor of Seattle. In one of the California cases the man at whom it was directed resigned before the election could be held. Writing in the Los Angeles Express, Charles Dwight Willard computes that in all there have been 2,000,000 people and 800 officials working together under the recall plan, and yet there are only seven instances of its use. Mr. Willard writes:

It shows—that the advocates of the recall perfectly well understand—that the American people are reasonable and fair in their judgments, and are not seeking opportunities to make trouble for their public servants. Without doubt there were hundreds of cases where people were discontented with their officials, and perhaps a score or two of cases where they were actually injured by the actions of their officials. But the people did as sensible Americans are likely always to do—they gave the man another chance. As for its use for spite work or for political purposes there is no case of record yet. But what if there were a case or two—and it would not be strange if there were? Are we going to abolish the free ballot because it has resulted occasionally in electing grafters to office? The recall has, up to date, made a most extraordinary record for moderation and effectiveness, and it should be judged by that record, not by imagination.

That is as far as "T. G. L." went in his communication in dealing with the commission form of government. The rest was a tirade against dishonest business methods, which everybody of principle condemns fully as strongly as he, and a plea for party representation in municipal politics, a curse from which the people of American cities have been trying to escape for the last two decades. If one sets out to condemn all business because some businessmen prove dishonest and corrupt, one must include in his condemnation every man who sells his muscle, brain or other power to another—for he is in business just as much as if he sold goods instead of ability—because there are men so dishonest as to "lay down on their jobs." "Business methods" today mean efficient management, and the only municipal government known today that insures efficient management is that under the commission form, with its retention of supreme power by the people through the rights of the initiative, referendum and recall.

BURIED DYNAMITE.
A few days ago a Duluth man who was at work over a spot where he had buried some dynamite struck the charge with his shovel, and was injured so seriously that he died. The explosion, though caused directly by the contact of the implement with the explosive, was of course due to the operation of natural law. Given the hidden charge and the shovel, and the rest depended only on the jamming of the shovel into the right spot, whether that action might be the result of accident or design.

The incident is readily capable of comparison with other lines of experience. It is not uncommon for some man in the business world to jab his shovel into a hidden charge of dynamite, one that he buried himself some time before, but that he had forgotten, or whose exact locality had slipped from his memory. The result is an explosion. Or one may liken it to yet more personal matters, matters that affect health or character. The explosion then wrecks body or mind or both, and the public looks wonderingly a moment, then shakes its head and forgets the incident.

Men—and women—are burying dynamite every day, but the practice is most common in the first twenty or thirty years of life. Sometimes the explosive is in the form of a habit. Sometimes in the form of a train of thought. Sometimes it is in the form of a dishonorable transaction that is put through for the purpose of gaining an advantage or a profit that could not be secured by honorable means. Nobody sees the "plant" and nobody knows of its existence except the person who put it there. But it lies in wait for the touch that shall set it off and wreck the mind or life or the reputation or the fortunes of that person. That fateful contact may come through accident, through the discovery by somebody else of the secret that was supposed to be securely hidden, and the careless or premeditated disturbance of the matter by the discoverer or somebody to whom he confides his discovery. More often the explosion is due to some error or forgetfulness on the part of the one who hid the charge. In working close to the same place he inadvertently touches it off—and Bang! And the public is surprised, then wonders, then forgets.

But in spite of almost daily examples of that nature, in spite of the dictates of common sense against the practice, men—and women—are every day burying dynamite, mental, moral, physical or financial. They think perhaps it will not explode. They ignore the natural law that provides that, under given conditions, it must explode, and they forget that control of those conditions does not lie entirely in their own hands. Wrong habits, base tastes and desires, dishonest acts, wrong lines of thought—these are the forms of dynamite that men are hiding every day; they are explosives that often cause disaster to the persons who hide them and to others with whom these may become associated. They are dangerous things to deal with in the first place; they may prove more deadly and far-reaching in their effects than anybody could imagine. They are splendid things to let alone.

But we will all hope that the Canadian agreement will not meet with a Payne-ful end.

It is getting to a point where simple whitewash won't do. It will be necessary to use disinfectant.

Here's hoping the county commissioners made a mental note of the paths in the snow in courthouse square.

Practically ninety tons of nickels were spent for car fares in Duluth last year. Here's one for the mathematicians: If all those had gone for ice cream cones, how big a pyramid would the combined coolness have built?

A Pittsburg man sold a $4,000 automobile for $4. In the case of a fool like that it is safer for the public that he shouldn't have an auto, so maybe the sale was in accordance with the mysterious workings of Providence after all.

TALKS WITH THE STATE PRESS

Ring Around the Rose.
Litchfield Independent. The women's club in New Jersey has petitioned the legislature to enact a law requiring married men to wear rings on their thumbs so that innocent girls will not be deceived and will be able to distinguish them from the single men. Good, but not thoroughly effective. The wicked married men might continue to keep their thumbs out of sight. Why not have them wear the rings in the nose. Besides being more readily observed, the rings might serve a second good purpose as handles for their wives to lead them around by.

Not to make any reference to the nature of the beast, it is none the less a pleasure to suggest that possibly it might have a good effect to do just that.

An Abominable Punishment.
Stillwater Gazette. A chaplain in the Minnesota legislature, who has been reprimanded twice by the powers that be, and the second time he was sentenced to live in Minnesota, is now being sent to the government of this glorious nation should not be guilty of imposing such cruel and inhuman punishment.

Doesn't Lead Enchantment.
Fergus Falls Journal. In case the distance tariff is such a bad thing for Iowa and Minnesota, it is growing, as the opponents of the Cashman bill are saying, to be a bad thing for Iowa to repeal the law.

That's what she's trying to do. It's easier to get possession of a handkerchief than it is to get rid of one.

Boyle Belled Down.
Cambridge Star. Senator Boyle of Virginia is the youngest senator from that state, but he is not the youngest even now to be the leading one. He is a bright lawyer, is a good speaker, and is a good politician. He is a good man, and he is a good citizen. He is a good man, and he is a good citizen. He is a good man, and he is a good citizen.

Not Cutting In.
St. Cloud Journal. What do you think of a man who asks to see the bound files in a newspaper office? I acquired it, and I am looking for it at him all the time.

Refuse to Incriminate Ourselves.
Detroit Free Press. First Walter: That's his wife's got with him. Second Walter: What makes you think so?

First Walter: He picked up the quarter and left me the dime, and she was looking right at him all the time.

Kansas City Journal: "Were you born with that stammer?" First Walter: No, I acquired it, and I am looking for it at him all the time.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "Want to go to the theater tonight?" "I want to go to the theater tonight," said the wife promptly.

The wife will go to one of those moving picture shows where it's dark."

Yonkers Statesman: Bill: "The paper says an effort is being made in France to get a society for the protection of the big game of the world. Well, the big game is at right angles to a society for the protection of the umpires."

Youngstown Telegram: "How is the new waiter getting on?" "Very nicely. I didn't take him in any time at all to get his hand in."

Atlanta Constitution: "I never see the old man round now." "He's been laid up by the coal trust."

"Well, the old lady had to use his wooden leg for firewood."

Atlanta Constitution: "Don't worry about your wife's new dress." "I don't care for it, but I don't want to see her in it."

Toledo Blade: "Sir, I wish to marry your daughter Susan." "You do, hey?" "Yes, I do." "What do you want to get paid for it?" "What my salary is."

Argonaut: A woman clerk in a government office, who enjoys a well earned reputation for wit, the other day very much disconcerted a young attorney. She announced that she was shortly going on her vacation, and the attorney, who was a very young man, inquired the lady's destination.

"At Fishhook," was the reply.

"Where is that?" pursued the attorney.

"At the end of the line," was the smiling rejoinder.

M. A. P.: Squire's Daughter—By the way, do you sell your name with a large O in a restaurant, McXab?

Village: Oh, middling large, miss.

Argonaut: Two chorus ladies were at one of Victor Herbert's concerts on Monday night. One of them was a very young woman, and the other was a very old woman. ## FRENCH LOCATION HOUSE DESTROYED Spectacular Fire Arouses Hibbing Shortly Before Midnight Monday.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A spectacular fire that lighted up the western sky gave Hibbing something to talk about last night when a large two-story frame boarding house in the French location was destroyed.

The fire broke out shortly after 11 o'clock and the department immediately turned out. Its first handicap in the race was the heavy snow in which it was hard for the horses to find a footing, and harder still to plow their way with a heavy hose wagon behind them. It was seen before the department could get close that it would be impossible to extinguish the fire with the aid of the chemical fire engine, as the flames were leaping up ten feet above the roof. The premises are situated a long way from the hydrant and the men had to use pretty nearly all the hose the wagon carries to make the one connection from the far distant hydrant to the fire zone. Everything was burned, and the damage is estimated at something over $25,000. The amount of the insurance not being known, The department made a good fight against odds.

RESULTS OF FOOD.

Health and Natural Conditions Come From Right Feeding.

Man, physically, should be like a perfectly regulated machine, each part working easily in its appropriate place. A slight derangement causes undue friction and wear, and frequently ruins the entire system.

A well-known educator of Boston found a way to keep the brain and the body in that harmonious co-operation which makes a joy of living.

"Two years ago," she writes, "being in a condition of nervous exhaustion, I resigned my position as teacher, which I had held for over 10 years. Since then the entire rest has, of course, been a benefit, but the use of Grape-Nuts has removed one great cause of illness in the past, namely, constipation, and its attendant evils."

"I generally make my entire breakfast of Grape-Nuts, with a little hot milk or hot water added. I like it extremely, my food assimilates, and my bowels take care of themselves. I find my brain power and physical endurance much greater and I know that the use of the Grape-Nuts has contributed largely to this result."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in packs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

"CADET" CASE IN VIRGINIA

Range Authorities Claim to Have Genuine White Slave Case.

Ellis Walsh, chief of police at Virginia, has uncovered a real white slave case.

County Attorney John H. Norton has just returned from Virginia, where he investigated the case and drew up the complaint in the action. The hearing is being held here at Virginia.

At the Washington cafe, Virginia, is being held a woman known as Mrs. Mae Culbertson, who is claimed to be 20 years old. It is claimed that Culbertson solicited for the women and appropriated the money to his own use.

The most difficult part of white slave cases is to prove that the man was actually living from the money earned by the women and appropriated to the man.

The Virginia chief sent a man up to the rooms occupied by them and cautioned him to pay the money for the man. This he claims he did, and the authorities claim that they have one "cadet" just where they want him.

"God's Country" is the latest offering from the pen of William Mack, the well known stock actor, who has made hundreds of friends in this city, and all head of a salute who have been delighted with the feeling, the quaint humor and the richness of his "Wynona."

The new Mack play has been chosen for the opening production of the Black-Legion playhouse because it is considered the play calculated to show the best of Mack's acting. The story of players H. E. Pierce and company are bringing to this city.

Salt Lake City papers called the play an unequalled success, this too, despite the handicaps that invariably attend the first performance of a new play. One of the reviewers enthusiastically enough to call it "wonder drama." The introduction of the photograph, although it is a striking effect, as told in the Western review of the play.

A spectacular fight is another part of the play.

How to Treat the Feet.

Many men and women, and especially clerks, suffer with aching, swollen and sweaty feet. Others suffer from cold feet, or corns and callouses. This form of misery can be readily banished by the simple use of antiseptic and powder.

Obtain two ounces of Vaseline powder from any leading druggist and to a gallon of steaming water add a teaspoonful, also a tablespoonful of salt. Immerse the feet in this every night for a few weeks, ten to twenty minutes, and it will soothe, heal and remove all poisons and sores. Corns and callouses disappear and cold feet soon become unknown. Any one suffering with their feet should have this knowledge.
